FORD TO SHUT FOR FOUR DAYS; LACKS PARTS

'Forced' Vacation Starts Tomorrow

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 27 (AP)—The Ford Motor company announced today it will close again Saturday for four days because of a parts shortage. The company's plants were closed last Saturday for the same reason, making idle approximately 80,000 workers.

Assemblies at the Ford plants yesterday numbered 1,708 vehicles, including more than 900 Ford and 110 Mercury passenger cars.

To Present G. M. Stand

Meanwhile General Motors announced that a representative of the strikebound corporation would present a formal statement "regarding our position with respect to further proceedings" to President Truman's fact finding board when it reconvenes in Washington, D. C., tomorrow.

The striking CIO's United Auto Workers had announced earlier that it would send a delegation in an effort to find a solution to the strike that has kept 175,000 G. M. workers idle more than five weeks. President R. J. Thomas and Vice President Walter J. Reuther headed a union group which left today for Washington.

Recall Windsor Workers

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 27 (AP)—Approximately 900 production employes of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., were recalled to their jobs today to start plant machinery for the first time since Sept. 12, when a strike closed the factories.

The remainder of the 10,000 production men will be called back as soon as a supply of materials is available. About 1,000 workers returned to work yesterday.

Negotiation of the wage dispute, demands for a dues check-off agreement, and other issues will be undertaken by government officials.

Arrest Six Persons

Stamford, Conn., Dec. 27 (AP)—Six persons were arrested today at the strike-bound Yale and Towne plant after reinforced picket lines renewed attempts to block two main entrances.

Among those arrested, all of whom were charged with breach of the peace, was Richard L. Thurer, 39, of Jersey City, N. J., grand lodge representative of the AFL International Association of Machinists.

More than 3,000 workers have been idle since two locals of the IAM called a strike in demand for a closed shop and a 30 per cent wage increase.

G. E. Agrees to Meet

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—The General Electric company agreed today to meet Jan. 2 with federal labor conciliators to discuss the threatened strike in the electrical industry.

Edgar L. Warren, chief conciliator, told reporters he was informed of the company's decision in a telephone conversation with E. D. Spicer, G. E. vice president.

The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company previously agreed to meet with conciliators on the same date.

Victim Plays Dead as Killer Changes Suit

Lutcher, La., Dec. 27 [Special]—A "dead" man lay huddled in the blood stained back seat of an automobile near here early today and covertly watched as a killer changed clothing, tossed his pistol into the car, and strode away into the darkness.

Then the man in the back seat staggered out onto the highway, stopped a passing motorist, and told how he had saved his life by feigning death after having been shot in the back. Two companions were not so lucky. Their bullet riddled bodies lay sprawled in the car.

The survivor identified himself as Gordon W. Ray, 21, of Electra, Tex., a navy shipfitter 3d class. The two dead men were identified as Corp. Irvin A. Pincus, 32, of New Orleans, La., stationed at Camp Plauche, La., and Walter Smith, 21, a magazine salesman, address unknown.

Hitchhikes a Ride

Ray was rushed to the naval hospital in New Orleans, about 45 miles south of this agricultural hamlet, and was permitted to tell only fragments of a weird story before he was hurried into an operating room. His condition was described as critical.

Ray said he was hitchhiking to New Orleans yesterday and was picked up outside Alexandria by Pincus, who was driving the car. In the back seat, the sailor told New Orleans detectives, were Smith and a man who called himself only Blackie.

Blackie was wearing the uniform of a soldier, Ray added, but told the others he was a discharged marine. Ray did not say whether Blackie offered any explanation for the discrepancy.

Shoots Without Warning

Ray said the group made a casual stop at Black River, a little town about six miles north of Lutcher, and Blackie, without warning, whipped out a pistol. He shot Pincus as the latter stepped from the car, then leaped from the car himself, opened the front door, and shot Ray. Then he fired into the back seat, killing Smith.

Ray collapsed, he said, but did not lose consciousness and pretended to be dead.

Then, Ray continued, Blackie tossed his "body" into the rear seat with Smith's, pushed that of Pincus over on the front seat, started the car, and drove off.

Steals Clothes and Money

At Gramercy, seven miles south of Lutcher, Blackie stopped the car. While Ray watched, Blackie removed his uniform and donned civilian clothing which he took from a bag in the car. Blackie then took $18 from the sailor's pockets and an unknown sum from White's. He took nothing from the body of Pincus, altho Pincus had about $60.

Blackie then left the car and its gruesome cargo, flung his gun onto the front seat alongside Pincus, and walked away.

Ray was able to describe Blackie as "young, from 21 to 25 years old."

State troopers admitted finding only one clew, an automobile driver's license issued recently in Little Rock. They refused to disclose the name on the license but said, "We think we can identify the killer."

A widespread manhunt got under way today, with Louisiana officials requesting watchfulness in Texas and Mississippi.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER HIM BY

New York, Dec. 27 (AP)—Harry E. Arisohn, Los Angeles, Cal., taxi driver who drove six stranded marines from the west coast to their eastern homes, relaxed today after the five day trip by making plans for a return coast to coast jaunt with five service men as fares.

The marines, all Pacific veterans, hired Arisohn in Los Angeles Saturday to beat the west coast transportation jam. They paid him $40 each for the ride.

Going Back Saturday

Resting in his brother Al's Bronx home, Arisohn, 37, said he planned to leave New York City Saturday. His service men passengers will share expenses and driving as did the eastbound contingent.

The taxi driver said he made the trip east for two reasons:

To see his family for the first time in five years, and because he "had a heart" and heeded the pleading of the marines that he get them home.

Takes 84 Hours for Trip

The 3,200 mile trip took 84 hours, 72 of which were spent in driving. The only trouble encountered was an engine mishap in Tucson, Ariz., and a blizzard in Indiana.

Arriving in New York were Sgt. Sam Steinman and Sgt. Gordon W. Edwards of New York; Pvt. Ralph Minichino of Mount Vernon, N. Y., a distant relative of Arisohn who promoted the transcontinental taxi trip, and Staff Sgt. George Shepard of Woodstock, N. H.

Tech. Sgt. Joseph Ward got out in Pittsburgh while Tech. Sgt. George Upton headed for Niagara Falls.

Steinman stepped out of the 1941 sedan at Grand Central station—and promptly hopped into another taxi.

"I was so tired and I wanted to get home so quickly," he explained later, "I just hired another taxi."

Cook Finds a Roman Coin in a Turkey's Stomach

LONDON, Dec. 27 [Reuters]—A cook, stuffing his Christmas turkey in Taragona, once a flourishing Roman colony of Spain, found in the bird's stomach a small Roman copper coin, bearing the head of the emperor Augustus and the initials C I U V T, Madrid radio reported today.

CHICAGO LOSES OUT AS SITE FOR UNO'S PERMANENT HOME

BY E. R. NODEREER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Dec. 27—Chicago lost out tonight in the race to become home of the united nations organization when an interim committee decided to send a headquarters site inspection group to the United States to visit 10 states. Illinois was not one of them.

Previously the interim committee had decided to restrict its selection to states east of the Mississippi, but tonight's decision limited even more the possible site for the new league headquarters.

The committee agreed to visit only Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware.

Boston and Hyde Park are still highly favored by the delegates.

The inspection group, consisting of representatives of China, Iraq, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom, Uruguay, and Yugoslavia, will leave London Jan. 3 or 4 and will return by the end of January.

It will present its recommendations in the interim committee, which in turn will report to the general assembly whose opening meeting will be held Jan. 10.

Expenses for the junket to the United States will be borne by UNO.

"Before we go we'll notify the officials of each city that we want no ceremonies and no parties," the committee said.

BRIGHT LIGHTS OF N. Y. THRILL GI's BLIND PAL, 8

New York, Dec. 27 (AP)—The blind eyes of an 8 year old Italian boy, brought from Italy to America by men of the 88th division, responded tonight to the blazing brightness of New York City.

The little boy walked near Times Square, counting the number of the lights in soft Italian until the number grew so great he lost count. Altho he is blind, his eyes detect very intense lights.

Holding tightly to the hand of Pvt. Howard W. Gorgas, who escorted him to the United States for an operation to restore his vision, Giuliano Cabbia cried out:

"This must be America! It is very bright."

Men of the 88th division collected $3,500 to send Giuliano to Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, Md., for surgery and eye treatment. It was Gorgas who found the child lying in a ditch in Italy, blinded by a kick from a German's horse. Gorgas and the child will leave tomorrow for Baltimore.

Sailors Gripe on Slow Train Thru Indiana

Fort Wayne, Ind., Dec. 27 (AP)—An eastbound Pennsylvania railroad troop train carrying 573 navy veterans of the Pacific war was delayed here nearly two hours tonight when many of the seamen got off during a stop and refused to board it again until what they described as "bad" conditions were remedied.

Chief Petty Officer John Hunter, who said he was a navy combat correspondent and spokesman for the group, said none of the 11 coaches on the train had any water for sanitary or drinking purposes for more than 25 hours.

No Lights Charged

He said three of the coaches had no lights.

Local officials of the Pennsylvania railroad said the train was being serviced here because it needed service and not because of any protest. Water was put in and broken windows were repaired. Two wooden coaches were taken off the train.

Hunter said the 150 mile trip here from Chicago had taken 14 hours. He said the speed of the train had been limited to 40 miles an hour and it had been sidetracked for both passenger and frate trains.

Officer to Protest

The commander of the group, a lieutenant [j. g.], who declined to let his name be used, said he would file an official protest when he reached the east coast.

The lieutenant said 16 trains had passed his train on the run here from Chicago.

The sailors were veterans of the 3d and 5th fleets, who were bound for navy stations at Lido Beach, N. Y., and Bainbridge, Md.

A sign on one coach said:

"This coach brought my grandpappy back from the Civil war.

"It brought my dad back in 1918.

WELL, HERE 'TIS: MANVILLE AND 8TH BRIDE PART

Mamaroneck, N. Y., Dec. 27 [Special]—Well, here 'tis: Asbestos Heir Tommy Manville and eighth bride, the former Georgina Campbell, are pfft! already.

The couple, married at Larchmont by a justice of the peace Dec. 11, battled tonight, police were called and, at last reports, the two were occupying separate quarters in his seven room over-the-garage apartment on his big estate, Bon Repos, and vowing to see their lawyers in the morning. The rift's cause wasn't made public.

Eccentric Tommy is 51 and his British born newspaper woman bride is 27. She said in the marriage license application it was her first marriage.

Bomb Attacks in Palestine Kill 9, Hurt 11

JERUSALEM, Palestine, Dec. 27 (AP)—Nine persons were killed tonight in simultaneous Jewish attacks on police headquarters buildings in Jerusalem and in the Jaffa-Tel-Aviv area, 32 miles away.

A bulletin said one British assistant police superintendent and two British constables and four Basutoland [South African] military policemen were killed in Jerusalem, where a three block area in the heart of the city was damaged and the central police building was partially destroyed by heavy explosives.

During the attack against the district police headquarters in Tel Aviv an Arab telephone operator was killed, the bulletin said, and later in an attempted raid at the royal engineers arms store at the exhibition grounds north of Tel-Aviv one British soldier was killed.

Eleven Are Injured

The announcement added that in addition to the seven killed in Jerusalem, the superintendent of police and six Basutoland soldiers were seriously injured and four constables were wounded, placing the latest estimate of wounded in that city at 11.

Eyewitnesses in Jerusalem were reported to have said they saw six young men with haversacks dash across the street toward the central police building. Some of them were said to have been firing revolvers at policemen guarding the gates of the police building, while the rest placed explosives which turned the place into a shambles.

Earlier reports said the explosions were believed to have been caused by bombs thrown from an automobile.

The heaviest blast was in the police building, housing the criminal investigation department headquarters, which borders on Jaffa road, the main thorofare in the modern part of the city.

Dig in Wreckage for Bodies

Police, hospital, and military authorities removed bodies from the police building wreckage and squads of men still were digging thru high piles of debris around the headquarters. One entire side, several floors high, was blown completely out of the building. Windows of shops in a three block area were shattered.

Inspector General Rymer Jones and his deputy, two of the highest ranking police officers, narrowly escaped death from the explosions.

Police were dispersed thruout the area to enforce security measures, and tonight the military commander of the Jerusalem district ordered strict enforcement of an 11 p. m. curfew.

CATCHES BIBLE TEACHER WITH MATE; KILLS HER

San Bernardino, Cal., Dec. 27 [Special]—Mrs. Gwendolyn Wallis, 31, shot and killed Mrs. Ruby Clark, 24, a Bible teacher, early today to avenge the lost love of Don Wallis, 33, it was reported tonight by Sheriff Emmett Shay.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Wallis

Wallis and Mrs. Clark were seated in a parked automobile just outside the city, said the sheriff, when Mrs. Wallis drove up in a borrowed car, hopped out, leveled a pistol at Mrs. Clark, and fired twice. Both bullets hit Mrs. Clark's body, but one emerged, crashed against Wallis' belt buckle, and fell into his watch pocket.

Sheriff Shay said Mrs. Wallis blamed her victim for causing Wallis to leave her and Donald, 11, and Judy, 7. Wallis is a guard at an army quartermaster depot, where Mrs. Clark formerly worked. Her husband, Harold, is a former army sergeant.

SHAW CALLS FOR NEW ALPHABET AS TIME SAVER

LONDON, Dec. 27 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw appealed today to the British government to appoint a committee to draft a new English alphabet "with which every sound in our speech can be written with one graphic and easily written symbol without even crosses or dots."

Shaw, who has campaigned before for simplification of the alphabet, said in a letter to the Times that adoption of his proposals would soon pay the cost of the war in time saved.

Using the word "bomb," as an example, Shaw said the final "b" was "entirely senseless."

REDS GET VETO IN JAPAN; LEAGUE TO RULE ATOM

LAST EVIL ROOTS OF JAPAN WIPED OUT: M'ARTHUR

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

TOKYO, Dec. 27—Gen. MacArthur in a statement to the public tonight declared that the last evil roots of the Japanese imperial system now have been eliminated and that the abuses which led Japan to war may be expected to pass out of existence.

Outlining the steps taken since the occupation of Japan, Gen. MacArthur asserted that the mass of the Japanese people favor his occupation measures "and now want to get along in the new life."

The statement began with a somewhat confusing reference to the "Tenno" system or rule of the divine emperor.

"The last evil roots of the Tenno system were pulled out and destroyed with the abolition of state Shinto," the statement said, referring to Gen. MacArthur's recent directive separating the church and state in Japan. "With their removal the system will be destroyed and wiped out of existence."

Doesn't Affect Hirohito

Headquarters officers insisted tonight that reference to the emperor system was not intended to cast reflection on the position of Emperor Hirohito.

"The major portion of the Japanese people were always engaged in a struggle to support the overlords now in jail," the statement said. "All of the foregoing controls, now removed or destroyed, when exercised thru feudal bureaus combined to constitute the tenno system. With their removal the system will be distroyed and wiped out of existence. The project now before the Japanese therefore is to found a government on horizontal planes in place of the vertical lines previously known. It is a major operation which must be guided and closely supervised."

The statement attacked those in the United States who have stated that the occupation measures were "too soft."

Plan Avoids Confusion

Gen. MacArthur said that "to have tossed all the required changes which were so revolutionary into the lap of the government at the same time would have caused such utter confusion and chaos that benefits never could have been achieved. It was during this formulative period that the outsiders thought the peace was being made soft for the Japanese."

The statement summarized developments in Japanese life which have been brought about by Gen. MacArthur's directives such as elimination of the armed forces; "destroying the whip hand of the empire's police forces"; freedom of speech, religion, press, and assembly; establishment of "free enterprise" and collective bargaining.

Seek to Delay Election

TOKYO, Dec. 27 (AP)—Japan's Communist party proposed today that the new general election scheduled tentatively for mid-January be postponed for at least a month to allow time for formation of a "truly democratic opposition" to the old line parties.

While the exact date of the election has not been decided, pending approval by allied headquarters of the new election law, many Japanese have said privately that mid-January was too soon.

Can't Get Rich by Being Honest, Ickes Opines

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 [Special]—Interior Secretary Ickes, lone survivor of the original New Deal cabinet, today volunteered the advice that "you'll never get rich being completely honest." Ickes, sometimes known as "Honest Harold," offered his opinion at a news conference when he suggested organizing and participating in a $1 pool among reporters to guess the date he will give up his job, and they asked if he considered it honest for him to take part in the pool.

Bomb Outlawed by Agreement of 3 Foreign Chiefs

DECISIONS REVEALED

The text of the agreement reached by the foreign ministers of the United States, Russia, and Great Britain at the Moscow conference appears on page 2.]

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 — The United States surrenders its exclusive control of the occupation and government of Japan under the far reaching agreements reached by the American, British and Russian foreign ministers in their 10 day Moscow meeting just concluded.

This was disclosed when the 4,000 word text of the agreements on peace treaties for Europe, joint allied supervision of Japan, control of the atomic bomb and other matters was made public concurrently tonight in Washington, London and Moscow.

Compromise by Byrnes

Compromise, which is the special talent of State Secretary Byrnes, is written large on the terms of the agreement. Byrnes receded from President Truman's proposal of a purely advisory commission for Japan which would leave Gen. MacArthur with unimpaired supreme authority. Russian Foreign Commissar Molotov accepted the Truman-Attlee plan for control of atomic energy by a commission of the united nations organization. Both Russia and the western powers made concessions on peace procedure in Europe.

The principal provisions of the agreements are:

1. A far eastern commission to chart policies and an allied council to supervise control are established for Japan with procedural arrangements whereby Russia, Britain, or China can veto orders issued by the United States or by Gen. MacArthur.

Atom Energy Control

2. Atomic energy is to be controled and the atomic bomb outlawed as a weapon of war thru the operation of a commission consisting of the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France, China, Canada and five or six small nations under the supervision of the security council of the united nations organization.

3. Peace treaties with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland are to be drawn up and submitted for advice to a peace conference not later than May 1 next of the principal nations at war with the European members of the axis.

4. The three governments declare for a unified, democratic government of China and renounce intervention therein while the United States and Russia undertake to withdraw their troops from Chinese territory at the earliest possible moment.

Provisional Korean Rule

5. A joint Russian-American commission is set up to establish a provisional government of Korea under a five year trusteeship of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, and China.

6. The Romanian government, now dominated by Moscow, is to be reorganized by the addition of representatives of two parties not now represented and is to hold free elections and give assurances of free speech, press, religion, and association, after which it will be recognized by Britain and America.

7. A similar procedure is prescribed for Bulgaria, without mention, however, of the free elections and other freedoms, after which it will be recognized by Britain and America.

Silent on Iran

The agreement is silent on Iran, in which Russian imperialism has instigated rebellion of the province bordering the soviet union. It is silent also on the Russian demands for annexation of slices of Turkey. Both movies threaten British power in the near east.

The provision covering the future control of Japan is a complicated application of the veto device obtaining in the security council of the united nations organization. Under the Moscow agreement Russia, Great Britain, or China can veto future policies the United States may desire to initiate while the United States can veto the invocation of policies of which it disapproves or changes in policies already inaugurated under the MacArthur regime.

While administration officials contended "MacArthur hasn't been touched," the opinion in the diplomatic corps was that Russia can now "exercise considerable influence in the government of Japan thru use of the veto power." In one foreign official quarter the agreement was described as giving Russia an "equal voice" in control of Japan.

"To Satisfy Russia"

The same view cropped out in the reaction on Capitol hill. Rep. Jarman [D., Ala], member of the house foreign affairs committee, said he supposed "the agreement on Japan was made at least in part to satisfy Russia" and hoped "circumstances will permit fully informing the country of any reciprocal agreements Russia may have made."

Sen. Johnson [D., Colo.] said the Japanese control agreement "is all right if they don't veto MacArthur —he's been doing a good job."

Sen. Wherry [R., Neb.] expressed fear the agreement will weaken MacArthur's authority and make his mission more difficult.

"I don't see," said Wherry, "why we should give Russia a veto power over his authority. We won the Japanese war and there is no reason why we should make concessions to any one. MacArthur's hands should be left free of any council or commission control and particularly any veto power. He should be given a free hand to establish democracy in Japan."

A Marked Departure

The arrangement devised in Moscow represents a marked departure from the Truman directive of Aug. 29 last in which it was stated that any commission created in connection with the occupation of Japan would be of a purely advisory character and that "in the event of differences of opinion among the allied powers the policies of the United States will govern."

At the recent London conference, Molotov demanded that the supreme authority in Japan be committed to a control council. Byrnes countered with a proposal of an advisory commission which he proceeded to organize but which Russia refused to join. Byrnes at Moscow made concessions satisfactory to the Russians and the Russians consented to join.

The far eastern commission is to be composed of Russia, Britain, the United States, France, China, the Netherlands, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, and the Philippines. It is to "formulate the policies, principles, and standards in conformity with which the fulfillment by Japan of its obligations under the terms of surrender may be accomplished."

Still in Command

The provisions leave intact Gen. MacArthur's military authority but subject his political authority to the veto power in the future. Thus it is provided that the commission shall make no recommendations concerning the conduct of military operations or territorial adjustments. The commission is directed to "respect existing control machinery in Japan, including the chain of command from the United States government to the supreme commander's command of occupation forces."

But in the political realm the commission is empowered to review any directive to the supreme commander or any action taken by him involving policy decisions. The United States is to direct Gen. MacArthur, as the supreme allied commander, to carry out the policy decisions of the commission. The United States may issue interim directives to the supreme commander pending action by the commission in urgent cases not covered by previous commission decisions but is forbidden to direct any fundamental changes in the Japanese constitutional structure or in the regime of control or any change in the Japanese government as a whole without the consent of the commission.

Four Hold Veto Power

Decisions by the commission are to be made by the affirmative vote of the United States, Britain, Russia, and China, plus at least two to the other seven members. Thus any proposed action can be vetoed by any one of the four chief powers.

The allied council for Japan is to consist of Britain, America, Russia, and China and is to consult with and advise the supreme commander on the implementation of the terms of surrender, the occupation and control of Japan. It is also to exercise "the control authority herein granted."

The supreme commander is to be chairman of the council and is to issue all orders in its province. He is to advise and consult with the council "in advance of the issuance of orders on matters of substance, the exigencies of the situation permitting," and his decisions on these matters "shall be controling."

But if any member of the council disagrees with the supreme commander on the implementation of commission decisions concerning a change in the regime of control, fundamental changes in the Japanese constitutional structure or a change in the Japanese government as a whole the supreme commander is to hold up the order pending a commission agreement thereon.

Russia or any other of the quadrumvirate in the commission by exercising its veto power could block action indefinitely.

Truman Says He Plans to Comment on Parley

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 27 (AP)—Withholding comment on the results of the Moscow conference of State Secretary Byrnes with the foreign ministers of Great Britain and Russia, President Truman at an informal conference here said he would have something to say on the conference when he returns to Washington, D. C. The chief executive added that he and Byrnes were in complete accord.

Report Storm Damages Ship; Explosives Aboard

PONTA DELGADA, Azores, Dec. 27 (AP)—The American troopship James M. Wayne, carrying a load of explosives, has been seriously damaged by Atlantic storms, it was reported today. She was expected to put in at this principal Azores port, but has not yet arrived.

Text of 3-Nation Announcement Issued at Close of the Moscow Conference

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—The text of the announcement issued at the close of the Moscow conference of the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, and Russia:

"The foreign ministers of the U. S. S. R., the United Kingdom, and the United States of America met in Moscow from Dec. 16 to Dec. 26, 1945, in accordance with the decision of the Crimea conference, confirmed at the Berlin conference, that there should be periodic consultation among them. At the meeting of the three foreign ministers, discussions took place on an informal and exploratory basis and agreement was reached on the following questions:

"Report of the meeting of the ministers of foreign affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the United States of America, the United Kingdom.

"At the meeting, which took place in Moscow from Dec. 16 to Dec. 26, 1945, of the ministers of foreign affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the United States of America and the United Kingdom, agreement was reached on the following questions:

"I. Preparation of peace treaties with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland.

"As announced on the 24th of December, 1945, the governments of the soviet union, the United Kingdom, and the United States of America have agreed and have requested the adherence of the governments of France and China to the following procedure with respect to the preparation of peace treaties.

Peace Treaties Cited

"1. In the drawing up by the council of foreign ministers of treaties of peace with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland, only members of the council who are, or under the terms of the agreement establishing the council of foreign ministers adopted at the Berlin conference are deemed to be signatory of the surrender terms, will participate, unless and until the council takes further action under the agreement to invite other members of the council to participate on questions directly concerning them.

"That is to say:

"[A] The terms of the peace treaty with Italy will be drafted by the foreign ministers of the United Kingdom, the United States of America, the Soviet union, and France;

"[B] The terms of the peace treaties with Romania, Bulgaria, and Hungary by the foreign ministers of the soviet union, the United States of America and the United Kingdom;

"[C] The terms of the peace treaty with Finland by the foreign ministers of the soviet union and the United Kingdom.

MEET IN LONDON

Council of Foreign Chiefs to Invoke Conference

"The deputies of the foreign ministers will immediately resume their work in London on the basis of understandings reached on the questions discussed at the first plenary session of the council of foreign ministers in London.

"2. When the preparation of all these drafts has been completed the council of foreign ministers will convoke a conference for the purpose of considering treaties of peace with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland. The conference will consist of the five members of the council of foreign ministers, together with all members of the united nations which actively waged war with substantial military force against European enemy states, namely:

"U. S. S. R., United Kingdom, United States of America, China, France, Australia, Belgium, White Russian S. S. R., Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, Ethiopia, Greece, India, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Union of South Africa, Yugoslavia, and Ukrainian S. S. R. The conference will be held not later than May 1, 1946.

Draw Up Final Texts

"3. After the conclusion of the deliberations of the conference and upon consideration of its recommendations the states signatory to the terms of armistice with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary, and Finland—France being regarded as such for the purposes of the peace treaty with Italy—will draw up final texts of peace treaties.

"4. The final texts of the respective peace treaties as so drawn up will be signed by representatives of the states represented at the conference which are at war with the enemy states in question. The texts of the respective peace treaties will then be submitted to the other united nations which are at war with the enemy states in question.

"5. The peace treaties will come into force immediately after they have been ratified by the allied states signatory to the respective armistices, France being regarded as such in the case of the peace treaty with Italy. These treaties are subject to ratification by the enemy states in question.

ALLIED RULE FOR JAPAN

Agree to Establish Far East Commission

"PART II.

"Far eastern commission and allied council for Japan.

"A. Far eastern commission—Agreement was reached, with the concurrence of China, for the establishment of a far eastern commission to take the place of the far eastern advisory commission. The terms of reference for the far eastern commission are as follows:

"1. Establishment of the commission—A far eastern commission is hereby established, composed of the representatives of the U. S. S. R., United Kingdom, United States of America, China, France, the Netherlands, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, India, and the Philippine commonwealth.

Functions Outlined

II. FUNCTIONS

"a. The functions of the far eastern commission shall be:

"1. To formulate the policies, principles, and standards in conformity with which the fulfillment by Japan of its obligations under the terms of surrender may be accomplished.

"2. To review, on the request of any member, any directive issued to the supreme commander for the allied powers or any action taken by the supreme commander involving policy decisions within the jurisdiction of the commission.

"3. To consider such other matters as may be assigned to it by agreement among the participating governments reached in accordance with the voting procedure provided for in article V., section 2 hereunder.

"b. The commission shall not make recommendations with regard to the conduct of military operations nor with regard to territorial adjustments.

"c. The commission in its activities will proceed from the fact that there has been formed an allied council for Japan and will respect existing control machinery in Japan, including the chain of command from the United States government to the supreme commander's command of occupation forces.

OUTLINES U. S. DUTIES

Commission Is Empowered to Make Policy

III. FUNCTIONS OF THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

"1. The United States government shall prepare directives in accordance with policy decisions of the commission and shall transmit them to the supreme commander thru the appropriate United States government agency. The supreme commander shall be charged with the implementation of the directives which express the policy decisions of the commission.

"2. If the commission decides that any directive or action reviewed in accordance with article II.a-2 should be modified, its decision shall be regarded as a policy decision.

"3. The United States government may issue interim directives to the supreme commander pending action by the commission whenever urgent matters arise not covered by policies already formulated by the commission; provided that any directive dealing with fundamental changes in the Japanese constitutional structure or in the regime of control, or dealing with a change in the Japanese government as a whole will be issued only following consultation and following the attainment of agreement in the far eastern commission.

Can Boost Membership

"IV. OTHER METHODS OF CONSULTATION.

"The establishment of the commission shall not preclude the use of other methods of consultation on far eastern issues by the participating governments.

"V. COMPOSITION.

"1. The far eastern commission shall consist of one representative of each of the states party to this agreement. The membership of the commission may be increased by agreement among the participating powers as conditions warrant by the addition of representatives of other united nations in the far east or having territories therein. The commission shall provide for full and adequate consultations, as occasion may require, with representatives of the united nations not members of the commission in regard to matters before the commission which are of particular concern to such nations.

"2. The commission may take action by less than unanimous vote provided that action shall have the concurrence of at least a majority of all the representatives including the representatives of the four following powers: United States, United Kingdom, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, and China.

OFFICES IN WASHINGTON

Commission Can Meet in Tokyo If Necessary

"VI. LOCATION AND ORGANIZATION.

"1. The far eastern commission shall have its headquarters in Washington. It may meet at other places as occasion requires, including Tokyo, if and when it deems it desirable to do so. It may make such arrangements thru the chairman as may be practicable for consultation with the supreme commander for the allied powers.

"2. Each representative on the commission may be accompanied by an appropriate staff comprising both civilian and military representation.

"3. The commission shall organize its secretariat, appoint such committees as may be deemed advisable, and otherwise perfect its organization and procedure.

"VII. TERMINATION

"The far eastern commission shall cease to function when a decision to that effect is taken by the concurrence of at least a majority of all the representatives including the representatives of the four following powers: United States, United Kingdom, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, and China. Prior to the termination of its functions the commission shall transfer to any interim or permanent security organization of which the participating governments are members those functions which may appropriately be transferred.

"It was agreed that the government of the United States on behalf of the four powers should present the terms of reference to the other governments specified in article I. and invite them to participate in the commission on the revised basis.

TOKYO COUNCIL SEAT

Supreme Commander Will Serve as Chairman

"B. Allied council for Japan.

"The following agreement was also reached, with the concurrence of China, for the establishment of an allied council for Japan:

"1. There shall be established an allied council with its seat in Tokyo under the chairmanship of the supreme commander for the allied powers [or his deputy] for the purpose of consulting with and advising the supreme commander in regard to the implementation of the terms of surrender, the occupation and control of Japan, and of directives supplementary thereto; and for the purpose of exercising the control authority herein granted.

"2. The membership of the allied council shall consist of the supreme commander [or his deputy] who shall be chairman and United States member; a Union of Soviet Socialist Republics member; a Chinese member, and a member representing jointly the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, and India.

"3. Each member shall be entitled to have an appropriate staff consisting of military and civilian advisers.

"4. The allied council shall meet not less often than once every two weeks.

"5. The supreme commander shall issue all orders for the implementation of the terms of surrender, the occupation and control of Japan, and directives supplementary thereto. In all cases action will be carried out under and thru the supreme commander who is the sole executive authority for the allied powers in Japan. He will consult and advise with the council in advance of the issuance of orders on matters of substance, the exigencies of the situation permitting. His decisions upon these matters shall be controling.

"6. If, regarding the implementation of policy decisions of the far eastern commission on questions concerning a change in the regime of control, fundamental changes in the Japanese constitutional structure, and a change in the Japanese government as a whole, a member of the council disagrees with the supreme commander [or his deputy], the supreme commander will withhold the issuance of orders on these questions pending agreement thereon in the far eastern commission.

Can Shift Ministers

"7. In cases of necessity the supreme commander may make decisions concerning the change of individual ministers of the Japanese government, or concerning the filling of vacancies created by the resignation of individual cabinet members, after appropriate preliminary consultation with the representatives of the other allied powers on the allied council.

DEMOCRACY FOR KOREA

Provisional Government Shall Be Established

"III. KOREA

"1. With a view to the reëstablishment of Korea as an independent state, the creation of conditions for developing the country on democratic principles and the earliest possible liquidation of the disastrous results of the protracted Japanese domination in Korea, there shall be set up a provisional Korean democratic government which shall take all the necessary steps for developing the industry, transport, and agriculture of Korea and the national culture of the Korean people.

"2. In order to assist the formation of a provisional Korean government and with a view to the preliminary elaboration of the appropriate measures, there shall be established a joint commission consisting of representatives of the United States command in southern Korea and the soviet command in northern Korea. In preparing their proposals the commission shall consult with the Korean democratic parties and social organizations. The recommendations worked out by the commission shall be presented for the consideration of the governments of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, China, the United Kingdom, and the United States prior to final decision by the two governments represented on the joint commission.

Seek Korea's Independence

"3. It shall be the task of the joint commission, with the participation of the provisional Korean democratic government and of the Korea democratic organizations to work out measures also for helping and assisting [trusteeship] the political, economic, and social progress of the Korean people, the development of democratic self-government and the establishment of the national independence of Korea.

"The proposals of the joint commission shall be submitted, following consultation with the provisional Korean government for the joint consideration of the governments of the United States, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, United Kingdom, and China for the working out of an agreement concerning a four power trusteeship of Korea for a period of up to five years.

"4. For the consideration of urgent problems affecting both southern and northern Korea and for the elaboration of measures establishing permanent coördination in administrative-economic matters between the United States command in southern Korea and the soviet command in northern Korea, a conference of the representatives of the United States and soviet commands in Korea shall be convened within a period of two weeks.

UNIFIED CHINA URGED

Agree End of Civil Strife Is Necessary

"IV. CHINA

"The three foreign secretaries exchanged views with regard to the situation in China. They were in agreement as to the need for a unified and democratic China under the national government, for broad participation by democratic elements in all branches of the national government, and for a cessation of civil strife. They reaffirmed their adherence to the policy of non-interference in the internal affairs of China.

"Mr. Molotov and Mr. Byrnes had several conversations concerning soviet and American armed forces in China.

"Mr. Molotov stated that the soviet forces had disarmed and deported Japanese troops in Manchuria but that withdrawal of soviet forces had been postponed until Feb. 1st at the request of the Chinese government.

Plan to Remove Troops

"Mr. Byrnes pointed out that American forces were in North China at the request of the Chinese government, and referred also to the primary responsibility of the United States in the implementation of the terms of surrender with respect to the disarming and deportation of Japanese troops. He stated that American forces would be withdrawn just as soon as this responsibility was discharged or the Chinese government was in a position to discharge the responsibility without the assistance of American forces.

"The two foreign secretaries were in complete accord as to the desirability of withdrawal of soviet and American forces from China at the earliest practicable moment consistent with the discharge of their obligations and responsibilities.

KING TO BE ADVISED

Members of Two Parties to Join Government

"V. ROMANIA

"The three governments are prepared to give King Michael the advice for which he has asked in his letter of Aug. 21, 1945, on the broadening of the Romanian government. The king should be advised that one member of the National Peasant party and one member of the Liberal party should be included in the government. The commission referred to below shall satisfy itself that:

"[A] They are truly representative members of the groups of the parties not represented in the government.

"[B] They are suitable and will work loyally with the government.

"The three governments take note that the Romanian government thus reorganized should declare that free and unfettered elections will be held as soon as possible on the basis of universal and secret ballot. All democratic and anti-Fascist parties should have the right to take part in these elections and to put forward candidates. The reorganized government should give assurances concerning the grant of freedom of the press, speech, religion, and association.

Will Visit Bucharest

"A. Y. Vyshinski, Ambassador Averell Harriman, and Sir A. Clark Kerr are authorized as a commission to proceed to Bucharest immediately to consult with King Michael and members of the present government with a view to the execution of the above mentioned tasks.

"As soon as these tasks are accomplished and the required assurances have been received the government of Romania, with which the soviet government maintains diplomatic relations, will be recognized by the government of the United States of America and the government of the United Kingdom.

REDS ADVISE BULGARS

Allies Call for Inclusion of Fatherland Front

"VI.—BULGARIA

"It is understood by the three governments that the soviet government takes upon itself the mission of giving friendly advice to the Bulgarian government with regard to the desirability of the inclusion in the Bulgarian government of the Fatherland Front, now being formed, of an additional two representatives of other democratic groups. Who [A] are truly representative of the groups of the parties which are not participating in the government, and [B] are really suitable and will work loyally with the government.

"As soon as the governments of the United States of America and the United Kingdom are convinced that this friendly advice has been accepted by the Bulgarian government and the said additional representatives have been included in its body, the government of the United States and the government of the United Kingdom will recognize the Bulgarian government, with which the government of the soviet union already has diplomatic relations.

ATOMIC ENERGY CONTROL

Commission Will Consider Problem of Discovery

"VII. THE ESTABLISHMENT BY THE UNITED NATIONS OF A COMMISSION FOR THE CONTROL OF ATOMIC ENERGY.

"The ministers of foreign affairs of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the United States of America, and the United Kingdom have agreed to recommend, for the consideration of the general assembly of the united nations, the establishment by the united nations of a commission to consider problems arising from the discovery of atomic energy and related matters. They have agreed to invite the other permanent members of the security council, France and China, together with Canada to join with them in assuming the initiative in sponsoring the following resolution at the first session of the general assembly of the united nations in January, 1946:

"Resolved by the general assembly of the united nations to establish a commission, with the composition and competence set out hereunder, to deal with the problems raised by the discovery of atomic energy and other related matters.

Commission to Be Set Up

"I. Establishment of the commission.

A commission is hereby established by the general assembly with the terms of reference set out under section V. below.

"II. RELATIONS OF THE COMMISSION WITH THE ORGANS OF THE UNITED NATIONS.

"[A] The commission shall submit its reports and recommendations to the security council, and such reports and recommendations shall be made public unless the security council, in the interests of peace and security, otherwise directs. In the appropriate cases the security council should transmit these reports to the general assembly and the members of the united nations, as well as to the economic and social council and other organs within the framework of the united nations.

Council to Direct

"[B] In view of the security council's primary responsibility under the charter of the united nations for the maintenance of international peace and security, the security council shall issue directions to the commission in matters affecting security. On these matters the commission shall be accountable for its work to the security council.

"III. COMPOSITION OF THE COMMISSION.

"The commission shall be composed of one representative from each of those states represented on the security council, and Canada, when that state is not a member of the security council. Each representative on the commission may have such assistants as he may desire.

"IV. RULES OF PROCEDURE.

"The commission shall have whatever staff it may deem necessary, and shall make recommendations for its rules of procedure to the security council, which shall approve them as a procedural matter.

FOR PEACEFUL PURPOSES

Commission to Inquire Into All of Phases

"V. TERMS OF REFERENCE OF THE COMMISSION.

"The commission shall proceed with the utmost dispatch and inquire into all phases of the problem, and make such recommendations from time to time with respect to them as it finds possible. In particular the commission shall make specific proposals:

"[A] For extending between all nations the exchange of basic scientific information for peaceful ends;

"[B] For control of atomic energy to the extent necessary to insure its use only for peaceful purposes;

"[C] For the elimination from national armaments of atomic weapons and of all other major weapons adaptable to mass destruction;

"[D] For effective safeguards by way of inspection and other means to protect complying states against the hazards of violations and evasions.

Separate Stages Planned

"The work of the commission should proceed by separate stages, the successful completion of each of which will develop the necessary confidence of the world before the next stage is undertaken.

"The commission shall not infringe upon the responsibilities of any organ of the united nations, but should present recommendations for the consideration of those organs in the performance of their tasks under the terms of the united nations charter."

MOSCOW VICTOR IN THREE NATION TALKS—LONDON

Agrees to Bar Bomb It Didn't Have

BY E. R. NODERER
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, Dec. 28 [Friday]—London observers today viewed results of the foreign ministers' talks in Moscow as a diplomatic victory for the soviet union. Agreement on a commission to prohibit use of the atomic bomb in future wars amounted to Russian consent to ban something the Kremlin didn't have in the first place, it was held.

At the same time, it was pointed out there were many problems of immediate importance to Europe which, if discussed at Moscow, were not solved, particularly the question of the Russian inspired revolution in northern Iran and the Russian demand for bases in the Dardanelles.

Unyielding on Frontiers

British Foreign Secretary Bevin's admission that no agreement was reached on the Iranian crisis led some observers to think the Russians were unyielding on problems which concerned their immediate frontiers.

Informed quarters said the Iranian revolt is spreading southward. Soviet Foreign Commissar Molotov objected, however, to the subject figuring formally on the conference agenda. He argued that the question of troop withdrawals was already covered by previous agreements among the three nations [Russia, Britain, and the United States] and the Iranian government and that any other matters were of concern only to Moscow and Tehran, it was disclosed.

The conference promise of eventual withdrawal of American troops from China also was viewed here as a Russian gain. The Reds agreed to withdrawal also, but their troops simply will pull back across the border into Siberia whereas the Americans must return all the way across the Pacific.

The Russians won a long contested demand for a share in the control of Japan. Altho they conceded a measure of American responsibility in the future administration of Japan, it was not clear here today what this means or how far the Americans are prepared to yield in event of a showdown.

Win in Balkans

It appeared to observers here that Moscow is still in the ascendancy inasmuch as Britain and the United States have agreed to recognize the Romanian and Bulgarian governments as soon as minor modifications in their makeup have been achieved.

It also was emphasized that Russia gained substance to demands voiced at the foreign ministers' conference in London. Those talks ended in failure last October thru the exclusion of France and China from discussions relating to the drafting of peace treaties with Germany's satellites.

Altho Foreign Commissar Molotov and Generalissimo Stalin got nearly all the plums, some diplomatic sources here hailed the present conference results as highly successful from the British and American viewpoints. Even the fact that Russia agreed to a peace conference next May was being built up as a concession on the part of Moscow, tho it was pointed out that Russia obviously would be in favor of discussing peace treaties sooner or later.

60 EX-PRISONERS OF JAPAN FORM POST OF V. F. W.

Sixty Chicago veterans of Corregidor, Bataan, and Wake Island last night organized an all-prisoners' post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States at a meeting in the Morrison hotel. The post is the first formed exclusively of liberated inmates of Japanese prison camps in any veterans' organization.

Former Maj. George B. Moore, 5807 Cornelia av., a veteran of the Philippine Scouts, was elected commander after the 60 signed an application for a V. F. W. charter. They were organized by Earl Southard, past department commander.

Former Lt. Comdr. Fred Berley, a navy medical corps officer, of 4153 Congress st., was chosen senior vice commander, and former Sgt. Chester J. Perry, 5354 S. Fairfield av., was elected junior vice commander. As a prisoner, Comdr. Berley was assigned to the Bilibid prison hospital staff. Perry was a member of the 200th coast artillery.

The Bataan War Prisoner Relief organization, of which Mrs. Lucy Palermo is president, will be an auxiliary of the new post. The prisoners' post will hold its institutional meeting at 8 p. m. Thursday in the city council chambers. The public is invited.

AUDIENCE OF 500 CALM AS STAGE CURTAIN BURNS

More than 500 spectators maintained calm last night when a curtain caught fire in the third floor auditorium of St. Mel's grammar school at 4319 Washington blvd. during the final act of the play "Cyrano de Bergerac."

The fire apparently was caused by heat or short circuit from a spotlight, but, because the curtain was fireproofed, it did not break out into flame. Instead, the fire smoldered upward and sent out dense smoke.

The school band promptly played "Atchison, Topeka, and Santa Fe," and several juvenile actors behind the scenes sprayed the curtain with chemical extinguisher fluid. Meantime, most of the patrons filed quietly and in orderly manner to the exits. Others remained seated. There were no cries or alarms. The play was not completed.

Firemen under Chief Helmer Strandberg of the 23d battalion responded and completed the extinguishing of the fire. Chief Strandberg praised the players and audience for their prompt and calm reaction. Damage was estimated at $50.

Railway congestion became even more complicated when six additional passengers were listed on the troop train passing thru Chicago yesterday en route from Vancouver Barracks, Wash., to Camp Shelby, Miss. The extra passengers were puppies born in Minnesota to Pat, cocker spaniel purchased by Corp. Rufus Ready, 21, of Prichard, Ala., in Brisbane, Australia, for $85. No soldiers were "bumped" to make room for the new passengers.

Denver, Col., Dec. 27 [Special]—While hundreds of thousands of persons have passed thru the Denver Union station in the last 2½ years, one patient train-meeter has held steadfast and now is accepted as a permanent guest.

It was back in 1943 that a dog, part Great Dane and part brindle bull, attracted the attention of station employes. The dog was waiting, day by day, for some one who never came. Finally it became apparent that its master or mistress was not going to return soon.

So the station employes adopted the dog, gave her a name, Queenie, and joined her in anticipation of the day when Queenie may have a reunion with her master.

Jiggs, a brown and white beagle, yesterday was convalescing in a darkened room in the home of Kenton McDonald, an artist, at 744 Diversey pkwy., from lacerations about his left eye suffered when he was hit by an automobile Wednesday night in front of McDonald's home. McDonald and his brother, Donald, took the injured dog to a nearby animal hospital, where Jiggs—a tentative name—was patched up, and the dark room treatment prescribed for his eye. McDonald's own dog, Droopy, displayed no resentment when the patient came into the home.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Israel Haskvitz today said she was accepting a Washington, D. C., woman's offer of a war dog's pup to replace a Shepherd dog whose death started the fiction that the latter animal had died while a member of the K-9 corps.

Mrs. Haskvitz said she was sending a telegram to Mrs. Rose Morrow of Washington, who offered Sheih, son of a war dog adopted by Mrs. Morrow's son, Alan, in Italy.

Mr. and Mrs. Haskvitz told their son, Ronnie, 8, that his dog, Laddie, had been enlisted in the K-9 corps to keep him from grieving over the animal's death. Published pictures of returning K-9 members had prompted Ronnie to inquire of the war department as to when his dog would be returned. Mrs. Morrow's offer followed a news item about the dilemma.

BYRNES FLYING HOME; JUBILANT OVER RESULTS

MOSCOW, Dec. 27 (AP)—State Secretary Byrnes tonight was flying home from Moscow. He was jubilant over the accomplishments of the foreign ministers' conference in reaching agreement on vital questions and in creating a "friendly spirit" for meeting future world problems.

[A Rome dispatch said State Secretary Byrnes made a brief stop at Capodichino airport in Naples yesterday afternoon en route to Casablanca from Moscow. The plane had been scheduled to go via Berlin, but was routed south because of weather conditions.]

In excellent spirits just before he boarded his plane at the snow covered Moscow airport, Byrnes said that the "important thing" about the conference "is that closer relations have been established so that the possibility of agreement has been greatly increased."

"No Secret Agreements"

Byrnes said the Moscow conference had been "very constructive" not only because of the settlement of many problems but because of "cordial relations between the three countries represented."

He said that "there is great hope for the settlement of other problems in the same friendly spirit."

Byrnes gave assurance that there were no secret agreements made at the conference. He said he made that point because "some people are always anxious to know if there are secret agreements. When you read the atomic agreement you'll also know that no phase other than that set forth was discussed." That ruled out any decision to let Russia in on the secrets of making atomic bombs.

Russians Say Good-by Foreign Commissar Molotov and the entire Russian delegation were at the airport to say farewell to Byrnes.

The American secretary was visibly touched by Molotov's gesture in coming out in the pre-dawn Russian cold, and they exchanged firm handclasps. Byrnes had suggested to Molotov and to British Foreign Secretary Bevin that farewells under the circumstances were unnecessary.

Discussing the results of the meeting, Bevin said, "I do not believe in creating in the public mind the idea that holding a conference such as this one has solved all problems. It is only one stage on the way, and I think this conference marks an important step.

"If the decisions that were made are all carried out with understanding, that will lead to the next step and the solution of more problems.

"In that spirit we conducted the conference."

He said the situation in Iran "will continue to be discussed thru diplomatic channels."

CHICAGO ATOMIC SCIENTISTS HAIL MOSCOW ACTION

The Moscow declaration setting up preliminary machinery for proposed international control of atomic energy was termed a "welcome" announcement last night by members of the executive committee of the Atomic Scientists of Chicago. The organization, which has said it represents 90 per cent of the chemists and physicists working on the atomic bomb in the Chicago area, hailed the announcement as signifying full participation by Russia toward solution of the atomic question.

In a formal statement signed by Dr. John A. Simpson, University of Chicago physicist, chairman, and three other members of the group, the committee's statement said:

"The stress on quick action is important. The more time is allowed to elapse, the more difficult will it be to put the controls into operation. The veto provision [contained in the UNO San Francisco charter] may be dangerous if it applies not only to the determination of the methods of control and inspection, but also to their actual operation and enforcement."

Stalin Goes to the Opera While Ministers Confer

MOSCOW, Dec. 27 (AP)—Generalissimo Stalin attended an opera performance last night in one of his rare visits to the theater. While he was listening to the music, the foreign ministers of Russia, Great Britain, and the United States were concluding their 11 day conference on world problems.

TURKEY ACTS TO PREVENT REVOLT OF KURD CHIEFS

Passes Law to Rule Eastern Province

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Dec. 27—The national assembly passed unanimously today a bill prolonging for another year the special laws governing the eastern province of Tunceli. This action followed reports that the Russians were preparing the Kurds in Iran and Iraq for a revolt. Tunceli is inhabited by Kurds.

The Russians are reported to be organizing the Kurds in Iran, having appointed chiefs to replace those eliminated by Shah Pehlevi. The Kurd chiefs were removed after their revolt in Tunceli seven years ago. Some of the chiefs were found guilty and hanged and others were sent to western Turkey.

Reduce Arms Smuggling

Turkish authorities are taking strong measures to reduce the smuggling of arms from Iran, Iraq, and Syria into Turkey. During their latest revolt the Kurds were armed with Russian and French weapons.

There are nearly 800,000 Kurds in Turkey, some of whom are of mixed Arab blood. Many thousands of them still live a stone age existence in caverns in the wilds of the mountains. They dwell in caverns in groups of a hundred or more and, primitively, eat only the flesh of sheep which has been cooked on hot stones.

They're Good Rifle Shots

They are reputed to be crack marksmen, many of them firing a rifle with one hand. For many years the government has been unable to collect taxes from the Kurds. Tax collectors had to be accompanied by soldiers. The government, however, has done a lot to bring the Kurds within the law.

TURKS ENRAGED BY SOVIET CLAIM FOR 2 PROVINCES

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Dec. 26 [Delayed] — (AP) — Demonstrations against proposals published in Moscow that a strip of Turkish Black sea territory comprising the provinces of Kars and Ardahan be ceded to the soviet union were reported today from Port Trabzon.

The semi-official Anatolia news agency said the claims of two Georgian professors, published in Russian papers last week, created great nervousness in Trabzon, which lies on the shore of the Black sea only 50 miles from Russian territory.

A Trabzon newspaper was quoted as saying the nature of the territorial demands should be considered "an attack against Turkey and an injustice toward the rights of small nations."

"This will constitute the beginning of a new fight," it was added.

WANG KEH-MIN, 66, SEIZED JAP PUPPET, DIES

PEIPING, China, Dec. 27 (AP) — Wang Keh-min, 66, regarded as Japan's leading puppet in north China, died in the military prison here Christmas day. Newspaper accounts said Wang was addicted to the use of opium and, unable to obtain the drug in prison, became ill shortly after his arrest Dec. 5.

Wang studied in Japan as a youth, was director of Chinese students in Japan, and from 1902 to 1907 was counselor of the Chinese legation in Tokyo. After serving in Chinese republican cabinets, he retired in the '20's, but in 1937 came to Peiping to head the Japanese provisional government. When the Japanese abolished this government in 1939 and created a puppet regime, Wang became political affairs chairman.

CHICAGO PLANTS AND RAILROADS OBEY SMOKE LAW

Sixty miles of driving thru Chicago's industrial districts and observations at railroad yards and along switch routes yesterday demonstrated that the city's smoke abatement ordinances were being almost universally obeyed.

A reporter and a Tribune camera man made the five hour tour of observation. They saw a few industrial stacks and three or four locomotives belching black smoke, but it was only momentarily. In less time than it takes to get a focus by camera, the black smoke had changed to white or to none at all—usually in something under three minutes.

Keeping Soot at Minimum

It was patent that every effort to keep the soot blackened fumes at a minimum was being made by those in control, whether men in boiler rooms or in railroad engine cabs.

At the Santa Fe railroad yards between Ashland and Western avs., and the river and 31st st., and on the Rock Island and Pennsylvania terminal tracks crossing Garfield blvd., near Normal blvd., half hour watches provided no pictures of locomotives with black smoke issuing from their stacks. Always it was white against the pale, sunny sky; and the same was true along railroad tracks on the south, west, and north sides.

Frank A. Chambers, chief smoke inspector for the city, corroborated the observations.

Inspectors Back Finding

"I rode an 'L' train to the loop from 25th st. and Pulaski rd.," Chambers said. "The whole route was thru an industrial district and I was agreeably surprised at the little black smoke I saw."

"My six inspectors have been reporting the same thing. Industrial plants and railroad locomotives were keeping their smoke down. The worst offenders were big apartment buildings."

Chambers said the city smoke abatement ordinance allows smoke for six minutes to the hour, provided fires are being cleaned or built.

10 NATION BOARD IS PUZZLED, BUT GOES TO JAPAN

Hamilton Field, Cal., Dec. 27 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, chairman of the allied far eastern commission, said tonight he did not know if the three nations formation of a revised far eastern policy commission would supercede his 10 nation board.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, and Russia announced such a new commission today. McCoy and 38 members of the old commission en route to study American policies in Japan arrived tonight after a weather-delayed transcontinental flight.

"Unless we are ordered back, we will proceed," McCoy said. "We have not heard a thing about a new control commission and there is nothing for us to say; we are proceeding on our original orders." The party will fly to Hawaii tomorrow.

'SMALLEST BABY IN LAKE COUNTY' SEEN BY FATHER

Bonnie Lee Van Patten, reputedly the smallest baby born in Lake county, was displayed yesterday for the first time to her father, Laurel Van Patten of Antioch, retired army sergeant who was discharged Dec. 18. When she was born in St. Therese hospital, Waukegan, on Sept. 20, Bonnie Lee weighed 1 pound 8 ounces. Now, after three months in an incubator in Michael Reese hospital, Bonnie Lee weighs 3 pounds 10½ ounces. Van Patten, son of Louis Van Patten, Antioch fire chief, and his wife, Hazel, 29, have three other children, two sons and a daughter.

RESCUE CREWS STILL OVER MILE FROM 30 IN MINE

Pineville, Ky., Dec. 27 (AP)—Rescue workers trying to reach more than 30 trapped miners here are at least 7,000 feet from the area where the men are believed to be entombed, Earl Lewis, superintendent of the No. 1 mine of the Kentucky Straight Creek Coal company, said tonight. Previous estimates had placed the rescuers within 2,000 feet of the men.

Lewis had just emerged after 26 hours in the mine with a rescue crew.

"It would be a miracle if they found even one of those men alive, he said. "There is not even a mouse alive in there."

Knows Every Foot of Mine

Lewis was the first man to enter the mine yesterday after the explosion and workers agreed that he knows every foot of the mine better than any one else on the scene.

He said the mine is two and one-fourth miles long, and expressed belief that the miners' bodies would be found at the far end of the tunnel.

The superintendent said he was convinced the 31 men to whom lamps were issued yesterday were all in the mine and that there might be "one or two others."

Fight 19th Fire

Rescuers are encountering worse conditions as they go along, Lewis declared. Crews were fighting their 19th fire when he left. The fires are caused by the burning of timbers.

Lewis estimated it would be late tomorrow before the entombed men—or bodies—would be reached.

Tunnel Extends Two Miles

Few of the veteran miners held out any hope for any of the trapped men. During the first 30 hours of rescue work not a sign was reported to indicate the fate of any of the miners inside the tunnel.

A crowd of 300 to 400 persons, mostly relatives of the trapped men, remained near the mine entrance all last night and today. They built bonfires to protect themselves from the chilly winter air.

There was not a sob, however, as mothers, sisters, wives, children, and sweethearts huddled around the bonfires. Many of them have had similar experiences in other mine tragedies.

Korea Renews Demand for Independence Now

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 27 (AP)—Reports that the United States, Britain and Russia have agreed on a five year trusteeship for Korea prompted the war time, unofficial government-in-exile of Kim Koo to renew its demands for immediate Korean independence today. A spokesman, voicing emphatic objections to joint allied control, said, "The purpose of World War II. was to protect weaker nations from the claws of tyrants. The four powers, America, England, Soviet and China, have promised independence to Korea."

GERMAN ACTOR SHOT DEAD IN U.S. ZONE IN BERLIN

Rearming of Americans Opposed by Army

BY HENRY WALES
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BERLIN, Dec. 27—Another slaying in the American zone of Berlin was revealed tonight by Provost Marshal Col. Gerald Beane. The victim was Peter Holtz, a German actor, who was shot down as he said good night to an actress, Margot Moos. Miss Moos told Beane she heard a man muttering as she took leave of Holtz, then the sound of a shot and the actor fell dead.

Two American soldiers were murdered by unidentified assailants Sunday night. All American officers and men are unarmed unless on official military business.

Maj. Gen. Paul Ransom of the 78th division explained that American troops in Berlin were disarmed in September following the allied command's adoption of a Russian proposal that occupying troops cease carrying weapons. Russian officers always have carried side arms and were not affected by the allied order.

British Carry Arms

Recently it was announced that all British military personnel on duty after 9 o'clock at night will carry arms and that all military personnel on the streets after midnight will be armed whether on duty or not.

Col. W. F. Heimlich, United States army counter intelligence chief, said a recommendation had been made for American army personnel on night duty to carry arms hereafter following the newly established British action.

American officials see no reason why the GIs should not be permitted to carry weapons now. Their reluctance is based on the theory that if they are attacked by surprise they will be shot down before they can draw their weapons as was Stanley Cranston, one of the Americans slain Sunday night. Cranston had a revolver in his pocket, but was killed before he could pull it.

Russians Aid Search

Investigation today revealed that Sgt. Ernest Bauer of Warsaw, N. Y., the other victim of Sunday night's shootings, was seen with a German girl outside a movie theater in Bella Alliance strasse in Tempelhof an hour before his body was discovered in near-by Bergmann strasse. Bauer's right thumb bore a powder burn as if he had atempted to ward off a bullet.

Col. Beane announced that the Russian NKVD [special police] were coöperating fully in the search for the slayers but all American spokesmen were stressing the fact that Russians were not accused of the shootings—it is only allegations by German civilian witnesses that incriminate the Red army.

Threaten German Girl

The provost marshal is investigating a report from a German girl that two German youths threatened recently that if she went around with Americans she would be killed.

The authorities reiterated that the double slaying Sunday is only the fourth murder in the American zone. The others were a frate train guard killed in the Russian zone in September and an 82d division paratrooper shot by a Russian sentry when he tried to drive a weapons carrier past a Red army barricade in the Russian sector of Berlin two months ago.

In shooting frays so far in Berlin American military police and soldiers have killed 16 Russians and wounded nine others.

REDS IN ROMANIA SLAY U. S. MAJOR, WOMAN REPORTS

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 27 [Special]—Russian soldiers murdered an American army major in Bucharest when he refused to turn over 60 private vehicles, Mrs. Betty Nann declared today upon her return to her home here from Romania, where she was trapped during the war.

Mrs. Nann charged that the major, transportation officer in charge of the American motor pool, refused to give up the vehicles because they had been confiscated from Romanian citizens and were United States property. She added that the Romanians willingly gave their autos and trucks to the Americans because all private autos were being stolen by Russian soldiers who set up a black market and sold them back to the Romanians.

"The communists make the workers parade every week or so in support of Petre Groza, the Russian supported prime minister in the provisional government," she said. "If a worker doesn't turn out for the parade he loses his job because all the factories are under Russian control." The parades often end in riots between Communists and non-Communists, she added.

SPANISH EXILES QUIT MEXICO ON WAY TO EUROPE

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27 (AP)—President Diego Martinez Barrio of the exiled Spanish Republican government entrained here today for New York, from where he plans to embark for London. Republican Premier Jose Giral was preparing to leave later. Giral is expected to stop in New York before going to Paris.

The exiled leaders' decision to leave coincided with an announcement from Washington, D. C., that the United States government was ready to join England and France in a conference to determine their future attitude to Generalissimo Francisco Franco's regime.

Giral said that he would not appear before French authorities in his official capacity as head of the exiled government. However, he added that he would confer with leaders of the 150,000 Spanish refugees now domiciled in France.

VACATION LAW HALTS BUSINESS IN NEW ZEALAND

BY QUENTIN POPE
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Dec. 27—New Zealand today was in the grip of a spreading business paralysis as the result of simultaneous nation-wide compliance with a law passed in 1944 which requires that all workers be given two weeks vacation with pay.

This capital city is almost dead and, altho some stores have opened for post-Christmas business, many thousands of factories, stores and offices are closed tight.

Despite critical coal and lumber shortages all coal miners and lumber workers are on more than a two weeks' vacation. Many manufacturers do not plan to open their plants until mid-January and will not have them fully staffed until late in the month. Reserve coal stocks of the railroads have reached such a low state that publication of figures ceased three months ago.

Even Pawnbrokers Close

It is summer here and many merchants chose to take advantage of the seasonal business slack to comply with the vacation law. Some stores announced they will re-open on Jan. 14, others on Jan. 21. Banks, insurance companies, jewelers, opticians, electrical goods and hardware stores are closed as are many stores selling shoes, men's wear, hats, gowns, and handbags. Even the pawnbrokers are closed.

Many physicians have withdrawn from practice until Jan. 7, the dentists even longer. Barber shops will not reopen until Jan. 10.

Particularly serious are the restaurant closings. Most of them will be shut for three weeks. Only two restaurants in one block displayed "Open" signs today.

This halt, when many reconstruction jobs are waiting, has caused unrest. The Wellington Evening Post pointed out editorially that in 1944, when the compulsory law first operated, shutdowns were instituted to give a holiday to the depleted staffs of the various New Zealand industries. The spread of the custom has become disturbing, the editorial said. The paper also charged that simultaneous vacations over wide sections of the community make the holidays valueless.

Governor Warns People

It has been estimated that the shutdown costs the country 5 per cent of its annual income.

Gov. Cyril Newhall in a statement warned against national slackness and reminded the people that they face important duties and responsibilities.

Newhall's warning came after a move by the Federated Farmers' organization to cut farm working hours to 40 a week. This decision was reached following a declaration by the federation that farmers produce a disproportionate share of the country's wealth by working long hours.

BOMBED GERMAN PLANT YIELDING FUEL FOR REDS

BERLIN, Dec. 27 (AP)—The giant Leuna synthetic oil plant at Merseburg, bombed to a standstill by the allies, has been restored to 20 per cent of its wartime gasoline production and is now delivering 200 tons daily to Russian occupation authorities.

This sprawling factory, during the war a high priority target for American Flying Fortresses, was bombed 22 times from May, 1944, to March, 1945. Its German production manager told American correspondents touring the Russian occupation zone that Leuna was knocked out of production in October, 1944.

But the bombers continued to come, and what they accomplished is visible here amid acres of pipes, valves, and vats, representing one of the world's most complex industrial establishments. Forty per cent of Leuna was totally destroyed and about 70 per cent of it unroofed. A German expert estimated that it will take at least five years to restore it to its former condition.

GERMAN DIES TO PROVE HIS RIGHT TO RIDE A BIKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BERLIN, Dec. 27—The first German died for liberty and democracy today when a man carrying a huge sack on his back pedaled his bicycle along Wall-strasse, near the Communist party headquarters.

A Berlin policeman and Russian soldiers waved a warning and yelled to the cyclist. But he kept pedaling and shouting that the nazi tyranny had ended and he had every right to ride down the street to his home. The cop and Red soldiers tried to explain the danger to the bicyclist, but he waved them aside.

Just then a bomb shattered building, mined for demolition by the Russians, blew up and not a vestige remained of the man, his sack, or bicycle.

MAYOR BRUSHES OFF EFFORT TO GET NAVY PIER

Brooks Offers Help for Conventions

Illinois Democratic congressmen said they were a bit perplexed yesterday after a meeting called to urge the navy to vacate Navy pier without needless delay so that it can be used for peace time purposes again. Mayor Kelly challenged the project.

The Chicago Convention bureau sponsored the meeting in the Blackstone hotel. Sen. Brooks spoke first, in accordance with protocol. He had driven over 90 miles of icy roads from his farm near Sheridan, La Salle county, to attend. Brooks pictured the staggering cost of the war and said that society must put its productive facilities into full use to pay this cost.

Brooks Predicts Co-operation

"When our navy asked for billions we never denied one dollar," said Brooks, a member of both the naval affairs and appropriations committees. "Now, we have the right to ask the navy to coöperate with us, to earn what it cost to build the world's greatest navy.

"Getting down to a basis of 500,000 men, the navy should release every facility needed in reconversion, so that we may keep America strong and the hope of a despairing world."

Brooks predicted that the navy would consider Chicago's needs without delay.

Mayor Urges Caution

When Kelly arose, he protested that he doesn't want to "hurry the navy out of Chicago." "We have plenty of conventions and shouldn't ask the navy to get out," the mayor said. "I don't know the purpose of this meeting, but I don't want to stimulate the return of the pier to conventions.

"Let's not be overanxious about getting more conventions, when we can't handle what we have now. Let's not get off on the wrong tangent here. Suppose we say we're going to look for information rather than make any demands upon the government."

Calloway Asks Removal Date

Sherman J. Sexton, president of the convention bureau, said no one wanted the pier at once, but that large conventions will be available late in 1946 and thereafter. J. T. Calloway, representing the manufacturers of road building machinery, said no other building in the United States could adequately house the Earth Movers show, which hasn't been held since 1940.

No coercion is intended, he added, but a definite removal date is necessary soon if business is to plan the spending of millions of dollars on expositions of importance to industry generally.

ASSERTS MORALE OF MARINES IN CHINA 'CRACKS'

SHANGHAI, China, Dec. 27 (AP)—Morale of homesick United States marines in North China was described by Stars and Stripes today as "cracking up" because the leathernecks "are convinced they are merely pawns in a political chess game."

The China theater edition of the army newspaper, in a Tientsin datelined article by News Editor Sgt. Dick Wilson of Belle Rose, N. Y., said the marines refused to believe it is necessary for them to guard Chinese railroads and British-owned coal properties.

The army newsman went on: "Nightly jags, mourning buddies who fell in Pacific campaigns, a bit of joint-wrecking, brawls with civilians and marines, an occasional show of arms and sometimes more than a show—these are the manifestations of the cracking up of America's fighting men who have had too much fighting and want to go home so desperately that nothing else means anything to them."

REDS AND CHINA CHIEFS MEET TO PLAN FOR PEACE

CHUNGKING, China, Dec. 27 (AP)—Chinese Communists, meeting government leaders to arrange for peace discussions, submitted in writing today their plan for a truce to end China's civil turmoil.

"All we can do is hope," declared Chou En-lai, head of the communist delegation, after the preliminary conference at which the rival factions met formally for the first time since Nov. 17.

Then he went to a dinner honoring Gen. Marshall at the home of Walter Robertson, United States charge d'affaires, also attended by representatives of the government and China's democratic league.

Chou insisted the plan—text of which was withheld—called for an "unconditional" truce. The government asserted that, as made orally last week, the plan contained some booby traps.

Calls for End of Firing

Chou outlined it as calling for a "cease fire" order by each side, settling all problems peacefully and dispatching nonpartisan observers to the fronts to make a report.

The government charged the oral plan would require its troops to withdraw from the railroads and would freeze in present positions their forces now moving into Manchuria. The government was represented as seeing the latter condition as a stiff barrier to acceptance of the communist plan.

In fact, there was a report current that the government would ask the Russians to postpone their Jan. 3 withdrawal from Manchuria because national forces still had too far to go before being ready to take over the administration of the vast territory.

Move Toward Mukden

A dispatch from Peiping said advance units of national occupation forces were seven miles northeast of Tahushan, which is more than 60 miles southwest of Mukden, Manchuria's largest city.

A score of high government officials left Peiping by plane for Changchun, the Manchurian capital, to assist advance groups in taking over the civil administration, the dispatch said.

The presence in Chungking of Marshall, America's special envoy to China, was increasing interest in the forthcoming peace talks by the political consultative council.

BRITISH TROOPS THROW CORDON AROUND BATAVIA

BATAVIA, Java, Dec. 27 (AP)—The British threw a military cordon around Batavia today as Lt. Gen. Philip Christison, commander in the Netherlands East Indies, notified Indonesian leaders he was taking more active measures to restore order in Java and appealed for their coöperation.

[London dispatches said Prime Minister Attlee began talks this afternoon with Dutch officials in an effort to settle the Indonesian crisis. The British government was said to be pressing the Dutch to recognize the self-proclaimed Indonesian republic.]

Christison said he has asked the aid of the Indonesian peace preservation corps [TKR] in maintaining order, and this afternoon certain units already were being equipped by the British to be used as auxiliary police.

The cordon was thrown around the Java capital in order to check identity of people leaving and entering the city and thus prevent an inflow of terrorists and bandits, the British said.

INDIA WILL BUY HALF BILLION OF U. S. PROPERTY

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 27 (AP)—United States surplus property in India, with a book value probably exceeding $500,000,000, will be sold to the Indian government under an agreement reached Monday, it was announced today.

One of the greatest single transactions of this nature in history, the deal is intended to prevent any dislocations of the Indian economy which might have resulted if the American foreign liquidation commission had continued a policy of piecemeal disposal.

The $500,000,000 figure does not represent actual sales prices. That is to be settled, it is hoped, in January or February at Washington meetings of representatives of the two governments who will also consider lend-lease and reciprocal aid obligations and other economic problems arising from the war.

The deal is expected to accelerate evacuation of United States troops from India, control distribution of surpluses, facilitate economic adjustment and serve the general welfare of the Indian people.

CHINA PAYS U. S. $250,000 ON PLANS FOR RIVER WORK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—China has made a $250,000 payment to the reclamation bureau to cover initial costs of developing plans to harness the Yangtze river.

Reporting the payment today, Secretary of Interior Ickes estimated the cost of the planning work at $500,000.

Under a recently negotiated contract, the reclamation bureau will prepare plans for huge irrigation and hydro-electric projects to conserve and control waters of the Yangtze river. Financing and construction will be in the hands of the Chinese government.

Queen for a Day

Mrs. Charles Bartholmey before transformation.

Mrs. Bartholmey after "getting glamorous." [TRIBUNE Photos]

The mills of glamor grind swiftly—and they grind exceeding smart! To illustrate: When Mrs. Charles F. Bartholmey, 32, of 407 E. 74th st., appeared yesterday afternoon on the first Chicago airing of the radio show, Queen for a Day, she expressed her wish simply as, "Brother, you can get me glamorous."

Then, she was a nice looking housewife. But last night, dining in the Pump room, attending the Olsen and Johnson show, "Laffing Room Only," and having supper at the College Inn, she was a sophisticated lady with camellias in her hair. The immediate change was wrought by Miss Dorothy Joy of the Perc Westmore studios.

Mrs. Bartholmey was the winning one of six queen candidates on the show, which will originate once more at 1:30 p. m. today from the main studios of W-G-N. It is broadcast over Mutual. Mrs. Bartholmey's winning story was that her husband had been made pin-up boy at his office and since then, well, he'd been finding fault with her looks. Her glamorization will continue as the gifts she won as queen are mailed to her in her size. They will include a suit, dress, six pairs of nylons, not to mention silver foxes, a hat, lifetime supply of lipsticks, a bracelet, pin—and a few other things!

17 LEGION POSTS URGE BIG BASE AT GREAT LAKES

A resolution adopted by the 10th district of the American Legion, representing 17 Legion posts in Lake county, called upon Senators Lucas and Brooks and Representatives Church and Douglas to exert every effort to maintain the navy's major training station at Great Lakes, District Commander Joseph J. Nemanich announced yesterday.

The resolution pointed out the station's "contribution to the stability and welfare of the navy and the nation has been of inestimable value, both in war and in peace," and opposed a reported navy plan to reduce the station's personnel to 1,000 men.

The resolution, Nemanich said, asked that the station be maintained at its present strength except for Camps Dewey, Downes, Porter, Moffett, and McIntire, which the Legionnaires request be turned over to Downey Veterans' hospital near North Chicago. The Legionnaires also urged that "additional facilities" be provided at Downey for treatment of veterans.

The five camps adjoin the veterans' hospital at Downey and some have been used by the navy for hospital purposes.

A WAR SECRET DISCLOSED BY CHICAGO MAN

If the war with Japan had lasted 24 hours longer, a United States task force would have made a surprise landing to open a port on the China sea. Col. Richard Smykal, former Chicago construction official and deputy chief of staff of the China combat command, disclosed yesterday.

Col. Richard Smykal

Col. Smykal said the army, navy, and air forces had combined to execute and protect the landing and the invasion units were off the Chinese coast when the news of Japan's capitulation froze the operation a day in advance of its zero hour.

New Transport Route Planned

Lengthy and careful preparation had gone into the invasion arrangements, Col. Smykal said. The operation was of strategic importance, because it would have provided a short cut for supplying the Chinese armies and would have eliminated the dangerous and difficult air transport route over the Himalayas.

The China sea landing would have been a fitting climax, Col. Smykal said, to American activity in the Burma and China campaigns; of the 90 divisions in the China campaign, 34 were American trained and equipped, as were all the Chinese forces in Burma.

Chicago's snow and ice were to Col. Smykal a welcome contrast with the steaming 120 degree heat and the torrential rains of Burma.

Yen for Milk and Steak

"The first thing I wanted when I got back," he said, "was a foaming glass of fresh milk. I hadn't had any during the more than two years I was away. My second wish you can guess—it was for a steak."

Col. Smykal, who was president of the Home Builders company, commanded the 108th quartermaster regiment of the Illinois national guard when it was federalized in 1941. He became assistant chief of staff of the Burma campaign in 1943, serving as chief of supply and transportation.

For that work, he was awarded the Legion of Merit on the recommendation of Gen. Stilwell. The Chinese government decorated him with the Order of Yuan Hwei [Cloud Banner] and the Kuo Chang medal as "hero of the nation and defender of the people." He became deputy chief of staff of the Chinese command last June.

Col. Smykal's residence is Oak Park, but his wife, Helen, and children, Ralph and Susan, have been in McMinnville, Tenn., since he went overseas. All are visiting the colonel's mother, Mrs. Edward J. Smykal, 3035 Maple av., Berwyn.

U.S. ACTS TO GET LATIN AMERICAN INTERNEES HOME

Seeks to End Criticism of 1,000 Seizures

BY WILLIAM STRAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27—The state department moved today to rid itself of the problem of what to do with approximately 1,000 nationals of Latin American republics who were brought here and interned during the war as alleged enemy aliens.

In a statement replying to a wave of criticism of its policies toward the internees, the department disclosed it has taken steps to recognize the sovereignty of the various Central and South American governments in dealing with the prisoners. It admitted that several of the governments have requested the return of some or all of their nationals.

"A memorandum has been dispatched to all the governments concerned announcing a uniform policy with respect to such requests," said the statement. "That memorandum will be made public as soon as it has been transmitted to the governments concerned."

Anxious to End Problem

It is understood that the way is to be opened for any of the Latin American countries with citizens now in United States custody to name those they want returned. The department is anxious to dispose of the problem, one source said today, and there is little prospect that any of the requests will be rejected.

The alleged aliens were taken from their former homes and held in the United States under the war time alien enemy act.

Habeas corpus proceedings recently were responsible for freeing two internees from the Fort Lincoln camp near Bismarck, N. D., after an uncontested hearing in the District court in Fargo. These, however, were citizens of Guatemala who denied having axis sympathies or any other connection with enemy countries.

Records Are Studied

It has been charged that the high handed procedure followed by the United States in the seizure and imprisonment of the internees has violated basic principles of American justice. In most instances, records show, the men were arrested in their own countries without warning, given only a few hours to pack their clothing, and then hurried by plane to the United States under the aegis of the federal bureau of investigation.

Some have been held up to four years without legal action or an opportunity to present their cases in a court of justice.

Today's statement from the department said it has been "going ahead" with a program announced Nov. 2 for handling the release of the internees. But, according to the announcement, this has consisted chiefly of a further study of the records of the prisoners, altho the department asserted that "from time to time groups of individuals have been released."

Claim 1,000 Held

The department emphasized that each of the prisoners will have an opportunity for a hearing and that none will be deported until the Latin American country where he formerly lived has been consulted. Diplomatic representatives of several of the countries have charged that the department heretofore was disregarding the sovereignty of their governments.

"The total number of aliens deported to this country under this program during the war was about a thousand, not including wives and children who came along voluntarily. About 100 aliens claim they are not natives or citizens of an enemy country and hence are not alien enemies within the meaning of the alien enemy act."

George C. Dix, of New York City, an attorney representing 86 of the internees, declared recently that nearly 4,000 of the former Latin Americans who were held here during the war, have already been deported to Germany, many of them against their will and despite the fact they are avowed citizens of other countries.

U. S. RELEASES BANKER SEIZED IN GUATEMALA

Bismarck, N. D., Dec. 27 [Special]—Karl-Heinz Nottebohm, former Guatemalan banker interned in the United States for nearly three years, was released this afternoon from the internment camp at Fort Lincoln here. He planned to leave at once by train for New Orleans and thence to his former home in Guatemala City.

Nottebohm, of German descent, was brought to the United States in January, 1943, among hundreds of Latin Americans similarly removed. He said he was flown in an American army plane to Kenedy, Tex., where soldiers told him he had entered the country illegally.

A year later, he said, department of justice representatives told him Guatemala had sent him to this country but he later learned Guatemala had protested the United States' forcible removal of Guatemala citizens. Nottebohm said he was told that 365 Guatemalans were brought here for internment and that some died, others were sent to Germany, and 10 per cent are still here.

Act to Halt Increase in Shanghai Venereal Cases

SHANGHAI, Dec. 27 (AP)—The newly created joint army-navy venereal disease board ordered strict enforcement of off-limits regulations against brothels today and instituted a prophylactic educational program to combat a rapid rise in the rate of infection. The records showed 374 cases per thousand in the navy and 185 in the army, compared with 95 and 65 per thousand when American forces landed here in September.

HAWAII PROBERS STILL SEARCHING FOR A COUNSEL

Kirkland Regrets He Is Unable to Act

BY PHILIP DODD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27—Fears that the congressional Pearl Harbor investigating committee will resume its hearings Monday without having selected a new counsel to replace William D. Mitchell, resigned, were expressed today by committee members.

Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.] told reporters Weymouth Kirkland, Chicago attorney who represents THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, and whom Lucas had suggested for the post, had declined to serve as committee counsel and had asked Lucas not to present his name to the committee.

Tentative meeting of the committee to discuss the selection of new counsel was postponed today when Sen. Barkley [D., Ky.] left town for a speaking enegagement. The only members of the committee in Washington today were Sentors Lucas and Ferguson [R., Mich.] and Rep. Gearhart [R., Cal.].

Doubts Decision This Week

In an interview today, Ferguson said he could not see how a decision on counsel could be reached this week. Similar fears were expressed by Gearhart. The Californian said, however, he would press for the appointment of Warren C. Atherton, Stockton, Cal., or Harry Colmer, Topeka, Kas., both attorneys and past national commanders of the American Legion.

Lucas said he had received a letter from Kirkland in which the Chicago attorney declined the appointment as committee counsel, altho, Lucas said, Kirkland had previously told him on the telephone he was "extremely interested" in the proposed assignment.

Lucas "Disappointed"

"To be of real assistance to the committee," Kirkland wrote, "counsel must give to this one matter every minute of the short time available. This I cannot do because of unbreakable prior commitments. Hence, I regret I must decline to let you propose my name to the committee."

Lucas said he was "keenly disappointed" in not being able to present Kirkland's name to the committee. "His reputation for ability, integrity, and success as a practicing attorney for the last 35 years is on the same high plane as that of Gen. Mitchell, retiring counsel," Lucas declared.

The present legal staff has agreed to stay with the committee until new counsel is appointed, provided the committee acts quickly.

WIDOW REVEALS SHE WAS ON LIST OF CLINE FRIENDS

Mrs. Jane Hough, 47, of the Belair hotel, 420 Diversey pkwy., widow of a former sanitary district attorney, revealed yesterday how a chance meeting with Alfred L. Cline, 56, led to her acquaintance and correspondence with the suspected "Bluebeard."

Mrs. Hough said she met the ex-convict, who is under arrest in San Francisco, Cal., in connection with the death or disappearance of eight persons, six of them women, in late September, 1944, in the Palmer House. Cline struck up a conversation, confided he was on his way to California, and began a fervid discussion of religion, she said. After he left Chicago, they corresponded, she said.

Cline's last letter to Mrs. Hough was dated Dec. 1. This was two days after the death in a Portland [Ore.] hotel of a woman Cline identified as Mrs. Delora Krebs Cline of Chicago, but believed to have been Mrs. Isabelle Van Natta, 73, a San Francisco widow.

Cline's letter, sent from Portland, said, "I am anxious to see you again." He spoke of going to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and to Florida for four or five weeks.

BRITISH TROOPS IN GREECE GET SIX-FOLD RAISE

ATHENS, Greece, Dec. 27 [Reuters]—Salaries of British forces in Greece, paid since last May in drachmas at the official rate of 2,000 to the pound sterling, are to be increased sixfold from today.

This action has been taken in view of the constant unofficial devaluation of the drachma, which dropped today to a free market value of 160,000 drachmas to the pound.

The American services in Greece get United States banknotes from the bank of Greece instead of drachmas, receiving in the free market 5,000 dachmas for each dollar against 500 quoted officially by the Bank of Greece.

On Sale Today

Chicago's 1946 vehicle license sticker.

City vehicle license stickers for 1946 will be placed on sale this morning, City Clerk Ludwig D. Schreiber announced yesterday. He urged all drivers of trucks and passenger cars to get their stickers early. Clerk Schreiber cautioned that the new stickers are decalcomanias and should be applied on the inside of windshields according to instructions. Application blanks may be obtained at garages, banks, currency exchanges and other neighborhood places.

INDUCT 3 WHO WERE INTERNED BY JAPANESE

Has No Other Choice, Says Draft Board

Denver, Colo., Dec. 27 (AP)—State selective service officials indicated today that under present regulations they had no choice but to draft three Denver men called up by their draft boards altho all three suffered hardships as civilian prisoners of the Japs in Philippine internment camps.

Commenting on a protest by a Denver American Legion post against the induction of the three, Col. H. E. Reed, state selective service director, said:

"We haven't any choice in the matter under present regulations but to draft them if they answer selective service requirements."

Registered for Draft

The men were identified as Roger D. Schade, 21, Henry B. Parfet Jr., 20, and Benjamin Goodier, 21.

The youths on their return to the United States registered for the draft, and at first were deferred because of their weakened condition. Parfet has been ordered to report for induction Jan. 30, Schade Jan. 4 and Goodier is deferred until March because of his health.

F. Sanford Gregory, Denver business man and a former colonel in the army, said he was in the Philippines and "saw those boys, their parents, relatives and friends, come out of Santo Tomas prison. I saw how weak and undernourished they were—skin and bones, most of them," interned at Santo Tomas.

Interned at Santo Tomas

All three were interned when the Japanese took the Philippines and were freed when Santo Tomas prisoners were liberated Feb. 6, 1945, Gregory said.

Goodier's father was one of four Americans on the executive committee of Santo Tomas, Gregory disclosed, and 10 days before the Americans entered Manila, he and the other three were taken away by the Japanese camp commander and killed. Their bodies were found later.

TRUMAN TO TAKE PLANE BACK TO CAPITAL TODAY

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 27 (AP)—President Truman ordered his big C-54 readied tonight for his return to Washington, D. C., as his Christmas holiday came to an end with another round of visiting and hand shaking.

The Sacred Cow, in which he flew here Christmas day, was scheduled to take off at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow for the capital where he will begin work on a speech to the people.

He was in a jovial mood. Earlier in the day he had dropped by the offices of his home town newspaper, the Independence Examiner, where he talked with Col. William Southern, its owner, and members of the staff.

WARNS TRUMAN SEEKS BILLIONS FOR SOCIALISM

BY WILLARD EDWARDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27—The Truman administration was accused today by Rep. Allen [R., Ill.], of planning to spend 20 billions of American taxpayers' money to finance world socialism.

Rep. Allen

Deep significance was attached by Allen, in a statement, to the President's announcement Dec. 15 that American funds would be withheld from China unless Chinese Communists were absorbed into a "one party government" by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

"That threat, one of the most direct and outspoken demands ever made by an American President to a friendly power, was part of a pattern which was first outlined with the proposal to lend Great Britain $4,400,000,000 on terms which make the loan virtually a gift," Allen said.

Asks Curb on Loan

"The present government of Great Britain is socialistic. Mr. Attlee's chief program is governmental ownership of banks, railroads, mines, mills, and factories. Before I can vote for such a loan, there must be a reservation attached that the money not be used to advance socialism thru such government ownership but that it must be spent on the building of Britain's war torn industries to give work to its people.

"Every one knows that soviet Russia will be demanding six or more billions from the United States if the British loan is approved by congress. Next will come France where the Communists have taken hold. And now Mr. Truman tells China it can get no money unless the Communists are given 'fair and effective' representation.

Sees 20 Billion "Drain"

"It would appear that our government is bent upon setting up one party rule, based on communistic or socialistic concepts, thruout the world.

"There are clear indications that at least 20 billion dollars are to be drained from our country for this program. Before it votes on the British loan, congress should insist upon a schedule of all countries requesting loans and the amounts they expect to get.

"If we believe in free enterprise, we must fight for it to the last ditch, not send our money abroad to aid nations that oppose it. History clearly shows that socialism brings chaos to a nation. We must not help bring it to the world."

HILTON ADVISED HIS HOTELS HERE SET SIZE RECORD

John Root, noted architect, member of the firm of Holabird and Root, yesterday told Conrad N. Hilton, principal owner of the 100 million dollar Hilton Hotels of America chain, that Hilton now owns the biggest two hotels in the world and that both are in Chicago: the Stevens and Palmer House.

"Your Stevens is the largest in number of rooms—3,000," Root told Hilton, "but your Palmer House is the world's biggest from the standpoint of cubic content—20,327,000 cubic feet, altho it has only 2,289 rooms."

Hilton asked how Root happened to know so much about it. And Root, with a smile, replied: "I ought to; Holabird and Root designed and built not only the Stevens and Palmer House but the Waldorf in New York, probably the third largest with 2,000 rooms and a content of 20,300,000 cubic feet."

Hilton is moving his general offices from Los Angeles, Cal., to Chicago soon after Jan. 1.

'BLUE' SURGERY REVEALS BABY IS BEYOND HELP

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 27 [Special]—Hope of saving the life of Janice Marie Hayden, 2, of Michigan City, Ind., whose friends contributed $2,500 to send her to Johns Hopkins hospital here, was dimmed today when an exploratory operation disclosed she could not be aided by the newly discovered Blalock-Taussig operation for "blue" babies.

Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, assistant director of the hospital, said it was discovered the child is not one of the "blue" babies who can be saved from early death by the operation. Michigan City physicians had predicted the baby would not live until her third birthday, Feb. 8.

An operation was performed on Janice this morning by Dr. Alfred Blalock, professor of surgery at Johns Hopkins, in expectation of being able to augment surgically the child's deficiency in oxygenated blood.

Burned to Death

MRS. MILDRED CHOCHOLA

An inquest into the death of Mrs. Mildred Chochola, 25, of 1939 S. Austin blvd., Cicero, who was burned to death at midnight Wednesday night when an automobile in which she was a passenger was struck by a Douglas Park "L" train at Elmwood av., Berwyn, was deferred yesterday until Jan. 4. She was the widow of Corp. Charles Chochola, 27, who was killed in Europe last March.

The automobile was driven by her father, Peter Maracek, 62, with whom she resided. Maracek and another passenger, Stanley Gjundjek, 27, of 2518 S. St. Louis av., a chiropodist, were thrown clear.

Mrs. Chochola, a cripple, was pinned under the automobile and perished as she cried, "For God's sake, help me!" "L" trainmen and passengers who tried to aid her were driven back by the intense heat.

3½ MILLION $33 SUITS IS GOAL IN NEXT 3 MONTHS

CPA Earmarks Fabric for Needed Items

Washington, D. C., Dec. 28 (AP)—The government tonight announced a program aimed at getting 3½ million inexpensive men's and boys' suits produced during the first three months of 1946.

The civilian production administration said the output goal for the entire year is between 28 and 30 million suits, with approximately 14 million to sell in low and medium price ranges.

"The apparel program has been geared to help meet the tremendous demand for suits for returning servicemen," said CPA Director John D. Small. He added that men's suits to be made under the program will sell at retail at or below $33.

Fabrics Earmarked

In continuing the program into 1946, CPA said 23 million yards of wool fabrics would be earmarked for use in men's and boys' low and medium priced garments during the first quarter.

In addition to 3½ million suits during that period, the program contemplates production of 7 million pairs of men's and boys' trousers and 1½ million overcoats and topcoats.

Continue Federal Aid

The program also will channel to garment manufacturers approximately 168 million yards of cotton fabrics and 120 million yards of rayon materials for use in essential apparel items.

Producers will continue to receive government aid in obtaining fabric.

The cotton fabrics will be used for such garments as shirts, shorts, and handkerchiefs for men and boys; dresses, slips, and nightgowns for women and girls; and sun suits and overalls for children.

$33 SUITS "UNWANTED"

Government plans for continuing control of the clothing industry into 1946 were assailed last night by Bertrand J. Cahn, president of B. Kuppenheimer & Co., manufacturers of men's apparel. He said the program, coming a month after the selling season, is not only late but will disrupt commitments for the coming year.

"No one wants to buy $33 suits, so in this respect the program is an effort to force on the public something it doesn't seek—suits that will not give the satisfaction the wearer expects," Cahn continued.

"We are going to have at least six months more of scarcity of clothing."

ARMY HOSPITAL SPARES NOTHING TO EDUCATE GI

Brooke General Offers Complete Courses

BY NORMA LEE BROWNING
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 27—In one sense the wounded GI is lucky. He is going to be better prepared for civilian life than the average soldier who has not spent time in an army hospital.

Employers who are wondering how to absorb discharged service men presumably without job qualifications should spend a few days at an army hospital like Brooke General, which combines the finest in medical care with the best in educational job training.

It's hard to tell whether Brooke is a hospital or a college campus.

Complete Courses

It has a school of business and economics, a school of agriculture, a school of auto mechanics, photography, electricity and radio, music, graphic arts, woodworking, air conditioning and refrigeration—all housed in separate buildings like such schools on a university campus.

All are headed by teachers with years of civilian experience. All offer complete courses of instruction thru classroom lectures and practical "lab" work, and giving educational certificates for completion of each course.

A certificate from Brooke should be the ticket to a job for these GIs.

The educational setup here isn't horseplay to keep sick boys from fretting, Maj. William G. Wright, former Chicagoan and for many years a consultant engineer in civilian life, says the hospital's school of auto mechanics and its school of air conditioning and refrigeration are among the finest in the country.

Assemble Equipment

In the latter patients are first taught the fundamentals of air conditioning and refrigeration in a lecture course. Then in a huge building filled with old wornout refrigerators, deep freezes, and electric motors they learn to assemble and disassemble all the parts that go into this equipment.

Pfc. Michael J. Zeglan of 4643 S. Albany st., Chicago, and Herman Horne of Groesbeck, Tex., built a 6 foot deep freeze, completely from scrap material.

Zeglan expects to get a job in refrigeration when he finishes his course and is discharged from the hospital.

Wright says the Brooke student-patients should be able to qualify for good jobs upon completion of the course, so thoro is their training.

Nothing Spared

Nothing is spared in the furnishing of equipment, instructors and other facilities for this school.

The same is true of the school of auto mechanics.

There is a "carburetor classroom" where patients learn to clean and repair carburetors which are received at the hospital completely unserviceable. When necessary, new parts are made to recondition the units.

Another building houses the "starter shop"; another the "generator classroom" and still another the "generator assembly shop." Patients study the ignition system and the fundamentals of electricity, learn to assemble and disassemble a generator.

Large Machine Shop

During the first five months of the school's existence more than 1,800 "unserviceable" generators and starters were sent back to the government ordnance shop completely reserviced by Brooke hospital patients.

There is a large machine shop where auto parts are made with lathes, milling machines, shapers, drill presses, and grinders operated by patients.

And finally there is the enormous building that houses the final assembly and machine tuneup shop. On one wall is a complete air brake system set up by patients. In this building students turn out complete new jeeps and government cars that otherwise would have remained on the scrap pile.

400 Attend Class Daily

Approximately 400 patients attend the auto mechanics course daily.

Academic courses such as English, social sciences, mathematics, foreign languages, and economics are taught at Brooks under the tutorial plan, and a certificate is awarded for each course completed.

Approximately 30 GI's a day are learning to read and write in a course called "special education" for the underprivileged and educationally retarded.

The course is taught like a kindergarten or first grade class, spelling out letters of the alphabet on the blackboard, and dozens of men for the first time in their lives have written "Dear mom" from their classroom at Brooke.

Permanent Hospital

Located on the old Fort Sam Houston reservation, rich in the colorful history of Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders, Brooke General is one of the few permanent army hospitals.

It is only a part of the whole Brooke Hospital center under the command of Brig. Gen. George C. Beach and also includes a large convalescent unit, conducting most of the educational reconditioning program and a Medical Department Enlisted Technicians school.

The transfer of other major army medical activities to Fort Sam Houston was announced recently. These will include the Army Medical Field Service school at Carlisle, Pa., the Army School of Roentgenology at Memphis, Tenn., and the Army School of Military Neuropsychiatry at Brentwood, N. Y.

CHICAGO-FLINT BUS HITS TRUCK; 1 DEAD, 33 HURT

5 from Here Injured at Dowagiac

Dowagiac, Mich., Dec. 27 [Special]—One man was killed and 33 persons injured tonight when a bus en route from Chicago to Flint crashed into a semi-trailer truck stalled on the highway near here. Five of the injured were from the Chicago area.

Only three of the 37 persons aboard the Indian Trails Stages bus escaped injury when the big vehicle struck the heavy truck and plunged into a six foot ditch.

The dead man was Neal J. Duncan, 35, of Oxford, Mich., whose neck was broken.

Two Seriously Hurt

Chicagoland victims are: Edmund Quarnstron, 65, of 2845 Palmer st.; Jacob Stob, 42, of 4638 W. Adams st., and Charles Harbut, 55, 1322 W. 18th pl., all of Chicago. Mrs. Joseph Tomasek, 40, of 4060 Gordon st., Western Springs, and Joseph La Fleur, 63, of 510 W. Main st., South Bend, Ind.

All the others, except for Walter E. Turner of Little Rock, Ark., were Michigan residents. The condition of Mrs. Tomasek, who suffered head, face, and leg injuries, and of Turner was termed serious, but injuries of the others consisted mainly of bruises and shock.

The driver of the bus, Harold Aiken of Detroit, one of the three persons who escaped injury, said he was driving at a moderate speed along U. S. highway 40 when the unlighted truck suddenly loomed in front of him in the dark.

Truck Out of Gas

The truck had run out of gasoline two miles north of Dowagiac. The driver, Roy H. Kincaid of Owosso, placed flares around the stalled truck, state police said, but the wind blew out the warning lights.

Police said Aiken told them a gasoline loaded tank truck approached from ahead of him just as he tried to swing out belatedly to miss the stalled truck.

Passengers were thrown violently among the overturned seats and into the aisle by the impact that buried the bus engine in the side of the ditch. The injured were taken to the Lee Memorial hospital in Dowagiac.

DICKIE IS HOME WITH HIS CAT; SPREE FORGIVEN

Pekin, Ill., Dec. 27 (AP)—A 14 year old runaway and his "part Angora" cat frolicked belatedly with their Christmas presents today after a five day, $500 spree in Chicago.

Dickie Mason and his cat, Cookie, returned to Pekin today with Dickie's mother, Mrs. Mildred Mason. Dickie was welcomed by Henry Gleich, his grandfather, whose savings of $1,500 Dickie took to finance his trip. When Chicago police picked him up, Dickie had approximately $1,000 left.

The boy told police he left home because of Cookie. The family, he said, stepped on her tail too frequently. His mother, however, said Dickie left home because he is "crazy about trains."

"We'll consider the incident closed," said his grandfather.

SUBWAY CONNECTION BIDS OPENED; AWARD WILL BE MADE LATER

Bids were opened yesterday by V. E. Gunlock, city commissioner of subways and super-highways, for construction of an incline to connect the Dearborn st. subway with the elevated structure at Evergreen and Milwaukee avs. Low bidder of eight who sought the work was the Kenny Construction company with a bid of $538,460. Next was the Arcola-Midwest corporation with a $566,612 bid.

Awarding the contract will be taken up later and must be approved by the city council. Building of the Dearborn st. subway was halted in 1942 because of the war. Gunlock said that it was hoped construction could be started early in 1946 and be completed in two years. Estimated cost of the project is 10 million dollars. Still to be built are 2,300 feet of tubes.

Bids were received by Gunlock also for waterproofing the tubes, the low bidder being the City-Wide Construction company, with a bid of $107,390.

COURT ENTERS JUDGMENTS ON PRICE CHARGES

Judge William J. Campbell in federal District court yesterday entered a consent judgment of $4,374 against the Fred Rentz Paper company, 166-70 N. Green st., on the office of price administration's complaint the company violated ceiling prices on wrapping paper and coarse paper products. Judge John P. Barnes entered a consent judgment of $2,107 against the Fort Dearborn Lumber and Material company, 1616 Wolfram st., charged with violating OPA ceiling prices on softwood lumber and hardwood flooring. Permanent injunctions restraining both firms from further overceiling sales were granted to the OPA.

BOY, 14, FALLS THRU RIVER ICE; SAVES HIMSELF

Robert Wimberly, 14, of 4447 Kenmore av., escaped death by drowning in the Chicago river at Rush st. yesterday when he fell thru the ice, but managed to pull himself to safety.

Robert and a companion, Robert Sagel, 12, of 3542 Sheffield av., rushed to the river bank as the Michigan av. bridge was being raised. Robert walked out on the ice, but fell thru after he had traveled only a short distance. Spreading his arms, he pulled himself out of the water onto firmer ice and crawled to the bank, while Sagel watched helplessly.

The Wimberly boy was taken to the East Chicago avenue station, where police wrapped him in blankets until his clothing dried and then sent him home.

BY GEORGE TAGGE

Warning that voters of Polish descent may desert the Democratic party, leaders of that powerful nationality bloc yesterday asked Mayor Kelly for the county treasurer's office in the April primary election. Undisputed head of the party in Illinois as well as in Cook county, the mayor is expected to reject the demand.

Charles Rozmarek, president of the Polish American congress, which claims to speak for 6 million citizens, led the delegation calling upon the mayor. Friends of Poland say their worst fears are being realized thru communist domination of that country without effective protest from the Democratic administration in the United States. Rozmarek has been outspoken on this subject recently.

Kelly Wants Mulcahy

Kelly was told that refusal to slate Frank Bobrytzke for county treasurer would cause Democratic losses. Bobrytzke, a county commissioner, is president of the board of the Milwaukee Avenue National bank. Victor L. Schlaeger, incumbent treasurer, is a member of the Polish group.

Kelly's choice for the treasurer job is said to be Michael F. Mulcahy, who is barred by law from succeeding himself as sheriff. Some observers look for the mayor's nod for sheriff to go to Richard J. Daley, Kelly's leader in the Illinois legislature.

Treasurer Schlaeger, now in Florida, is to be indorsed for a sanitary district trustee post, $9,000 a year sinecure.

No Controversy on Jarecki

Other noncontroversial candidacies from the Polish bloc are County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki for reëlection and Casimir Griglik for the county board.

John Toman, former treasurer and sheriff, and James J. McDermott, former alderman, both now on the board of tax appeals, will stay where they are, according to a reported decision. The Democratic slate making committee will meet Jan. 3.

McAdams to Oppose Butler

Frank J. [Spike] McAdams Jr. is said to have the Kelly blessing to run against State Sen. Walker Butler in the far south side 13th district. Butler is a strong candidate of the G. O. P. for the upper house, but McAdams is just out of the navy with wounds. McAdams also is a son-in-law of Joseph Geary, 4th ward Democratic committeeman.

The McAdams arrangement is expected to eliminate Geary's son, John, as an aspirant for the state senate in the adjoining 5th district.

HUSBAND HELD TO GRAND JURY FOR MARRYING 2

Fred Hoff, 38, a supervisor for the Foote Brothers Gear company, 5225 S. Western av., was held to the grand jury on a bigamy complaint yesterday by Judge Edwin A. Robson in Superior court, who sat as an examining magistrate.

Fred Hoff

The complaint was signed by Hoff's first wife, Marie, 37, of 2834 S. Springfield av., who has a separate maintenance bill pending before Judge Robson. Her attorney, Charles C. Cooley, told the court that Mrs. Hoff had learned her husband had married a second woman, Bernice Hoff, 22, of 4512 S. Rockwell st., two years ago, and that a daughter has been born to Bernice.

Hoff told the court that he had married the second time in the belief that his first wife had obtained a divorce. Cooley scoffed at this. He told the court that Mrs. Hoff had never even intimated she wanted a divorce.

RESA KILLS DIG AT 'FRIENDS' IN UNION LEAGUE

Erases Colloquy of Committee Hearing

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27—A capitol hill puzzle involved Rep. Resa [D., Ill.], and the Union League Club of Chicago.

A mysterious gap in published committee hearings on the full employment bill attracted the attention of observers. Comparison with the original transcript of the hearings revealed that Resa had deleted a verbal attack against Union League club members — "who are my friends"—which he voiced recently at a committee session.

Treasury Secretary Vinson was in the witness chair when Resa, who represents the 9th congressional district on Chicago's north side, spoke up to support Vinson's criticism of "Union League club arguments" against the bill. Vinson said "these club intellectuals believe that a pool of unemployed helps to keep labor in its place."

Praises Vinson Stand

Praising Vinson for this statement, Resa, according to the original transcript, declared:

"Among all of my friends in Chicago who have discussed the necessity of unemployment as an aid to profitable business, all of those who have in my hearing expressed that philosophy have been and are members of the Union League club of Chicago."

"Thank you, sir," said Vinson.

Rep. Church [R., Ill.] said he disagreed with Resa and the latter responded: "I don't see how you can. I am speaking of my friends and what they said to me. You were not there."

Expunges Remarks

"Generally speaking," remarked Church, "ninety-nine per cent of that membership will be men who worked their way up from the start and became successful, men working in and running their own small businesses."

Vinson then said that he did not wish to indict all members of Union League clubs.

Members of congress are permitted to delete from congressional records any portions of testimony in which their own name appears. Resa cut out the entire colloquoy.

Other Chicago congressmen wondered if Resa, the next time he saw his Union League club friends, would be greeted with the ditty:

"Is you is or is you ain't our baby?"

LA SALLE ST. FIRE CAUSES $500 LOSS

Smoke from a fire on the third floor yesterday filled the corridors and elevator shafts of the office building at 221 N. La Salle st. The fire started in a storeroom of the Plastics Industries Technical institute and caused damage estimated by Marshal James Gibbons of the 1st division at $500.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Dec. 28—Iowa Made a State

ON Dec. 28, 1846, President Polk signed the bill which admitted to the Union a state of which it can justly be said that the other 47 would be the poorer for its absence.

The smiling commonwealth of Iowa, which has a larger proportion of land under cultivation than any other state and which annually sends to less richly endowed parts of the country great quantities of corn, oats, pork, and other products, became a state after a confused early history in which France, Spain, the United States, and various regional governments exercised jurisdiction over its territory.

What is now Iowa was part of the vast midland area claimed by France as a result of her 17th century explorations. The territory was ceded to Spain in 1762, retroceded to France in 1800, and sold to the United States in 1803.

Once under the American flag, Iowa became a part of the Louisiana district and was attached for a time to Indiana territory. Later it passed to the control of Missouri, Michigan, and Wisconsin territories in succession. Iowa territory was established in 1838.

Curiously, the pastoral state whose very name conjures up pictures of ripening fields and serene white farmhouses, attracted its first permanent white settler because of its mineral rather than its agricultural potentialities.

In 1788 Julien Dubuque, a French trader, received permission from Fox Indian chiefs to work the lead mines near the future site of the city named for him.

STATE STREET SHOPS TO CLOSE FOR THREE DAYS

Thousands of employes of State st. stores will enjoy a three day year-end holiday, Willard W. Cole, president of the State Street council, announced yesterday, "permitting a period of relaxation after the rush of the extended Christmas shopping season." Stores will close Sunday, all day Monday, Dec. 31, and New Year's day, Jan. 1. They will open again Wednesday, Jan. 2, for the regular shopping hours of 9:45 a. m. to 5:45 p. m., Cole announced.

Vet Held for False Fire Alarms Gets Probation

William Bourne, 26, of 4235 Le Moyne st., a war veteran who was wounded in the Pacific, was placed on probation for six months yesterday by Judge Michael Tremko in Shakespeare av. court on a charge of disorderly conduct for turning in several false fire alarms.

TOURIST FINDS NASSAU A REAL WINTER HAVEN

BY GAIL COMPTON
[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

NASSAU, Bahamas, Dec. 27—The end of travel restrictions is sending thousands of American tourists flocking to the winter resorts of other nations which are close at hand.

Nassau and Havana, Cuba, are welcoming their old pre-war tourists and large numbers of newcomers, spilling over from crowded Florida. Boat service to these islands still is in the reconversion stage and most of the travel is by air.

In Nassau the winter visitor finds peace and quiet and the chance for a real vacation. There are no garish night clubs or taverns to tarnish the island's beauty and tourists spend their time fishing, boating, swimming, and playing tennis. Paradise beach, world famous for its beauty, is attracting large crowds.

Hotels Slower to Reopen

Hotels here have been slower than those in Florida to recover from the effects of housing thousands of servicemen. The island now is able to accommodate a maximum of 1,100 visitors at once. One large hotel will not open and another is functioning only partially.

Pan American Airways planes have doubled their hour and 30 minute flights to Nassau from Miami in the last month and now schedule four trips each day. The planes carry a full load of 21 passengers almost every trip.

Nassau stores were cleaned out by departing servicemen and new stocks have not been received. Shipments of British woolens and French perfumes are expected after Jan. 1. Visitors can find some good tweeds for $2 a yard, doeskin for $10 a yard, and a little gabardine for $10 to $13.50 a yard. Perfume stocks are almost completely depleted. Scotch whisky is plentiful at $3.20 a fifth.

Apartments All Rented

The round trip flight costs $41.40, including tax. There is a British landing tax of $1.20, paid at the island. Hotel rooms can be had from $3 a day up. Apartments and beach homes all are rented for the season and hotels are fairly well sold out.

Travel to Cuba is growing rapidly and Pan American Airways expects to carry more than 1,000 passengers to and from the island each day during the holidays. Fifty-six daily flights have been scheduled to handle holiday traffic.

Key West, Fla., once a favorite stop for many tourists, still is on a war time basis and the trip there cannot be recommended. The naval base there still is crowded with sailors and marines and the town remains a honky-tonk jammed with cheap taverns. Hotels are in poor shape and most of them swarm with insects. The automobile drive over the keys still is a magnificent adventure, but the tourist is advised to turn around and go back to Miami after reaching Key West.

GEAR WORKERS DEFY CIO AND GO BACK TO WORK

As disorderly conduct charges against 42 CIO pickets, arrested for interfering with employes who wanted to return to work in two struck plants, were continued to Jan. 25 by Judge Jay A. Schiller in South State Street court yesterday, a third plant struck by the same union, local 1114 of the United Electrical Radio and Machine Workers union [CIO], reopened and 39 of 107 strikers returned to work in defiance of the CIO union.

The CIO members were arrested last Friday and Wednesday at the D. O. James Manufacturing company, 1140 Monroe st., and the Illinois Gear and Machine company, 2108 N. Natchez av., which were struck by the CIO local Nov. 19.

Conference is Held

At a meeting with Mayor Kelly, Police Commissioner Allman and Capt. George Barnes, CIO leaders yesterday agreed to conduct orderly picket lines and police agreed to reduce police details at the struck plants.

The plant which reopened yesterday was the Merkle-Korff Gear company, 213 N. Morgan st., at which a strike was called by local 1114 Nov. 21.

Norman Korff, a partner in the firm, asserted that after a strike vote taken Dec. 14 by the national labor relations board it was apparent that not all the employes wished to remain on strike. The vote was 53 to 46 for a strike, he said.

"Pressure" Is Cited

"It was apparent from this," Korff said, "that many of our employes did not want a strike. We also had received letters and telephone calls from employes who said they wanted to return to work, but 'had been pressured' by the union into remaining away."

The meeting of Allman and the CIO leaders, in Allman's office, was arranged by Mayor Kelly.

Joint Statement Made

In a joint statement after the meeting, Mayor Kelly and Allman said: "The police will continue to enforce the laws impartially." It was learned that they agreed to reduce police details at the struck plants if the pickets are orderly, and that if pickets are arrested they would be released on their own recognizance provided the union guaranteed their appearance in court.

The union charges the strikes were caused by the companies' refusal to raise wages as directed in an NLRB decision.

The Illinois Gear company filed an injunction suit in Circuit court yesterday seeking to restrain the union from mass picketing and violence.

COURT UPHOLDS CONVICTION OF KUM BUM PRIEST

The conviction of Hugh Greer Carruthers, 56, self-styled high priest of the Kum Bum lamasery in northeast Tibet, business genius, and spiritual "doctor," on a charge of mail fraud, was upheld yesterday in a unanimous opinion by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Hugh Greer Carruthers

Carruthers, who was sentenced last March 9 to a five year prison term by Judge Philip L. Sullivan in federal District court, had based his appeal on the assertion that his organization, the Neological Foundation, was based on religion alone and therefore he was entitled to the immunity provided by the Constitution.

The Appeals court, in an opinion written by Judge Charles G. Briggle and concurred in by Judges Evan A. Evans and William M. Sparks, held that Carruthers was primarily interested in his followers' money rather than their souls.

PEACHES PLANS RENO DIVORCE FROM 3D MATE

Reno, Nev., Dec. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Frances [Peaches] Browning Civelli said here today she expects to get a divorce from Joseph Civelli, San Francisco business man, on or soon after Feb. 1 following four years of marriage.

Mrs. Civelli

Her attorney, George E. Springmeyer, said grounds in the divorce suit will be mental cruelty and that a property settlement had been made.

Mrs. Civelli, who received wide publicity when she married her first husband, Edward W. [Daddy] Browning, an elderly millionaire, has been thrice married. Her second husband was Bernard Hynes, Denver, Colo., theater man.

THOUSAND AWAIT SINGAPORE WAR CRIMES TRIALS

SINGAPORE, Dec. 27 [Reuters]—Several Japanese generals, including Maj. Gen. Animura, formerly responsible for allied prisoners of war in Malaya, are listed among 1,101 persons whose trials on charges of war crimes will open here next month, the services paper "SEAC" reported today. It was expected that four courts would sit simultaneously, empowered to pronounce death sentences by hanging or shooting. In addition, more than 150 Chinese, Malays, Indians, and Eurasians are awaiting trial for treason, torture and other charges.

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 27 (AP)—County officers conducted a fruitless search thruout Oakland county today for two men who broke out of the county jail at Sandusky, Mich., yesterday and abducted Postmaster Horace Parrish and a woman clerk in making their escape.

Sheriff Roland L. Meredith of Sanilac county identified the fugitives as J. C. Vyse and Charles Townsend, each 25, of Pontiac, awaiting sentence on robbery armed charges in the recent holdup of the general store and postoffice at Tyre, Sanilac county.

Parrish and Miss Helen E. Shillinger, 25, were brought in Parrish's car to a tourists' lodge near here and left bound and gagged.

Parrish freed himself and Miss Shillinger after a 15 minute struggle with the strips of bed sheeting with which they were bound.

3,000 IN STORE UNION QUIT CIO; JOIN AFL RANKS

Charge Local Failed to Receive Aid

BY GEORGE HARTMANN

The executive board of local 291 of the United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Employes' union [CIO] announced last night that the local, which has nearly 3,000 members in loop and outlying department stores, had withdrawn from the CIO international union and joined the Building Service Employes' International union of the American Federation of Labor.

S. F. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the local, said that petitions were being circulated among the members to support the switch to the AFL. He said that more than 90 per cent of the members had already approved the action.

CIO Suspends Officials

Included in membership of the local union are employes of the Boston Store, The Fair, Marshall Field & Co. warehouses, Carson Pirie Scott & Co.'s alteration room, and the South Center Department store.

Immediately after the board's action became known, Francis Heisler, attorney for the CIO union, notified Samuel Wolchok of New York, international president of the CIO union, who ordered the suspension of the 11 local officials. He ordered Heisler to take over the books and records of the union. Wolchok also designated Alvin Heaps, business manager of local 15 of the URWDSEU, as administrator of the local for the CIO international.

Refuses to Give Up Office

Heisler, Heaps, and Claude Cox, an international representative of the CIO union, went to the union offices at 7 W. Madison st. last night and notified Sullivan and the officers of Wolchok's action. Sullivan, who said he had been advised by Daniel D. Carmell, attorney for the AFL union, to abide by the CIO union's constitution, turned over the books and records of the union to Heaps, but refused to turn over the union offices. He said the lease had been changed over to the new AFL local.

Heisler contended that the switch to AFL affiliation was illegal, and stated that he would go into court today to seek the removal of the union from its headquarters.

Charges Broken Promises

Sullivan explained that William L. McFetridge, president of the BSEIU, already has issued a charter to the new union. It will keep the same officers. Sullivan charged that the local had seceded from the CIO because the CIO union had failed to keep its promise to supply money and organizers during the last five years, with which the local "could have organized a potential membership of 35,000 workers in the loop."

He said the local union had "not received value for approximately $40,000 paid to the CIO union in per capita taxes during the last five years."

"Beginning right after the New Year," Sullivan said, "local 291, which is now affiliated with the AFL, will begin an intensive drive for membership on State st. We have been promised by McFetridge that we will get the full support of the BSEIU to do the job," he said.

HEIFETZ SEEKS DIVORCE FROM FLORENCE VIDOR

Santa Ana, Cal., Dec. 27 (AP)—Discord in the marital life of Jascha Heifetz and Florence Vidor was climaxed today when the famed violinist filed a divorce suit, charging extreme cruelty, against the erstwhile film actress.

Florence Heifetz

They were married in 1929.

Heifetz requested that custody of their children, Josepha, 15, and Robert, 13, go to Mrs. Heifetz, but that he be given visitation privileges. A property settlement is to be submitted at the divorce hearing.

YANK SHRANK TO 55 POUNDS FROM 170, COURT TOLD

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Dec. 28 [Friday]—(AP)—American Marine Corp. James G. Pavlokos shrank from 170 to only 55 pounds before he died of starvation in a Japanese prison camp guardhouse, said affidavits introduced today into the war crimes trial of Lt. Kei Yuri. Yuri, on trial before a United States military commission, is charged with responsibility for Pavlokos' death by torture and starvation and with having ordered guards to beat Pvt. Noah C. Heard before he was bayoneted to death May 31, 1944. Yuri formerly commanded Omuta camp on Kyushu.

JUDGE PREPARES BILL FOR DEATH OF ALIMONY ROW

Judge Rudolph Desort of Superior court, who has heard thousands of divorce cases during his 15 years on the bench, disclosed yesterday that he is preparing a bill to abolish contempt jail sentences for alimony arrearage, which he will submit at the next session of the state legislature.

Judge Desort, who has sponsored several laws dealing with marriage and divorce reforms, assailed the present contempt law as an "atavistic legal appendage of old English law extending from the debtors' prison."

Likened to Dark Days

Under the jurist's proposed bill alimony arrearages would be reduced to judgments, as are any other debts, and collection of them would become a civil matter, thru garnishments, levying on property, and other established methods.

"Technically," the judge asserted, "a man is sent to alimony row for violating a court order to pay his wife alimony. Actually he is sent to jail for debt, exactly as debtors were in the dark days of old English law.

"Illinois is one of the few states in the union where this archaic and inhumane law still prevails and it is time for remedial action to be taken."

Frequently, Judge Desort pointed out, a man is sent to alimony row not only because he happened to be delinquent in support payments, but because his wife is motivated by revenge or spite.

Wife Fails to Benefit

"Surely the wife cannot benefit by throwing her husband, or divorced husband, into jail," the judge said, "since his earning power ceases the instant he is behind bars. Yet, under the law, he must theoretically stay there until he pays up."

Often, Judge Desort continued, the man is not guilty of contempt, but simply is unable to pay. "But it makes no difference" the judge pointed out. "Off to jail he goes—to become a public expense and a useless member of society as long as he is there.

"Again, a man may be jailed for failure to pay his wife's attorney's fees. If that isn't being imprisoned for debt, I'd like to know what is."

COMMITTEE OF 15 LAUDS LYLE FOR BATTLE ON VICE

The Committee of Fifteen, for more than a generation noted for its fight on organized vice, yesterday threw its forces in with those of former Municipal Judge John H. Lyle in the battle to clean up Englewood taverns along 63d st. between Wentworth av. and Halsted st.

"We know that prostitution goes hand in hand with crime," wrote H. H. Haylett, the committee's executive director, to Lyle. "We are sure that your many years of service to the public as judge and legislator has led you to the same conclusion.

"The recent wave of sex crimes, rapings, and murders of the most brutal character should awaken our citizens. I congratulate you on your fearless and courageous leadership."

Lyle has invited 765 Englewood residents, dozens of whom responded, to his home at 6517 Stewart av., at 8 o'clock tonight. He promised to read them a report of killings, shootings, stabbings, rapes, and prostitution in the 36 taverns in question. The report will astonish them, he said.

MOVING ORDER SNARLS NERVES OF THREAD MEN

No Place to Keep Our Buttons, They Say

The thought of about 40-odd manufacturers' representatives sitting on the curbing of Franklin st. with millions of pearl buttons and hundreds of millions of yards of thread piled around them with no place to store their wares disturbed tenants of the Fabrics building, 323 S. Franklin st., yesterday.

Fifty-one of 60 tenants have received 30 day notices to move and the nine others, all of whom have from two to four year leases, have been invited to move because, said the new owner, Benedict K. Goodman, proposed alterations may inconvenience them.

Agreement with State

Goodman, who has offices at 1 N. La Salle st., acquired the building recently in a court sale for $100,000, subject to a $262,500 mortgage. He and George B. McKibbin, director of the Illinois post-war planning commission, said Goodman has a verbal agreement with the state to remodel the building and sell it to the state at cost, without profit.

Jack Troy, owner of the Chicago Pearl Button company, a tenant with 2,000 square feet of space asked, "Where can I move in 30 days with 200,000 gross of buttons? I'm lost."

Isadore Gordon of the Gordon Thread company said his stock includes 2,500 combs of thread containing from 6,000 to 12,000 yards each.

No Place to Go

"For years I signed the building lease and never read it," grumbled Theodore Mayer, a linen wholesaler, "Then last year they slipped in clause number 9—which says in 30 days I can be put out. Now the clause is in effect. I have contacted 28 real estate agents. There is no place to go."

Edward P. Saltiel, former state representative, who is attorney for the tenants committee, told the tenants at a meeting yesterday that their building services may be reduced to conform to the letter of the lease.

Loss Would Be Serious

A. B. Mertz, managing director of the Chicago Wholesale District council, said the loss of the building to the wholesale garment district would be serious because the agents are needed in that area.

David Saltiel, brother of the attorney, has public accountant offices on the 11th floor of the building. He is worried because the income tax period is near. It comprises much of his work. If services are reduced, the elevators will stop running at 6 p. m. and when he works late he and his customers will have to climb 11 floors.

Four Arrested by Police in Attempted Rape Case

Four young men were booked by Cragin police last night in connection with the alleged attempted rape of a 17 year old girl at Addison st. and Central av. Wednesday night. Joseph Borsellino, 18, of 1620 S. Central Park ave., was charged with attempted rape; Leonard Dicker, 19, of 3548 Van Buren st. and Julius Gilman, 18 of 3508 12th pl., were charged with being accessories, and Pvt. George La Flame, 19 of 5439 S. Talman av., was charged with disorderly conduct.

FRANCO AND SOME OTHERS

Our government has accepted the invitation of the French to discuss with them and the British the fate of Dictator Franco. The belief is that the three powers will decide to withdraw recognition from Franco's government in the expectation that he will thus be forced out of office.

Franco rose to power with the help of Mussolini and Hitler and returned the favor by his more than friendly neutrality toward the axis during the war, at least as long as Hitler was winning. German agents were active and enjoyed a protected position in Spain thruout most of the war. Franco went so far as to send soldiers to fight for Hitler. His regime has been dictatorial. All this can be said against him.

On this showing, however, it is difficult to see why we should withdraw recognition from Franco and not, at the same time, withdraw recognition from Stalin. He, too, sided with Hitler and Mussolini, and he did so at a much more damaging moment. It was Stalin's alliance with Hitler, not Franco's, which precipitated the war. Without the Russian alliance Hitler almost certainly would not have risked war.

Moreover, Stalin remained on good terms with the Japanese until a few hours before they surrendered. Except for the fishing rights in Russian waters, which Stalin gave them, the Japs might have been forced to surrender much sooner than they did. A close parallel to Franco's Blue Legion that fought for Hitler is found in the Chinese communist army which fought against our Chinese allies in the Japanese war. Stalin didn't even try to call his boys off.

If the objection to Franco is that he is a dictator who denies civil rights to his people, the same objection can be made to Stalin.

A case may be made, perhaps, for getting rid of Franco on the theory that Latin America looks to Spain for leadership and it is not well that our neighbors take a dictatorship as their model. Here, too, the same case can be made against Stalin. His agents have been stirring up trouble for us in Latin America for many years. They have succeeded in persuading many thousands of our good neighbors to look to Russia for political and economic ideas. Franco's influence in Latin America has undoubtedly suffered from the fact that he backed the wrong horse. Stalin's is growing.

These comparisons are recited, not to prove that we ought to take steps to reform the Russian government but to emphasize the appalling inconsistency in the state department's policies. The department hasn't got any principles, and for lack of them is destroying whatever reputation for good sense and good will our government still retains.

Where does the meddling cease?

If we can't tolerate Franco because his government isn't the freely chosen government of his country, why have we recognized Tito in Yugoslavia whose election was not free? Why are we on the point of recognizing Bulgarian and Romanian governments which are equally unrepresentative? The only principle discernible here is that we meddle with the governments of weak nations, without powerful friends, nations which, because they are weak and friendless can do us no harm.

All these absurdities and inconsistencies were avoidable. The only sound principle to have followed was the traditional one of regarding the form of government of other nations as their business, not ours. That would leave the Russians and the Spaniards to stew in their respective juices. If a text to justify this course is required, it can be found embalmed in the Atlantic Charter.

"ROCKING THE BOAT"

A month ago Robert W. Young, a technician 5th grade and editor of the Homeward Herald, a mimeographed army newspaper published at the 28th replacement depot on Leyte, prepared a critical article on redeployment. His story stated that seven ships were being reconditioned at Leyte to repatriate surrendered Japanese soldiers, while only one was being refitted to return American soldiers to this country.

Officers ordered Young not to print his article. They did not challenge the accuracy of his facts. He was, indeed, a trained newspaper man, having been editor and publisher of the Leader in Laverne, Cal., before entering the army. Young withheld the article which encountered the objections of his superiors, but it shortly was circulated as a handbill among the men at the replacement depot. Young says some one took the copy from his desk and printed it anonymously.

This explanation did not satisfy Col. Robert O. Wright, commanding officer of the depot. He broke Young to private, removed him as editor of the army paper, and put him on the garbage detail. Wright was quoted as saying that he deemed it a "personal affront for any one to take it upon himself to inflame members of the army. I can't let people stand up and rock the boat."

Lt. Gen. W. D. Styer ordered an investigation after Young appealed to the inspector general. As a result Young has been restored to his former rank, but is prohibited from engaging in further editorial work. Something less than justice has been done.

Young should be restored to his job as editor. Further than that, Col. Wright should be court martialed and dishonorably discharged. The army has done a great many evil things during the war, few of which have come to light. The most that can be expected is that such flagrant abuses as are disclosed should be dealt with as they deserve. It would be salutary to make a start with this case.

WHAT DO THE GERMANS EXPECT?

Reuters, the British news agency, reports that a survey taken by American occupation authorities in Germany indicates extreme dissatisfaction and unrest among Germans in the American zone of occupation. These Germans, according to Reuters, look enviously upon their fellows in the British zone of occupation, feeling that British administration is orderly, systematic, and just in comparison with American.

Among the complaints against American administration which are said to be common are that "there is no justice"; that Americans promised much but brought disorder; that German property rights are not regarded; that the policy of confiscating weapons deprives Germans of the possibility of augmenting food supplies by hunting; that Germans disappear without being given court hearings; that military government law has banned many able men because of former Nazi party affiliations; and that military government officers run their jurisdictions "like little kingdoms" and are snarled up in red tape.

The indictment is not without a certain familiarity to the people of America, who have been exposed to New Deal administration for 12 years. If the New Deal can't give the United States good government how can Germans expect it to give Germany good government?

The occupation rule of Germany is being conducted on the principles laid down by New Dealers Roosevelt, Truman, Morgenthau, Pauley, and the rest. The bright young men of the military government were recruited from the bright young men of the New Deal burocracy. There is scarcely a complaint which Germans make against the New Deal occupation rule which Americans have not made against the New Deal in their own country.

We need look no farther than the OPA or a dozen other administrative agencies to discover the paralysis of red tape. We need not gaze beyond the burocracy in Washington to find the nation compartmentalized and run like a series of "little kingdoms" by an equal number of self-anointed little kings. We find arrogance and inefficiency thruout the New Deal, as Germans find it thruout the occupation. When Germans complain of extra-legal processes and unconstitutional seizures Americans can think back to the illegal methods of the Black committee at the beginning of the New Deal. The child is known by its parent. Germans are beginning to find out what Americans have found out. If they think they are persecuted they ought to come over here.

CHICAGO—A MOBLESS CITY

Chicago is today the only metropolis in the United States that isn't at the mercy of mobs. Mayor Kelly told a delegation from a communist led CIO union that mobs will not be allowed to operate in Chicago in the guise of pickets as they do in New York and Detroit and in most other large cities.

The CIO union whose members visited the mayor had nothing to complain about. It was engaged in lawless conduct, the lawbreakers were arrested, and the union was told that Chicago is going to have law and order and that the police will preserve it.

The union was asserting as a right something that is not a right, but is in fact a violation of the law. Unions have a right to strike. They have a right to picket. The Supreme court in upholding the latter right has said what picketing is. The court held it to be a form of free speech guaranteed by the Constitution. It is the union's privilege to station pickets at a struck plant in order to notify the public and fellow workers that a strike is in progress.

The privilege ends there. There is no right to prevent any one who chooses to do so from entering the plant. A union that attempts to blockade a plant by violence or threats of violence, threats which may consist of no more than the presence of a mob of pickets, is not exercising any lawful right. It is breaking the law.

The CIO delegation complained to the mayor that the police were escorting strikebreakers into the gear plant, which was being picketed. The management of the plant denies that it hired any strikebreakers and says that those who were entering were regular employes who did not choose to strike. The question of strikebreakers is irrelevant. There is no law forbidding an employer to hire workers to take the place of those who are on strike. There is no law forbidding an employe to cross a picket line and go to his job. There is a law forbidding any one to interfere with him. The police were enforcing that law.

Mayor Kelly and Commissioner Allman were fortunate several years ago in their choice of Capt. George Barnes to lead the police labor detail. His impartiality and good judgment have done much to keep Chicago free of labor disturbance. He has been just as vigilant to prevent employers infringing the lawful rights of pickets as he has been to prevent pickets infringing the rights of employers or other employes. He deserves the firm backing which he got from the mayor.

What Capt. Barnes has been doing in Chicago can be done by the police of any other large city if public officials have the courage to back the police. It can also be done in suburban Cook county by Sheriff Mulcahy, who has been guilty of derelictions of duty in permitting picket mobs to usurp the function of traffic direction and to block entrances of struck plants.

Chicago's record may be a matter for local congratulation, but its unique character is cause for national alarm. The country cannot remain free if mobs are permitted to riot and defy the law, no matter what excuse they give for their action. If Chicago's example is followed by other cities, much of the demand for repressive legislation directed against unions will disappear.

Test Your Horse Sense

By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers below.

1. A flying buttress should make one think of Wrestling, Music, Air hostess, Architecture
2. If a person dies intestate it means he has Intestinal obstruction, Been murdered, Left no will, Died a bachelor
3. If guests came to spend a fortnight with you, their visit would last 4 days, 10 days, 14 days, 24 days
4. The word "petrel" should make one think of Motor fuel, Fish, Tree, Bird
5. The length of time for all the blood to pass thru the heart is approximately 1 minute, 5 minutes, 11 minutes, 28 minutes
6. In the left hand column below are listed five men who are famous in different realms of human endeavor. In the right hand column are five women who are similarly illustrious in those same five fields. Try to match the couples who belong in the same field. You deserve one point for each correct judgment.

[a] Roy Howard	[v] Elizabeth Barrett Browning
[b] Carl Sandburg	[w] Jessie Sumner
[c] Charles A. Lindbergh	[x] Shirley Temple
[d] Robert A. Taft	[y] Eleanor Patterson
[e] Clark Gable	[z] Amelia Earhart

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

BORN ON CHRISTMAS

A spry young fellow whose desk is within barking distance of this column's came down with his first attack of grandfatherhood on Christmas day, and the naming of the child is still in the family conference stage, which is always marked by vigorous rejections of happy ideas from the relatives. This crisis gives us a chance to pipe up as a consulting baby-namer, a profession which has not yet come to honorable recognition among the American tribes.

* * *

Since the child in question is a girl, the first choice among appropriate names is Natalie or Natalia, which clearly indicate a Christmas birthday [dies natalis in Latin]. If it were a boy, it could be named Noel, of the same derivation, altho nobody but a French etymologist can see the relationship. However, in our entire career as a baby-namer we have never blighted the career of an American boy with Noel, because there would be no chance of his turning into a fashionable English actor. Even the French shy away from Noel at the baptismal font, altho the word is their favorite Christmas outcry.

* * *

Exotic variants of Natalie may be found in the Russian language, which offers Natascha, Nataschenka, and Natalija. We recommend that these be used only if the mother is a ballet dancer who hopes that her offspring will become a second Pavlowa. The Letts and Lithuanians have a name for a Christmas child, male or female, which we will mention with a shudder, because it is completely unusable in English: Naste.

* * *

Carol is occasionally bestowed upon Christmas girls, and it happens to be favored by Hollywood without reference to a birthday. As a matter of fact, it is short for Caroline. There is a small field of more frivolous names, suggesting the Christmas atmosphere: Holly, Merry, Belle, Star. They have no standing in the literature of the subject, and we leave them for those who like such unorthodox trifles.

* * *

Admirable names for girls may be found in the group that is based on Christianity. Christine or Christina have beauty of sound as well as meaning, and the rarely used Christabel is famous in English poetry. For boys, Christopher is excellent.

STOP THAT CROONING!

Thanks a lot for your wishes, but look, Brother Bing,
It strikes me that you're overdoing this thing;
For not only are all of my Christmases white,
But my Sundays and Mondays (and, doubtless, Twelfth Night),
My Wednesdays, and Thursdays, and Fridays, and Sats.,
And continuous blizzards are driving me bats.
This "White Christmas" crooning is running amuck.
It is time, and to spare, to change color for luck.
I propose me a toast, if you know what I mean:
May all of my Christmases henceforth be green!

In the sanctuary of his ivory tower, Mr. Pepys sits quietly among his books, and pipes, and wastepaper. Suddenly, as he reaches for his scrutinizing glass, a little army of sprites appears, filling the room magically and getting into everything in their eagerness and curiosity. Some are full of play and others are grave. They bring offerings of books, scrolls, animals, hobbyhorses—warranted, they think, to be in Mr. Pepys' Line.

Here's Quizzicuss with a zoo; C. O. R. on a horse; Hig alone with a Lifebook; the Dean staggering under a new anthology; the Duke vigorously kicking Art; a delegation from the Chewsday club carrying their mascot on a litter, and many more. . . . Mr. Pepys is kind and tolerant to all, but some, it would appear, get in his hair. Presently, when the candle is snuffed, the little army will disappear as quickly as they came, and no vestige will remain. But in the morning the things they did and said will be written on a page for all to see. Shandy Gaff

THE WANDERING WAITER

It's a deep and dark-eyed puzzle—perhaps I'm not alert—
But where do waiters vanish after bringing my dessert?
They park beside my elbow as a once clean tablecloth
Betrays my inept juggling of a bowl of chicken broth;
They hover omnipresent with eyes like radar 'scopes
As I'm waxing confidential with the lady of my hopes;
But when I've dunked my fingers and the clock says half past one,
As state and nation fidget for my luncheon to be done;
I tarry for an hour, just a wan, neglected wreck,
Waiting for the waiter who has wandered with my check!

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks will answer questions of service men, veterans, and their dependents by mail if a stamped envelope is sent to 435 N. Michigan av. The Tribune's veterans' bureau, 1 S. Dearborn st., Superior 0200, gives personal interviews.]

Mrs. R. P. J. asks: "May an enlisted man who served for a year and who has reënlisted in the regular army for a year purchase his release? What is the regulation covering release by purchase? After enlisting in the regular army the enlisted man was told by his draft board that the selective service law no longer protects his job. Inasmuch as he enlisted believing he retained all rights granted to him when he was drafted, what can he do to guarantee his job when he has completed the second year? If the man's job is not protected while he is serving in the regular army, can he revert to his former status in the army of the United States?"

The privilege of purchasing release from the regular army has been suspended for the duration of the war and six months. "Duration" of the war will be the day on which congress or the President declares the war at end. This can be any time in the next year or two. The selective service law provides that any one who served subsequent to May 1, 1940, must be reinstated by his employer. There is no limit on how long he may serve and still retain his right to his former job. Therefore, as the law now stands and under the interpretation of the director of selective service, the enlisted man still is entitled to his job after completion of his year of voluntary service in the regular army. This interpretation probably will be challenged by employers, especially in the case of men who enlist in the regular army for three years. A man who has been discharged from A. U. S. to enlist in the regular army may not revert to his former status.

INVISIBLE LENSES

PERFECT sight is a wonderful asset and is seldom appreciated unless lost. It is indeed fortunate to have the ability to visualize objects in the distance and to distinguish fine detail close by.

Glasses are necessary when this is not possible.

Occasionally spectacles will not supply the answer. This is true in certain disturbances of the transparent layer covering the front portion of the eye [the cornea]. The structure may be uneven, leading to a peculiar astigmatism. Frequently it protrudes in an unusual fashion or is cone-shaped instead of following the lines of a globe. Many defects of this type have been present since birth but now and then are acquired as a result of injuries or burns. Such irregularities may also appear after a cataract operation.

Nearsightedness may be so marked as to require lenses which are too thick to be of practical value. This is often a definite handicap in business. Then, too, actors and other professionals may be unable to employ glasses. There are a few who dislike "specs" because they find that the edges limit their field of vision or the nose is left marked by the bridge.

These problems are sometimes solved by utilizing contact lenses. This optical device—made of glass or transparent plastic material—is introduced directly over the eye and acts more or less as a second cornea. In the past, fittings were somewhat hit-or-miss. The ophthalmologist carried a large collection of stock, possessing many variations in curvature from which he selected a suitable lens. Now they are made to order from a mold and can be fitted only by an expert.

First the part is anesthetized and a creamy substance, called "moldite," is poured directly over the eyeball. Within a few minutes it hardens and is dislodged by suction. A cast is then created from which the lens, with its correction, is developed. Ordinarily, it is returned in a semi-finished condition for additional grinding. It is obvious that these processes require skill and considerable scientific knowledge. Before insertion they are filled with a saline solution which not only adds to the refraction but helps to reduce irritation.

To date the use of these contrivances is rather limited and many find learning to wear them annoying. In a few, they simulate the formation of tears and painful spasms of near-by muscles. Those who are accustomed to their use may be able to keep them on for as long as 12 to 16 hours a day, but the majority of ophthalmologists advise removal for about an hour at noon.

The chief advantage is that fogging seldom occurs and they are invisible. They are almost impossible to break while in place and are extremely difficult to knock off. It has been said that a soldier, who fell from a dirigible that was shot down, was found on the ground with the lenses intact. They can be worn while playing football or in swimming but in dusty occupations dirt is capable of finding its way into the inner surface and causing congestion.

Nostalgia

I know of a girl with a dreadful obsession:
She longs for the days of the good old depression,
When Pullmans and food could be had for the asking,
And all that resorts asked were money and basking;
When dinner was served by a competent maid
Who was glad for the 10 dollar wage she was paid;
When laundry came back, and came back in three days,
And new cars were urged on you various ways;
When the box office always had seats—ah, a myriad Blessings she sees in that much-maligned period.

Tokyo Rose's Backyard

[Notes from Pvt. Ken Hughes:]

Today we are in quaint Osaka, a suburb not far from Tokyo Rose's backyard. The electric trains and trams, all of which are free to the GIs, are surprisingly good. The Japanese pack into these conveyances like they were the last trains from Berlin. To be crushed in the New York or Chicago elevated and subway trains is heaven compared to the elbow pushing and shoulder wiggling of the Japanese. More than once some of us have landed on our faces when passengers start out or rush in. We are giants compared to these tiny people, but they triumph. Yet no one considers it rude. Every one expects it and gets in a line and when it is time for action goes into the fray with a zest that would disgrace any shoving back home.

On our trip it was odd to see the railroads untouched while on either side buildings, homes, and shrines are demolished. Ruins and rubble, stone, steel, and twisted frames.

One Japanese woman who lived thru the atomic blast at Hiroshima explained that the experience was strange. Its effects were unbelievable. The people saw a single plane in the sky, and then a parachute dropped. All the buildings collapsed like cardboard models. Not until a half hour later did the fires start which were responsible for the deaths of most of the inhabitants of the area. There was no explosion. Just a gust of wind, silent, quick, and destructive, and it crushed everything before it.

Altho Osaka is badly damaged, the center of the city is in good condition. People are everywhere like bees coming from a hive. They eat sweet potatoes and dried fish, which are plentiful. But this also contributes to quite a smell in the crowded trains and subways. More than one GI will never look a sardine in the eye when he gets out of Japan.

Most of us, especially those whose hair is thinning or gone, look with admiration upon the thick, lustrous hair of the Japanese men. Some shave their heads. They are shy or silent—altho so courteous and amiable toward us that we feel like tourists—and there is a noticeable lack of loudness everywhere. All their food, by the way, is off limits to us, not only because it is scarce, but because we would probably get ptomaine if we tried it.

WASTING TROOP TRAINS

North Chicago, Ill., Dec. 22—In connection with efforts being made to get service men back home as early as possible, it should be feasible to release all thru equipment destined for Great Lakes or Fort Sheridan at the outer yards in Chicago, and handle the men in shuttle coach service from Chicago to the above points. As it is now, it takes anywhere from 8 to 24 hours from the time the occupied train reaches the inbound yard at Chicago until the empty equipment is delivered back to the line handling it into Chicago. If the equipment were emptied immediately upon arrival at Chicago it could be started back deadhead to the coast at once. Figuring an 80 hour run from the west coast, you can see what percentage of the available car days are wasted right here in Chicago, thru no fault of the railroads, inasmuch as all this is handled thru the government authorities at Washington.

Okinawa, Dec. 9—My outfit was transferred from the 5th air force to the 7th air force, ostensibly to speed up our redeployment to the promised land. The 7th put a considerable number of low point men with us and took the average point score, which they assigned to the whole outfit. Individual scores range from 60 to 78 points. In other words, high point men who should get first priority on shipping under the point system are being held back. By what authority can the 7th air force manipulate the point system?

Our average point score is 72 and we have been waiting for a boat since Oct. 1. The inspector general and air inspector promised us we would be home for Christmas, but nobody even now has the least idea when we will get a boat.

"FLIGHT" PAY

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Dec. 14—A C-47 circles lazily over Chicago's lake front and then swings out over the city itself. Is this aircraft on an important military mission? Hardly. As we take a closer look inside the plane, we find about 20 occupants, all air force officers. Some are pilots, some navigators, and some are bombardiers. All are "armchair hotrocks," stationed at Fort Sheridan on purely administrative, or clerical duties. They will probably never again be on regular flying duty the remainder of their time in the army.

However, they each fly four whole hours each month and collect that 50 per cent flight pay, which runs into plenty of cabbage for 20 officers ranging in rank from second lieutenant to captain. Enlisted air crew members now stationed at Fort Sheridan are not accorded this privilege. Seeing that this same situation is in existence all over the country, one can easily imagine the huge expense incurred. We enlisted men do not wish to pay taxes the rest of our lives for the fat pay envelopes of our "superiors" now. These officers can be taken off flying status only by order of the war department.

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 20—My son has just arrived from overseas via California and, needless to say, we are very happy to have him home. He waited for a train reservation in California for five days, then telephoned me for money, as the only train he could get would cost him $125. Of course I sent him the money, but when he arrived and told me that he was one of four service men on this entire train I was shocked.

REMARRIAGE

Chicago, Dec. 12—In 1932 I made a will in favor of my daughter. I was a widow at the time and my legal residence was Nebraska.

In 1933 I remarried, and Illinois has since been my legal voting residence. During these years I have assumed that my will was valid. However, I have read some legal advice in your good paper that leads me to believe that according to the laws of Illinois, my husband would share in my estate regardless of the will.

I will appreciate it if you will enlighten me. F. C. L.

Under Illinois law, marriage revokes a prior will. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT

U. OF I. TRUSTEE HEAD TO ASK VET JOB FOR HANNAH

Livingston Seeks to Void Frederick Appointment

Park Livingston, president of the University of Illinois board of trustees, yesterday said that he will recommend at the Jan. 5 meeting of the board that the appointment of Col. Charles R. Frederick as the university's director of special services for war veterans be rescinded and the appointment of Lt. Col. Harold Hannah to that post be confirmed.

Livingston's statement was issued in Chicago after he had been unable to go to Urbana to attend a meeting of trustees which was canceled because of lack of a quorum. President Arthur Cutts Willard said two members were ill, one of them reportedly Chester R. Davis, head of the general policy committee of the board.

Asserts No Objections Raised

"At its regular meeting Dec. 11 the board thought, as did Dr. Stoddard [Dr. George D. Stoddard, president-elect of the university] who was present, that President Willard concurred with Dr. Stoddard in the appointment of Col. Frederick," stated Livingston. "No objection was raised by President Willard or others present to the appointment of Col. Frederick.

"However, it is apparent that this action of the board was based upon misunderstanding. President Willard has requested confirmation of Col. Hannah to this appointment.

"I shall recommend to the board when it meets Jan. 5 that the action of Dec. 11 be rescinded and the appointment of Col. Hannah be confirmed."

In a statement Wednesday, President Willard, who is retiring in June, declared the board had violated its own by-laws. He said nominations for such positions by statute are to be made by the president.

Illini Legion Post Protests

Among protests over the replacement of Col. Hannah by Col. Frederick in the school veterans' job was one from Illini American Legion post at the university, whose commander, Creighton C. Webb, declared yesterday that the post "plans to keep the issue alive."

Hannah charged that the word "interim," describing his appointment, had been inserted in the board minutes after the meeting ended, and added that "I will have further facts to reveal concerning that meeting when the board meets here Jan. 5."

President Willard said Hannah was not interested in an interim appointment when they discussed the job before the appointment. The president pointed out that Frederick had been head of campus housing and, as far as he was concerned, might return to that post.

"Then we would have two good men, each in his own field," he said.

FRANKENTHAL, NOTED DOCTOR, LEAVES $525,000

Dr. Lester E. Frankenthal, 81, widely known gynecologist, who died Dec. 19, left an estate valued at $525,000 in an estimate filed yesterday in Probate court. The estate goes to his widow, Anne, of 4825 Woodlawn av., and his son, Dr. Lester E. Frankenthal Jr., and also in part to Michael Reese hospital, St. Luke's hospital, the Visiting Nurses' association, and the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

An estate of $240,000 is disposed of in the will of Merle Maxson Burdick, 70, of 213 Scranton av., Lake Bluff, filed in Lake County Probate court at Waukegan. Probate Judge Martin C. Decker set Jan. 17 for hearing for probate. Burdick's widow, Olive, is to receive a life time income from the estate. After her death a son, Lt. Merle S. Burdick, now on terminal leave from the navy, is to receive the income until he is 35, when he will inherit the estate. Burdick was a pharmacist for 30 years for Abbott Laboratories.

The will of Mrs. Frances Kales Bradley, 77, of 151 E. Ridge Lane, Lake Forest, filed for probate in the Lake County Probate court, disposed of an estate of $100,000 in personal property and $30,000 in real estate. Hearing for probate was set for Jan. 21. Among the bequests were $25,000 each to two daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Carpenter of Lake Forest and Mrs. Alice Fisher of New Canaan, Conn. Mrs. Bradley, who died Dec. 20, was the widow of J. Dorr Bradley, Chicago real estate broker.

WOMAN IS FREED IN $1,600 THEFT FROM A SAILOR

Judge Ralph J. Dady in Lake county Circuit court, Waukegan, yesterday nolle prossed a grand larceny charge against Eleanor Adams McCay, 22, of Millington, Lake county, who was accused of taking $1,600 from Frederick Guith, navy chief petty officer, while he slept in a tourist cabin near Wauconda Nov. 14. She admitted taking the money, Sheriff Walter L. Atkinson said, but returned $1,010 to Guith, the amount she had left when she was arrested Nov. 25. The nolle prosse was entered when Guith withdrew his charges.

GI Found Hanged Orders $500 Gift to Sweetheart

Corp. George L. Albright, 25, of 2622 Green st., was found hanged yesterday in a stable at 2618 Green st. by his sister, Mrs. Rosalie Flood. He had been a patient at Fort Sheridan hospital. His wrists appeared to have been slashed. Corp. Albright, in the army three years, left four notes, one to his sweetheart, Miss Julia O'Leary, 745 W. 48th st., which said he wanted her to have $500 of his savings. He also wrote that he was depressed over the death of his father last Sept. 29.

"Psst, Joe. If you see any one pocketing silverware, let 'em have it."

STATE TO PROBE DEPARTURE OF ATTACK WITNESS

State's Atty. Tuohy yesterday directed his first assistant, Wilbert F. Crowley, to investigate the failure of Carter Olsen, 30, a former member of local 701 of the Auto Machinics union [AFL], to appear as complaining witness on charges of assault and mayhem against Frank Carroll, business agent of the local.

The charges were dismissed Dec. 21 by Judge Leonard C. Reid in Criminal court for lack of prosecution. Crowley was directed to investigate the possibility of a conspiracy to compound a felony if it could be proved that Olsen had received a financial settlement on a promise not to prosecute the criminal charge.

Olsen had accused Carroll and two other men of beating him in a union dispute last Sept. 8. He later wrote the state's attorney's office and said he had moved to Texas and did not wish to prosecute the case. "An offense of this type," Tuohy said, "is against the state as well as the individual."

Girl on Sled, Brother Pulling It Hit by Car

Thomas Sparks, 6, of 7701 Fielding av., suffered a skull fracture and his sister, Betty, 3, sustained possible internal injuries when the sled on which Thomas was pulling his sister was struck by an automobile under a viaduct in 78th st., near Wallace st., yesterday. The driver of the car was Raymond Stoecker, 7934 S. Loomis st., an attorney.

Saltis Denies Taking Woman's Cash

Continue Hearing

Joe Saltis, one time beer runner, denied before Judge Leon Edelman in E. Chicago av. court yesterday that he had kept $300 out of $800 entrusted to him for safe keeping by a woman friend. He was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct brought by Miss Nellie Long, of 635 N. Clark st. She said she gave him the money to keep for her when they went out drinking Dec. 7 and that he held out $300 when he returned it. Saltis, who gave his age as 51 and his address as 635 N. Clark st., said he would bring in a witness Jan. 4, the date to which the hearing was continued.

Carrier Wasp Sails

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Dec. 27 (AP)—The United States aircraft carrier Wasp sailed for home today with 5,000 troops. It is expected to reach New York New Year's day.

Base headquarters announced that 16,829 United States troops will leave for home aboard the Queen Mary and four other ships from this port between Saturday and Jan. 8.

The Queen Mary will carry 11,400 on Dec. 29; the hospital ship Hudelston 89 on Dec. 31; the carrier Lake Champlain 4,400 on Jan. 5, and the Ruler and Emperor 470 each on Jan. 8. The Ruler and Emperor are two of 33 aircraft carrier escorts which the royal navy is returning to the United States navy.

8 IN SHIP CREW MISSING AFTER BLAST AT DOCK

Galveston, Tex., Dec. 27 (AP)—Eight crew members of the Swedish ship Sveaborg, which exploded and sank at Texas City today, are reported missing.

Sheriff Frank L. Biaggne, who boarded the vessel soon after the explosion, said G. Engh, first mate, told him eight men were missing and believed dead in the flooded crew's quarters. Engh said 12 were hurt, two critically. The ship has a crew of 37.

The blast occurred at 4:10 a. m. from a donkey engine boiler explosion. The vessel was loading gasoline at the Pan American Refining Corp. dock at the time. The blast tore a 15 foot hole in the port side of the ship and flattened the superstructure. The aft end of the ship immediately sank.

24 SERVICEMEN'S WIVES SAIL FOR MIDWAY, HAWAII

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 26 (AP)—The first service men's wives to leave San Diego since the war for overseas direct—24 of them, several with families—left aboard the assault transport Hendry today.

The longest voyage will be that of Mrs. W. M. Kezar of suburban Lemon Grove. She is going to Midway to join her husband, a marine master sergeant, and is taking their 3 year old son with her. The others are en route to Pearl Harbor.

On duty aboard the Hendry was Edith Cramp, pharmacist's mate 3d class, Philadelphia, Pa., who, the navy said, is the first WAVE to serve afloat. She is a member of the Cramp family of shipbuilders.

12 U. S. EMBASSY MEN QUIT; CAN'T LIVE ON SALARY

LONDON, Dec. 27 (AP)—The resignation of 12 United States embassy employes, who said they could not live in London on the salaries paid them, was announced by American officials today.

Among those who resigned were two vice consuls and seven code-room clerks, who must be replaced from the United States. The others were British telephone operators. Their salaries were about $2,400 a year.

Embassy officials said high living costs made it difficult to maintain a full staff of about 900 persons at prevailing wages.

Woman in Santa Outfit Freed of Theft Charge

Miss Rose Schultz, 37, of 4814 S. Ashland av., arrested Christmas afternoon dressed in a Santa Claus outfit, was freed of a charge of larceny yesterday by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Felony court. Mrs. Dorothy Kozlowiecz, 44, of 4813 N. Wood st., was dismissed on a similar charge. Alex Wrona and Stephen Zelswski, both of 4049 S. Kedzie av., charged money was missing from their wallets after a party in their flat that the women attended.

WOMAN DIES AS HOME BURNS

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 27 (AP)—Mrs. Hazel Gallagher, 43, burned to death in a fire today at her home here, where she lived alone.

TUOHY BOOSTS OFFICE'S TOTAL OF CONVICTIONS

BY GEORGE WRIGHT

State's Attorney Tuohy, during his first year in office, raised the all-over conviction record of his predecessor in office from 83 per cent to 86 per cent for the period from Dec. 1, 1944, to Dec. 1, 1945. This was disclosed in the annual report of the prosecutor's office released yesterday.

The report disclosed that of the 1,994 persons charged with crime who were convicted, 1,036 were sent to the penitentiary, 430 placed on straight probation, 362 given probation after they first served a minor sentence in the coonty jail, 132 sent to the county jail or Bridewell, and 34 others died before they could serve their terms.

More Indictments Returned

The record of the new prosecutor was made in the face of an increase in crime as disclosed by indictments returned by the grand jury. In the last year 2,071 indictments were returned as compared with 1,692 in the preceding year. Tuohy's staff disposed of 2,077 indictments, or more than returned by the grand jury, catching up on the backlog of the previous year.

The report showed high scores for conviction in violent crimes. Ninety-three per cent of those charged with burglary were convicted apd 230 were sentenced to the penitentiary. Of persons charged with auto theft, 92 per cent were convicted and 96 were sentenced to prison. Convictions in armed robbery cases were 90 per cent, and 306 were sent to prison.

52 Slayers Sent to Prison

The statistics revealed that 82 per cent of the slayers were convicted, with 52 going to the penitentiary. Sex crimes showed a conviction rate of 71 per cent, with 120 going to prison. Altho the sex crime rate shows a lower conviction rate, it was pointed out that many sex cases take on a different aspect when facts on both sides are aired in court. However, the statistics reveal that in legitimate, brutal rape cases at least a dozen defendants received life imprisonment terms. Embezzlement showed the highest conviction rate, 94 per cent.

Chief Justice Harold G. Ward of the Criminal court in cooperation with Tuohy inaugurated a new system this year which puts teeth in the probation law. Violators are summarily sentenced and the report shows 140 violators went to the penitentiary under this system.

Prosecutor Tuohy is the first state's attorney in more than 20 years to take an active court part in the prosecution of so-called major crimes.

SONJA HENIE HAS VAN JOHNSON AS GUEST AT DINNER

Van Johnson, handsome blond movie actor, and Sonja Henie, ice skating star, walked arm in arm down Michigan av. yesterday but both refused to comment on rumors of a romance between them.

Johnson arrived in Chicago to attend Miss Henie's performance in Chicago Stadium last night. He and the blonde Norwegian skater had dinner in her suite in the Drake hotel before going to the show.

Johnson, a hero of the nation's bobby-soxers, stopped in the hotel lobby to joke with autograph seekers. Miss Henie, dressed in a mink coat and hood to match, waited quietly at his side. When asked about the romance rumors, Johnson replied:

"We're just good friends, but it's sure good to be here."

Johnson said he would return to the west coast in a few days—"as soon as I get enough of this wonderful snow."

Miss Henie and her millionaire husband, Daniel Reed Topping, part owner of the New York Yankees baseball team, met in Chicago in November and agreed to separate, but at the time said they had no immediate plans for a divorce. Johnson has not been married.

HIGH BOND SET FOR BEH KILLER IN KIDNAP CASE

Bonds of $150,000 each were fixed yesterday for Robert F. Smith, 21, of 4419 Greenwood av., army deserter and confessed killer of Roy Gordon Beh, and Bolesas W. Czazkowski, 18, of 12254 Wallace st., after they had been indicted before Federal Judge John P. Barnes on charges of kidnaping and transporting stolen automobiles and firearms across state lines.

The kidnaping charge involved Jerome Brenman of Gary, Ind., whom the men forced to drive from Gary to Chicago. In crossing the state line, the men violated the Lindbergh kidnaping law. The men will be arraigned today before Judge Barnes and, because neither has a lawyer, the court is expected to appoint counsel for them.

A murder charge has been filed against Smith in Ottawa county, Mich., for the slaying of Beh, a former Chicagoan and neighbor of Henry Ford II., near Holland, Mich., on Dec. 20 when Beh resisted a robbery attempt.

Hundreds of Children Go Sliding in Ryan Woods

Ryan woods forest preserve, 87th st. and Western av., yesterday was a winter wonderland for hundreds of Chicago children on their Christmas season vacation. Every snow covered hill provided a slick slide for those who brought sleds or skis. A chance to frolic in the snow also attracted many children into other forest preserves near Chicago.

Buying Public Is Now "Economy" Conscious

The average American household stretches pocketbooks for added savings by buying big sizes in most everything and it works the same way when you buy the 100 tablet size of St. Joseph Aspirin for 35c as you get nearly 3 tablets for 1c. For handy pocket use, remember world famous 12 tablet package for 10c. None finer, faster or more economical. The choice of millions. Always demand pure St. Joseph Aspirin.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

ADM. SHERMAN GETS COMMAND OF FIFTH FLEET

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—Vice Adm. Frederick C. Sherman today was ordered to command of the 5th fleet, succeeding Adm. John H. Towers.

At the same time Vice Adm Daniel E. Barbey, now commander of amphibious forces of the 7th fleet, was ordered to duty as commander of amphibious forces in the Atlantic.

The navy also reported Rear Adm. Thomas L. Sprague will become assistant chief of naval personnel Jan. 10. He will succeed Rear Adm. William M. Fechteler, who will become commander of battleships and cruisers, Atlantic fleet, with rank of vice admiral.

Sherman has been commander of the 1st carrier task force since July, 1945, when he succeeded Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher. Towers is to succeed Adm. Raymond A. Spruance as commander of the Pacific fleet.

MANY PROJECTS AWAIT FEDERAL AID, SAYS KELLY

Most of the post-war projects planned for Chicago in a long range program calling for an expenditure of more than a billion and a quarter dollars probably will be delayed pending congressional action to set federal funds aside to augment city funds, Mayor Kelly said yesterday. Labor costs also will be a consideration.

In discussing Chicago's improvement program, the mayor emphasized that absolute priorities must be given to the temporary terminal building under construction at the Chicago airport; the super airport planned for the present site of the Douglas aircraft plant; the Congress st. super-highway, and the Northwest super-highway.

Plan Action in 1946

Several other projects, for which city bonds have been approved, such as the group of new police and fire department buildings, new city garages, parks and playgrounds, will go ahead in 1946, the mayor said. The city also plans to resume construction on the State st. and Canal st. bridges, he added, and on a project which would see the completion of the south district filtration plant at 79th st. and the lake.

In the over-all program calling for the expenditure of $1,266,631,000, the mayor asserted, six years would be required to complete the projects even if all were undertaken simultaneously and pressed with the greatest effort. These plans, however, were set up as "long range" ones, he continued, and probably will have to await the time when city funds can be supplemented by virtually unlimited federal grants.

Cites Need for Housing

The mayor also pointed out that Chieago's most urgent need is housing. He said that careful consideration must be given to all public projects to make sure that they will not demand materials needed for public and private housing developments.

Included among the long range projects, on which construction awaits federal aid, are new railway terminal facilities, health protection facil

The holiday season is a gala time of the year with open houses, teas, and spur-of-the-moment parties. Fortunately for the hostess, little preparation is needed to make the informal party a success. Welcome your guests with a rich holiday beverage like the traditional eggnog or hot spiced cider and little else will be needed to satisfy their appetites. These require no accompanying foods other than a tray of simple hors d'oeuvres or tiny sandwiches, or perhaps fancy cookies or thin slices of fruit cake.

Eggnog
[Serves 20]

6 eggs
1 cup sugar
1½ cups brandy
⅔ cup rum
1½ quarts milk
3 cups whipped cream

Separate eggs. Beat yolks until very thick and light. Gradually add sugar, beating constantly. Still beating, add brandy and rum gradually. Chill for an hour, stirring occasionally. Add milk gradually and fold in whipped cream and stiffly beaten egg whites. Store in covered jars in the refrigerator for a day before using. Sprinkle each serving with nutmeg.

Tom and Jerry
[Serves Six]

6 egg whites
6 egg yolks
8 tablespoons sugar
1 cup rum
1 cup brandy
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
3 cups boiling water

Beat egg whites until stiff, then beat egg yolks until thick with the sugar. Blend whites and yolks together lightly and add rum and brandy. Add spices and gradually add the boiling water, stirring the mixture until well mixed. Serve in earthenware mugs with a dash of nutmeg.

Hot Spiced Cider
[Serves 16]

1 gallon sweet cider
1 cup brown sugar
6 small sticks cinnamon
1 tablespoon whole cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon salt
orange slices

Combine cider, sugar, spices, and salt and bring to a boil. Cover and simmer for 10 minutes. Strain. Serve hot with a garnish of orange slices.

Holiday Punch
[18 small glasses]

4 cups grape juice
4 cups cider
½ cup seeded raisins
2 medium size apples
Cloves
1 stick cinnamon
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
Red vegetable coloring
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Combine grape juice and cider, pour over raisins, and let stand while apples are being prepared. Peel apples, quarter, and remove core. Stick each quarter with three cloves. Combine sugar and water and enough red coloring to make the mixture a deep rose. Add stick cinnamon, bring to a boil, and boil for 5 minutes. Add apples and cook until they are tender but still hold their shape. Bring cider, grape juice, and raisins to a boil; add apples and sirup. Stir well. Serve hot in punch glasses with a few raisins and piece of apple in each glass.

Wine Punch
[Serves 30]

1 bottle port or claret wine
1 pint lemon juice
1 pint orange juice
½ pint grenadine, grape juice, or pineapple juice
1 bottle carbonated water
1 pint ginger ale

Combine ingredients and pour into a punch bowl in which a block of ice has been placed. Garnish with cherries or sliced oranges.

In 'Seasoning to Taste' Here Is a Rule to Follow

"Season to taste" is sometimes confusing. A good rule to follow is three-fourths of a teaspoon of salt to one pound of ground meat; one teaspoon to one pound of solid meat. Pepper varies more to taste.

Prize Recipe: Maple Chiffon Pie

1 tablespoon plain gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup imitation maple sirup
2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon maple extract
2 egg whites
3 tablespoons sugar
1 cup cream, whipped
¼ cup salted nuts, chopped
1 baked pastry shell

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat sirup to boiling and slowly pour over egg yolks and salt. Cook over hot water until mixture coats a spoon. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until slightly thickened, beat until light, and add extract. Beat egg whites until stiff and gradually add sugar and continue beating. Fold egg whites and ½ of whipped cream into maple mixture. Turn into pie shell and top with whipped cream and nuts. Makes one 9 inch pie.

Mrs. Ella H., Gary, Ind.—I keep a winter garden of herbs on my kitchen window sill and for best results give them a good soaking once a week and sprinkle the leaves. These herbs do not like hot, dry houses and need moisture, but they should not be over-watered. I always let them dry thoroly in the sink before returning them to my window sill.

Natalie H., Terre Haute, Ind.—When I'm sending shell nuts to some friend or relative, I dip them in paraffin to make sure they'll stand a long journey and arrive in tip top shape. And when I send shelled and salted nuts, I put them in a non-crushable container sealed with paraffin.

Coloration Tells When a Banana Is Fully Ripe

A fully ripe banana has deep yellow peel flecked with brown. Most of the bananas found in stores will have all yellow peel or yellow peel tipped with green. Before eating allow them to ripen at room temperature [70 degrees], because the starches turn to natural fruit sugars that make the bananas easily digestible.

Debutantes Sharing Spotlight with Romantic News Today

BY JUDITH CASS

THE debutantes are sharing the limelight today with the news of several interesting engagements and weddings. At a small eggnog party yesterday evening in their N. Hoyne av. home Mr. and Mrs. Lee Berthold announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lee, to Lt. [j. g.] Roger S. Cummings, son of Mrs. Leo P. Cummings and the late Mr. Cummings of Lake Shore dr. Lt. Cummings, who is stationed at the Brooklyn navy yard, following two years in the Pacific, is at home for the holidays and was present to receive congratulations from family friends.

Miss Berthold was graduated from Northwestern university last June. Her fiance was graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1942. He is one of the 11 sons and daughters of Mrs. Cummings, who has been active thruout the war as a vice chairman of the woman's division, Chicago and Cook county war finance committee.

At a family Christmas dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Oster of Kenilworth announced the engagement of their daughter, Muriel June, to Lt. Darwin S. Costley of the marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Costley of Ogden, Utah.

Wedding News

Arriving in Chicago today from opposite directions are Robert P. Crane Jr., who is coming from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crane, in Pasadena, Cal., and his bride of last spring, the former Jean Alexander, who is on the last lap of a trip by air from England. Mr. Crane, brother of Mrs. Talcott Griswold of Winnetka, and his wife will live with the Griswolds until they can find a house or apartment of their own. Mr. Crane recently was released from the army air forces after serving in England, France, and Germany. He and the former Miss Alexander were married last March, and this is her first trip to the United States.

With the handsome satin wedding gown in which Miss Edith-Marie Appleton will become the bride of Lt. Comdr. Robert B. Goodman Jr. at 8:30 o'clock tonight in Evanston's First Methodist church, the bride will wear a diamond and platinum lavaliere which was presented to her mother, Mrs. Albert I. Appleton, on the night of her marriage 35 years ago. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in Mr. and Mrs. Appleton's Evanston home.

Here for the wedding are Comdr. Goodman's mother, Mrs. Raymond Plunkett of Wausau, Wis.; his brother, Owen Goodman, who came from California with his wife to be one of the ushers, and Huntington C. Crouse Jr. of Syracuse, N. Y. Among Miss Appleton's attendants will be one of her oldest friends, Mrs. William Pettingill, who will be matron of honor.

Other Weddings

A large south side wedding planned for tomorrow will unite in marriage Miss Edith Jackson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jackson, and Robert Skeens, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Skeens. The ceremony will take place at 8:30 p. m. in the South Side Community church, with a reception following in the Jacksons' Kenwood av. home.

Miss Barbara Reece, who was Miss Jackson's roommate at Smith college, will be the maid of honor, and Mrs. Charles Compton will be the matron of honor. Among the ushers will be the bride's brother, Price Jackson. Following a wedding trip south, Mr. Skeens, who recently was released as a lieutenant in the army, and his bride will live in Chicago.

The marriage of Miss Nancy Crum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Franklin Crum of Hinsdale, to Lt. Camille M. Shaar Jr. of the naval reserve will take place at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Grace Episcopal church. A reception will follow in the Hinsdale community house. Lt. Shaar, son of Dr. and Mrs. Shaar of Long Beach, Cal., will take his bride to Annapolis, Md., where he will do graduate work in engineering.

Debutante Events

The debutantes' day today will get off to a running start with a luncheon which Mrs. Ryland A. Wolcott will give for 100 young women in the Indian Hill club as a debut for her niece, Miss Sally Sykes Craft, a daughter of Mrs. Daniel B. Craft of Winnetka.

White flowers will fill the ballroom of the Casino club this afternoon for a tea-dance which Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Woodruff of Joliet will give from 5 to 7 for their daughter, Kay. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Smith, old friends of the debutante's mother, have come from Louisville, Ky., for the party, and also here are Miss Ann Bowman of Wayzata, Minn., Miss Gayle Lee of Bedford, N. Y., and Miss Eleanor Monro and Miss Nancy Mills of Cleveland, O., who will be among the assistants. After the dance the bud, her assistants, and their escorts will go to the Pump room for dinner and more dancing.

The Commonwealth av. home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Francis Burch Jr. will be the scene of almost continuous dancing today, for the tea-dance they will give from 4 to 7 p. m. to introduce their daughter, Elise, to society will be followed by a dinner-dance for some of the bud's young friends. Assisting Miss Burch will be her sister, Helen; Miss Suzette Brauer of Minneapolis, Minn., and Miss Nancy Green, among oth-

Bright Cottons Ready for Trip to Resort Area

BY REA SEEGER

The resort fashions are out. Good old chambrays, broadcloths, gingham, and seersucker are just a few of the pre-war bright colored cottons that have been made into smart, new dresses, primarily for south bound wardrobes. But there's no law against buying these crisp new cottons and carefully packing them away until next spring and summer.

The most exciting colors and silhouettes rarely return later, so shrewd shoppers will make their selections while they can. Even the fabric departments flaunt gay new cottons after what has been a record breaking showing of nothing for the last six months.

Other signs of spring are the fabric showings of gay colored rayon prints, a few bolts of precious all silk prints, and sensational yards and yards of jersey, plain pastel tinted and in very stunning printed designs, most of them extremely large, exceptionally brilliant in hue, and strong of contrast. You have to see them to believe the display. Bolts of the newly arrived prints of rayon jersey or real silk rival the highly colored seed catalogs or a paint card for clear brilliance and flashing beauty.

These newly unpacked materials are just what you want if you are one of the many women who sew their own. Dresses for immediate wear are a bright hint of spring when worn under a fur or fabric coat, later with wool jackets, and, after that, for summer with white or bright colored accessories. The floral jersey makes unusually beautiful negligees, lounging robes, and very decorative lounging pajamas, also some of the more decorative suit blouses and peplumed evening blouses, for wear with slim straight black long skirts.

Clothing for Relief Overseas Will Be Collected Jan. 26

A one-day city-wide curb collection of used clothing, shoes, and bedding for overseas relief will be conducted in Chicago Jan. 26 as a part of the nation-wide United Clothing collection asked by President Truman and headed by Henry J. Kaiser. Mayor Kelly yesterday accepted chairmanship of "Chicago's Own Mercy Clothing Collection" and designated the date for pickups.

William L. McFetridge, general president of the Building Service Employes International union, has been named executive chairman for the local drive with headquarters at 460 S. State st. He has begun organization of civic and community groups to seek spare clothing.

Municipal and donated trucks will gather up the bundles Jan. 26 and take them to United States treasury warehouses, where they will be sorted, packed, and shipped to coastal ports for overseas distribution by the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

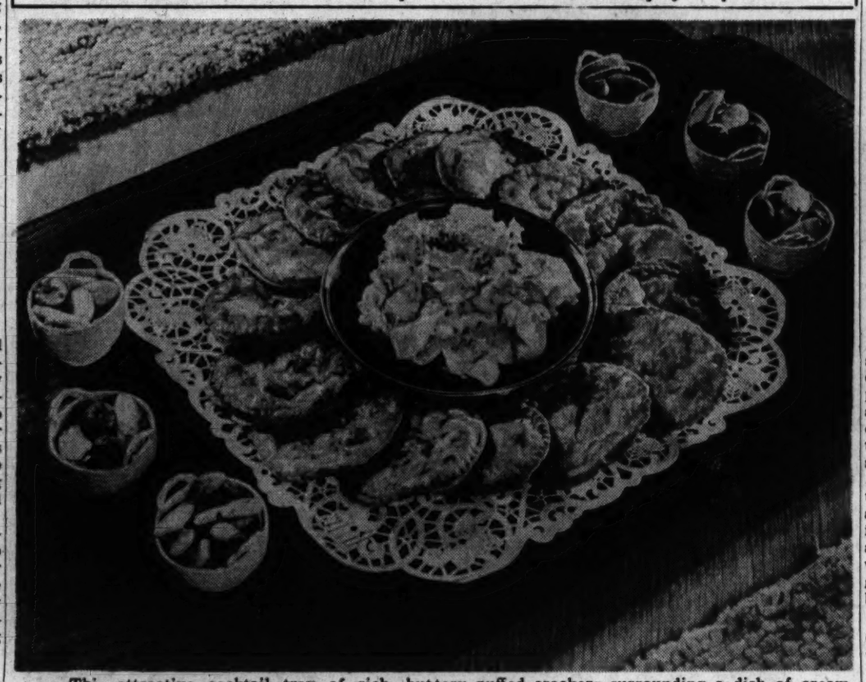
National College Group Has Holiday Fete Today

Alumnae of the National College of Education will gather from 3 until 5 p. m. today in the lounge of Marienthal dormitory in Evanston for their annual holiday party. Mrs. Calvin Flader and Mrs. Edwin C. George, both of Evanston, are in charge of arrangements, and a group of faculty members who are also alumnae will pour.

Attractive Cocktail Tray Can Be Quickly Prepared



This attractive cocktail tray of rich, buttery puffed crackers surrounding a dish of cream cheese is quickly prepared for those unexpected guests. Blanched almonds and hazelnuts in tiny cups complete the tray. To make:

Moisten one package of cream cheese with a little cream. Mix with two tablespoons of minced onion or chopped chives to make a tasty canape spread. Soak crackers in ice water for eight minutes. Lift gently out of the water with a spatula, transfering crackers to paper towels. When drained place carefully on cooky sheets. Dot each cracker with a bit of butter and slide the cooky sheets into a hot oven [450 degrees]. Crackers will puff and brown in about 35 minutes.

Help the First Child Adjust to New Baby

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

If you read the interesting letter which I quoted recently, you may think that some of the realistic statements in it refute what I often have to say about the coming of a new baby, and about helping the older child [or children] to accept and love him. Yet they do not, really.

It is true, of course, that any new person becoming a permanent part of the family picture changes it. Any new person makes adjustments necessary. But change and adjustment are not bad in themselves; they make for flexibility.

So when the writer of the letter [mother of six children, mostly grown], says that "when a second child comes along . . . his or her position is irremediably altered, and a great deal of his happiness depends on what adjustment he can make to this fact," she is speaking the truth. Things are not the same in a family after a new baby is born. The first-born child indeed has an adjustment to make, and it is a perfectly wholesome one when easily made. If something is lost to that first-born, something also is added by having a little sister or brother.

The one thing which has been left out of the statement, if you stop there, is that it is up to the parents to do everything in their power to set the scene for a fine adjustment. Altho they necessarily will have less actual time for the older child, they should, by the way they act before the new baby is born and after he arrives, do nothing to shake the first-born's sense of security in his parents' love. There is no reason why a child who feels dethroned should adjust to that bitter fact. Children don't. And parents who expect it, are expecting too much of human nature.

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Her Day

Mornings—about seven-four—
To the fountain at our store
Comes that blonde who says, "I'll have a Pecan roll an' cuppa java."

Eats, drinks, lights her cigaret,
Winds her watch and gets it set,
Gives her hair a hurried shakeup
Touches up her last night's makeup.

Hastens out to work all day—
"Stockings . . . bras . . . and lonjeray . . . ! ! !
Something in a later style?
Third floor, madam, seventh aisle . . ."

Evenings [after all that fuss]
Home on a Diversey bus;
Coffee, roll, and cigaret—
But the night's not over yet.

She has still to keep her date
With the gent who calls at eight—
Gent who thinks her charms "entrancing,"
Takes her out till 3 for dancing.

In the morning, tired and sore,
She'll be back at seven-four,
Ordering as she comes in,
"Coffee—double aspirin."

Who is she? I thought you knew!
She's Sales Person Ninety-two.

Bank Slip

It happened one day just before Christmas. A dignified gentleman who professes to take small note of such goings-on wandered into his bank. All heads were turned in one direction. His head turned, too. There, before all eyes, stood a gorgeous creature inexplicably stepping out of her dress, standing in her slip, mind you, while flashlight bulbs burst all about her. Right in the savings department of one of our most sedate banks. Turned out to be a stunt: The dress was made of war bonds.

Feminine Firsts

The first American Christmas seal [a half wreath of holly with a Red Cross in the center] was originated in 1907 by Emily Bissell, secretary of the Delaware Red Cross. She thought it might defray expenses of a tiny tuberculosis hospital caring for eight patients. . . . There are two British women who are ministers of the crown, Ellen Wilkinson and Florence Horsbrugh, and are they the first? . . . Two of the 10 outstanding women of 1945 chosen by the magazine Mademoiselle are of particular interest to Chicagoans. One is Dr. Leona Woods Marshall, 26 year old physicist, born in La Grange. She worked three years on the atom bomb, and in January begins residence as a fellow at the Institute of Nuclear Studies, University of Chicago. The other is Gwendolyn Brooks, Englewood High school graduate, whose poetic "A Street in Bronzeville" has won considerable acclaim. She now is living in Chicago.

Sally Asks Aid for Widow and Five Children

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

Mrs. B., widowed mother of five children, boys 10 and 3 and girls 8 and 5 years, and 10 months, living on the north side, has been supported by relief for about a year. Before that the family was self-supporting, and the home was being furnished on a payment plan out of the husband's weekly earnings. A serious injury, which resulted in his death, made further payments impossible, and the furnishings were repossessed. The floors are bare and the living room is empty. Linoleum or rugs, suitable living room pieces, and a high chair are badly needed. A neighbor will arrange to call for north side offers.

An appeal for a sewing machine has come from Mrs. G., a young mother whose husband was killed in France. She has two sons, 8 and 4, and a daughter, 5. Frail health prevents her employment. She is anxious to spread her limited funds as far as possible in the management of her home and to that end wishes to make the children's clothing. If a sewing machine is available on the far south side we would like to place it with her.

A similar request comes from a social worker interested in aiding the T. family, composed of parents and two children, a boy 6 and a year old baby girl. Mr. T. has just returned from service overseas and is not financially able to buy a sewing machine, which would enable his wife to do the family sewing. The address is on the west side.

Lingerie Designs

Lingerie, easy to make and attractive as well, pays budget dividends. Style No. 3461, a slip and pantie set, is designed for sizes 12 to 46. Size 36 requires 2⅝ yards of 35 or 39 inch material to make the slip; 1 yard of 35 or 39 inch material to make the panties, and 6⅞ yards of lace edging for both. Style No. 2890, neat pajamas, is designed for sizes 10 to 40. Size 16 requires 4⅜ yards of 35 inch material.

Concert-Goers Again Listen to Holiday Music

Concert by Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Hans Lange conducting; University of Chicago choir, Gerhard Schroth director; James McEnery, baritone. Presented in Orchestra hall Thursday evening, Dec. 27, 1945; scheduled for repetition this afternoon at 2:15. The program:
Overture, "Leonore," No. 3....Beethoven
Symphony No. 2, in B minor.....Borodin
Serenade No. 6 [Serenata Notturno]....Mozart
Pastoral Symphony from "Messiah"....Handel
Overture to "The Flight into Egypt".....Berlioz
Fantasia on Christmas Carols.....Williams

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG

Having treated the Tuesday subscribers to a Christmas party the day previous, the Chicago Symphony orchestra, with Hans Lange again at the helm, paid the same compliment to its week-end customers last night. There was no soloist this time to take center stage and incidentally embarrass the host by forgetting his piece, and the result was one of those intimate little gatherings in which all parties get to know each other well and pretend to have a very good time, tho privately possibly a bit bored.

Holiday pièces d'occasions when assembled categorically have a way of imparting nonmusical characteristics to a program, and last night's was no exception, tho Mr. Lange made his selection judiciously and discreetly avoided the obvious. His Christmas greeting, like all Gaul, was in three parts, attaining a climax, if not a crescendo, in Vaughan Williams' "Fantasia on Christmas Carols," disclosed to a resident symphony audience for the first time at the previous day's concert.

The work, again excellently sung by the University of Chicago choir, with James McEnery making a friendly business of the baritone solo, once more impressed by the naive, unvarnished beauty of its material, and the skill with which the composer fashioned a work of art out of what is essentially a potpourri.

Other seasonal matter was the Pastoral Symphony from Handel's "Messiah," pleasant but unexciting, and a semi-novelty in the shape of Berlioz' overture to "The Flight Into Egypt," a gentle, monotonous piece which made one grateful that music has passed beyond the Hypodorian stage.

More substantial distribution of largess occurred in the third "Leonore" overture of Beethoven, faithfully performed, and Borodin's not too well appreciated Second symphony in B minor, which was, as always, interesting to hear, but for which Mr. Lange has not the temperamental affinity nor the orchestra in its present condition the quality to reveal in its full stature.

Nicest gift of all was Mozart's delicious "Serenata Notturno," in which two small orchestras compete amiably with the happiest of outcomes. John Weicher, Frank Polesny, and Milton Preves took bows as the members of the solo group, tho all the Mozartean plums fell to Mr. Weicher.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 clubs	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead: king of clubs.

Yesterday we observed that even a three-card holding in dummy may sometimes be regarded as a short suit, and permit the ruffing of the fourth round. The same principle is involved in today's illustration with an additional kink.

The bidding requires some comment. North's response of two clubs will not be found on any teacher's charts, and cannot be considered as correct. North made this response, not with any intention of being psychic. He was actually strapped for a bid. It was somewhat too good for a negative one no trump response, he felt. Actually he was wrong. A hand that is distributed 4-3-3-3 with only two tricks is not impressive and the holder should not fear to make a one no trump response. If partner does not move, a game will rarely be lost. I make it a practice to mentally subtract one-half trick every time I hold 4-3-3-3 distribution, unless my partner has indicated a very unbalanced hand.

The king of clubs was opened despite the bid of that suit. Declarer won with the ace and observed that he must lose two clubs and at least a diamond. If, however, diamonds divide 3-3, the contract will be safe. So declarer promptly extracted trumps. When the diamond suit failed to split, two tricks had to be lost in that suit and the contract was defeated.

Proper technique would have brought home the hand. Since one diamond trick must be lost in any event, that trick should be given up at once. The defense will presumably cash two club tricks and then shift. Declarer is now in and draws only two trumps. If the diamonds are going to break there is no need to draw the last trump. If the diamonds are not going to break it will do no good to draw the last trump. But there is a chance that the player who is short in diamonds will be short in trumps and it should be tried. The ace and king of diamonds are cashed and West shows out but cannot trump, because he is out of ammunition. The fourth diamond is now ruffed in dummy and all is serene.

Declarer must follow the sequence of plays outlined above. If he draws two rounds of trumps before giving up the diamond, East will continue with a third round of trumps and prevent the ruff in dummy.

The usual weekly quiz will appear tomorrow.

Gayer Ballets Surround Chicago Premiere of Tudor's Somber but Powerful "Undertow"

Ballet theater was taking no chances last night with the Chicago premiere of Antony Tudor's somber and powerful journey thru the psychiatric maze of "Undertow." It opened the bill with the Straussian romp of "Graduation Ball" and dropped its curtain on the Offenbach jest, "Helen of Troy," and perhaps as an afterthought, tucked in the grand pas de deux from Tschaikowsky's "Swan Lake," danced by Nora Kaye and Andre Eglevsky. You could almost hear the managerial mind ticking, "Well, if they can't make head nor tail of the new one, at least they will get their money's worth."

Certainly "Undertow" is no rival to "Pillar of Fire," Tudor's masterpiece in the fascinating realm of the neurotic. But it is a vivid, absorbing work by a ranking choreographer who seeks new horizons in ballet, and it is eloquently danced to William Schuman's powerful score in imaginative settings by Raymond Breinin. What is it about? Well, the program says it "unfolds like the confessions of a heurotic to a psychiatrist. Its tortured hero, frustrated in his infantile love for his mother, writhes eerily thru the ballet, doomed to hate the women who most attract him."

That's what the program says. Myself, I don't think much of the explanation, but then perhaps no two eyes see quite the same things at such a ballet, since they look thru the haze of their own thoughts on the subject. As I saw "Undertow" its hero, thrust from the mother shelter, was both obsessed and repelled by sex, so that he saw in all women nothing but the wanton, tho in degrees of wantonness that ran a full scale, and in all men nothing but lechers who must be thrust from them. When his scale of the aphrodisiac reaches Medusa of the serpent curls, he strangles her and as he looks at his guilty hands all the figures of his diseased imagination appear at the back of the stage, not as he thought them to be, but as they are, and they point quiet fingers of accusation as the curtain unrolls a fury of charging winged horses riding a stormy sky.

Maybe it isn't that at all, but that was what I saw in a notable performance, with Michael Kidd as the murderer and such dancers as Marjorie Tallchief, Alicia Alonso, and Janet Reed running down the scale of the twisted mind. There were particularly good performances, too, by the man of the paunch, who was a satyr and just a fat man, in turn, and by the man with the balloons, seen in tortured eyes as a fiend. Jascha Horenstein was the distinguished conductor.

But for those who like their ballet less neurotic, and even for those who like all ballet when it is good, there was "Graduation Ball," with Miss Reed and Mr. Kidd its lightfooted youngsters, Alpheus Koon and John Taras its amusing oldsters, John Kriza and its gala drummer boy, Alicia Alonso its ballerina, and Tommy Rall letting you know he is a boy to watch. It was all very gay with Daniel Saidenberg at the helm, and the aftermath of "Black Swan" was the cherry on top. Miss Kaye and Mr. Eglevsky make a handsome team of strong, brilliant dancers, and tho there was a slip that marred the end of the adagio, their variations and coda had a truly festive glitter.

Greek Club's Dance Tomorrow to Give Aid to Athens U.

With news that ticket sales to the Greek Women's University club dance tomorrow night have swelled the club's fund for aid of the war depleted University of Athens to nearly $6,000, the party promises to be a particularly festive affair. The money, raised largely thru individual contributions, will go toward equipment of a physics laboratory for the overseas university. Present as special guest at the dance will be Anthony Poumpouras, Greek consul in Chicago. Among others attending will be members of the Hellenic Men's Professional club, who have aided the university women in their drive for funds. Mrs. Peter G. Shepis is president of the Greek Women's club, and Miss Diane Delroy is chairman for the ball.

Asks Women's Education Be Given Women

It was an old fashioned theory, but it's new again. Women should be educated differently from men.

Dr. Frederick Hard

At least so said one of the country's widely known educators, Dr. Frederick Hard, president of Scripps college, Claremont, Cal., yesterday. Dr. Hard, by no means a die hard but a progressive educator, expressed this opinion at the opening session of the 60th annual meeting of the Modern Language Association of America in the Stevens hotel. The meeting, which has attracted 2,000 language teachers and professors from all parts of the country, will close tomorrow. Associated groups also are meeting in other locations thruout the city.

"Most girls today are educated in co-education schools and receive a man's education," Dr. Hard maintained. "That is all right if they intend to pursue a man's vocation, but most women tend to have their careers at home. A certain type of curriculum which can be shaped to fit a woman's future is the best type of education for a young girl. A girls' school is able to do this."

A liberal arts course, with required studies in the humanities, is the best curriculum for women, Dr. Hard insisted. Scripps college, one of the outstanding women's schools on the Pacific coast, was the first college to introduce the humanities as required studies.

"Every student at Scripps is required to coördinate her special interests, whatever they may be, whether in the fields of literature, language, history, the arts, or the social sciences, with the curriculum studies in the history of man's progress from the ancient world thru the contemporary scene," Dr. Hard said.

"There is a great deal of deadwood in many a college curriculum. A woman in a co-educational institution taking a physics course gets the physics that an engineer needs. That's all right if she's going to become an engineer, but the chances are she won't. She should be studying those subjects that will give her a fuller and more interesting home life, art, music, literature, and the like."

Asked for the chief disadvantage of a co-educational school for a girl, Dr. Hard replied succinctly, "There are too many distractions."

FASHIONS By Angela

Suits for growing girls of ages 7 to 14 are appearing in styles as exciting as those of their co-ed sisters. They are of soft woolens in luscious colors and in vivid plaids or checks, ideal for wear now under heavy coats and perfect for the first warm spring days.

The loafer suit of soft 100 per cent wool flannel at the left is just like big sister's. The front is of light green and the back, sleeves, collar, side slit pockets, and skirt are beige. The skirt, with a zipper closing, has a single kick plait front and back. It is available also in a beige and brown combination.

The cardigan suit in the center has an interesting flange detail on each side of the jacket. Collarless, with buttons matching the material, it has two patch pockets. The skirt has two plaits front and back and the new corselet waistband, with loops for a narrow belt. It is available in coral, cocoa, tan, and maize.

The jerkin outfit of navy blue wool at the right may be worn with long or short sleeved blouses and sweaters. The jacket is bound with red, white, and blue plaid, and the blue material buttons have the same piping. An unusual detail is the cut of the extended shoulder. The full skirt has double box plaits front and back.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Dec. 27—Bill Perlberg is trying to get Clark Gable for "Forever Amber." No harm tryin'. . . . Charles Boyer gave himself and Twentieth Century a Christmas present. He signed to do one picture a year for Darryl Zanuck. . . . Mike Curtiz will soon be conferring with Vera Zorina about that big ballet picture he'll make as one of his independent productions. What happened to Vera in her last picture for Warners, "On Your Toes," shouldn't have happened to a dog, much less to a beautiful dancer. . . . Metro will remake the French film "Ballerina" with Margaret O'Brien and Tamara Toumanova starring. . . . Grace Moore writes that she'll arrive here Jan. 16 for her concert two days later. Her American tour will be ended sooner than expected, so she can go to Europe for more concerts before starting rehearsals for "Madame Pompadour" in July.

There's No Sale—So Far

Orson Welles is trying like mad to sell the film he took in South America. R. K. O. turned the footage over to Orson, and he got a fine story to go with it. Now he's offering the thing complete for $200,000. Jimmy Cagney has looked at it; so have half the people in town. But it'll be two years before enough technicolor to finish the picture can be had. In that time anything can happen. . . . Two and a half years ago I was importuned by Twentieth to do a story on a little girl they'd chosen for "Song of Bernadette." Her name was Jennifer Jones. At a luncheon she told me of her happy marriage with Bob Walker, of their two boys, but added, "I believe we're not to mention that I have children." I found her delightfully simple, natural, and unassuming. As you know, she won an "Oscar" for her first picture. Now she's back at Twentieth in "Cluny Brown." But she's not lunching with the press or giving out interviews. She prefers a deep cloak of silence. Otto Preminger has Jennifer for Elizabeth Janeway's story, "Daisy Kenyon." It's the tale of a girl who falls in love with a married man, but when a younger suitor comes along, falls out. . . . Jane Russell is one of our paradoxes. Nobody looks more sexy, but she's actually a home loving, husband loving normal girl who wants to look that way. They have to battle her to get her to pose for even those sexy stills. Hollywood can have its glamor—Jane just wants Bob Waterfield.

Gold Star at the Gleasons'

Russell Gleason's accident was too tragic. Thruout the war the Jimmy Gleason home was a regular service camp. It never was without a man in uniform. Now their only son won't be among the boys returning home. . . . Larry Storch, the sailor mimic about whom I've told you, did himself up proud on that two hour Christmas show. He got a bigger hand than the old timers. After a couple of writers picked him up in Palm Springs, thru which he was hitch-hiking home, jobs have been rolling in for Larry. And how he delivers! . . . Typical of Kay Kyser and Ida Koverman to take a Christmas show to boys still in camp. They had a nice gang. What with Jane Powell, Celeste Holm, Audrey Totter, Marion Bell, Dickie Love, Howard Hartman, and Joe Sullivan giving out with the works, the show couldn't miss. . . . Conrad Janis of the New York stage gets a good role in "Life with Father." . . . Russell Hayden, ex-husband of Jan Clayton, goes into the new Pine and Thomas opus, "Seven Were Saved." He's spending the holidays with a daughter in New Mexico. . . . That Pine and Thomas outfit is the most unorthodox caster in town. Having put their barber, secretary, and publicity man in pictures, they told Screen Guide to pick the first good looking girl who came along Hollywood and Vine, and they'd give her a role in "Big Town," if she wanted to act. The boys waited five hours before the proper looker showed up. She was Stella Fleeman of Santa Monica, who not only got a part but a contract as well.

Thru the Looking Glass

This is the season, especially if you step out a good deal, when you'll wish as you climb into your low cut evening clothes that you'd done all the things you should have done the whole year 'round to keep the skin of your back and your arms just as fine and smooth as the skin of your face! It's not pleasant to survey your back and find it dingy, or to realize that in your evening gown your elbows are going to stand out like two black smudges against the white of your arms.

Reach for the scrubbing brush. Not the one you clean the floor with; take something smaller and a shade less stiff, like a bath brush or a hand or complexion brush. Warm water, bland soap, and vigorous scrubbings will remove all the scaly skin on your elbows and your back—loosen the blackheads, too, and in general bring the tone of the skin up to something approximating radiance.

The skin won't take to this strenuous treatment too kindly if you don't offset it with generous creaming. Use cleansing cream and a lubricating cream before the scrubbing; afterward apply the richest cream you can find and leave it on as long as you possibly can—preferably overnight, tho this will entail swaddling yourself in towels to spare the bed linen.

Friction and creaming and deep cleansing are the only things that help remove dingy, scaly skin. This treatment daily should show some improvement in a week. And, when you do go out, make up your arms and your back as carefully as you do your face, with a liquid powder or one of the cake make-ups in a tint that matches your own skin tint exactly.

'Frontier Gal' Script Is Poor; Acting Is, Too

"FRONTIER GAL"

By Mae Tinée

As a western, "Frontier Gal" breaks a lot of rules. Generally the rugged hombre's true love is very much a lady, even if she can shoot like Buffalo Bill, and kisses are limited to the last reel. This horse opry has a great deal of clinching in it, and even involved matrimony and a baby. The heroine makes no attempt at being a lady. In fact, Yvonne de Carlo is supposed to be a hell cat, but, considering the lady's ineffectual work and the hero's obvious brawn, that angle is more funny than furious.

Rod Cameron is a big bold rancher who rides a black horse and wears black shirts and sombrero and even black gloves. He's hunting the cuss who killed his pardner, and even if he is a little vague about it all, he gets his man, as you might know.

He encounters Miss De Carlo, proprietress of the Red Horse saloon, who attracts him considerably—even tho he's engaged to a respectable school marm—and when he offers to buy the gal a ring she mistakes his intentions as honorable and gets all set for a wedding. When the bridegroom demurs, she handles her own shotgun for the ceremony, then turns him over to the sheriff, who wants him for manslaughter. He escapes, but, after a brief and ridiculous honeymoon episode, is hauled off to jail. Six years later he turns up; no one has aged a bit, but a perky little girl is introduced as his daughter. He decides her mama's saloon is no fittin' place for the child, and the argument starts all over again.

Mr. Cameron certainly takes a beating. He's slugged, punched, and kicked by a good many people, particularly by his wife and daughter, but he does fairly well with a clumsy role, and little Beverly Simmons is an attractive youngster, if not exactly a child genius as far as ability goes.

Some of the love scenes are unintentionally funny, and the complications are numerous and corny, especially those in which the little girl is out on a limb, a very obviously dubbed-in one.

Miss De C. wears some of the gaudiest costumes any small frontier town ever saw, including a hat covered with feathers, as big as a super-duper wedding cake, and which stays firmly in place thru a fight and a horseback ride. Apparently it would take an earthquake to dislodge it. Her acting is atrociously amateurish—you'll see better in a high school play—but even a Bernhardt would have trouble with this script.

Not So Intriguing

"RIVER GANG"

Produced by Universal, directed by Charles David, featuring Gloria Jean, John Qualen, Bill Goodwin, Keefe Brasselle, Sheldon Leonard, Gus Schilling, Vince Barnett, Bob Homans, Jack Grimes, Mendy Koenig, Rocco Lanzo, and Douglas Croft. Also presented at the Palace.

Here's pretty little Gloria Jean all tangled up in fantasy again. This time it's her old Uncle Bill who fills her full of fairy tales, and as Wendy she's locked up in a pawn shop and allowed to mingle only with old Tobey jugs, etc., with which she converses freely. In spite of her guardian's best efforts, she gets mixed up with a gang of local window breaking boys. Enter a mysterious one legged man with a violin case and before you can say baloney, Wendy and her little friends are wiping out a crime wave with the greatest of ease.

Some of the youngsters in the cast are occasionally amusing, but I doubt if any one over 10 will be intrigued with "River Gang."

INSTALMENT XLVII.

LUGGAGE FOUND

Down in the basement the inspector had been taking measurements of both Maud's and Olive's brogues. Sevens, in each case; like Miss Trimble's. Still aware of those tireless movements next door Avis dozed from fatigue and awoke to the mixture of slur and squeak that twice had defied comprehension. This was a dream, and her subconsciousness had given the answer.

Not—O, it couldn't be 10 past 6?

Fingers of wan gray light on the landing. Sgt. Biggs uprisen, tentative, while farther down the inspector answered his call.

"Now?" the low rumble mounted. "Right, I'll come round."

The front door thudded.

Back in gloom Avis wiggled into the dark slacks she had laid ready, groped for her jacket, zipped it to the chin. Sneakers. Now her flashlight—and Maud's leather gardening gloves, brought up from the coat cupboard hours ago.

Maud's motive was known. But so was Olive's. Which of these two women was to spend the next night behind bars? Suppose it was the wrong one? All her galvanized effort was to creep, step by noiseless step, past the main stairhead to the dark one at the back without letting the sergeant know.

It had been childishly simple. Now the basement door was pushed to and thick walls lay between a drowsy policeman and a spaniel's curtailed wuff. She had nothing to fear. Almost at once, however, she tripped over a flower pot. Apparently both Robin and Moravian slumbered on. She scudded silently over the lawn.

She'd made it! Mist veiled the house, lay like a silver starred shroud over the nettles directly under her eye—the only nettles anywhere close to the front gates. They surged near the site of the burned factory.

There still wasn't sufficient light she realized. Now she had plunged into the thicket her heart sank with dismay. Still she worked forward, bruising her feet on half-buried stones, fanning intrepidly to left and right, burrowing in every direction for the smooth solid object she knew must be here. Twice the blood zoomed in her ears as her clumsy glove fingers closed on something that felt like metal. Each time she dropped the old fragment of rusted iron in disgust, and hunted on. Her cheeks smarted with nettle stings. Stumbling over an unseen boulder she steadied herself by a clutch at the rough pillar, and of a sudden scrunched down on a curiously bare heap of stones.

She began a furious scrabbling. In two seconds she had laid bare a section of worm eaten board!

It looked like the lid of an old packing case. She pried it up and uttered a gasp. A hole? Empty and bottomless. Not just a surface hole dug for burying a weapon, but an entrance into what must surely be the cellar of the begone factory. Cautiously she got her feet inside and wormed forward. The next instant something gave and she slithered, like a grain sack thru a chute.

Shaken, she rose to a tremulous stand. Round her spread a low, irregular cavern, three of its walls formed of earth and rubble, the fourth a barrier of oddly familiar yellow brick. Tiny, but roofed over with concrete, like the tunnel, only here the ceiling was badly seamed and fire blackened, ready at any moment to come down. Even as she got her breath a jagged lump of cement loosened by her abrupt descent fell just past her nose, but she hardly noticed it, for her torch had shown her the one bizarre and incongruous object the burrow contained: A new pigskin suitcase, parked against the wall.

It struck her immediately that nothing in the bag had been disturbed. On top was the black blouse just as she had stuffed it back, complete with its little winking diamond star. Underneath, garments and toilet articles jumbled in confusion. No revolver? Naturally, there wouldn't have been time to bring it down here. No, it was where she had reasoned it would be, lurking deep down among the weeds. Miss Trimble's worn handbag tumbled into her lap. Empty. A book on astrology. Not a darned thing except the crumpled wad of paper that had got accidentally thrown in. Some of her excitement waned. There wouldn't be finger prints on the leather, even if the murderess had left any. Those other hands would have seen to that. Because, tho it was impossible to know who had transferred the suitcase into this safe cache, only one person could have got the just fired revolver into hiding across the road.

She must leave this find and get on with her search. She piled Aggie's belongings back into the case, even the meaningless paper stuffing, but she touched this again. Blotting paper! Flattening it out, she saw a clean sheet, used only once and then ripped raggedly from a pad. . . .

Torch on, she bent low, incredulously squinting at the parallel lines of a letter. Many words were decipherable, the whole must have been dashed off at a frenzied speed with a well inked pen and blotted quickly before any of it had been given a chance to dry. The torch was dimming. Already she had made out the Dear Miss Bolles, and the date Oct. 26. On the third line six and tomorrow morning were equally clear and she had just identified the word, cowshed, when a pebble bounced down the chute, striking her knee a sharp blow.

Swift darkness closed in on the cell. She heard a step close at hand, and now a shaft of blinding radiance held her dumb. She blinked, terrified, at a small gleaming circlet six inches from her nose. A low chuckle reassured her.

"O it's you, is it?" Robin tossed the revolver aside. "The artillery won't be required."

Her heart functioned again. "I suppose it was stuck down among the weeds?" she managed. "Quite. Smart girl. What put you on?"

She felt foolish. Unknown to him she held crumpled in her hand the final tag of evidence the inspector wanted in order to send a ruthless murderess to the gallows.

"Nettles," she told him. "I knew then what had happened to the gun. Of course, it was pure chance my stumbling on this hole."

"You wouldn't have," he said, "if I'd got this place tidied up. No one, not even our bright inspector, would have noticed anything rum about it at all. I was too rushed last night, but my repair work's got to be done quickly, because the blighter arrived at your conclusion by the simple process of elimination. I knew it was safe only for the night."

Bing Crosby Again Box Office Leader; Van Johnson Next

Hollywood, Cal., Dec. 27 (AP)—Bing Crosby was named the movie box office leader again in 1945 in a poll of exhibitors conducted by the Motion Picture Herald.

Ranked in the top 10 in six of the 14 annual polls, Crosby scored heavily in "Going My Way," which the Herald said has grossed 8 million dollars. Crosby also appeared this year in "Here Come the Waves," "East Side of Heaven," and "Duffy's Tavern" and served as the voice of Eddie Bracken in "Out of This World."

Van Johnson was ranked as the No. 2 drawing power, followed in order by Greer Garson, Betty Grable, and Spencer Tracy, with Humphrey Bogart and Gary Cooper tied for sixth; Bob Hope, Judy Garland, Margaret O'Brien, and Roy Rogers.

MacDowell Society

The MacDowell Society of Allied Arts will mark the Twelfth Night with a program of ancient music at 8:15 o'clock tonight in the Evanston home of Mrs. Wilder A. Pickard.

Buds Sharing Spotlight with Romantic News

ers. Miss Green, elder daughter of Gov. and Mrs. Green, went to the Harris school with the debutante and now is one of her housemates at Smith college.

Miss Katherine Ann Kittleman's grandmother, Mrs. Herbert W. Wolff of New York City, will receive with Miss Kittleman and her parents, the Halford Harrison Kittlemans, at her debut tea this afternoon in the Arts club. The assistants and their escorts will join Miss Burch's aids later at the Burches' dinner-dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingo A. Esch will introduce their daughter, Josephine, to society at a dance at 9 o'clock tonight in the Winnetka Woman's club. A midnight supper will be served. Before the dance Mr. and Mrs. Dain Fuller, who are here for the holidays from Cleveland, O., will give a dinner in the Indian Hill club for Miss Bleecker Burnett.

Because Miss Clair Curtis is in bed with flu, Mrs. Paul Wilder, who is here from California for a holiday visit, is postponing until after Jan. 1 a luncheon which she had planned to give today in the Racquet club for Miss Curtis and Miss Janet Moore.

Miss Mari Bahe will be the special guest at a luncheon which Mrs. John A. Muldoon Jr. will give today in the Woman's Athletic club.

Other Gatherings

Young people from Chicago will have an opportunity to meet their suburban contemporaries at a subscription dinner-dance for subdebutantes and their beaux tonight in the Woman's Athletic club. Among those on the committee of mothers planning the annual party are Mrs. Frederick L. Spencer, Mrs. Elliott Donnelley, Mrs. John V. Farwell III., Mrs. Walter P. Paepcke, Mrs. Movius Palmer, and Mrs. John Clay.

The Theron M. Woolsons of Winnetka will give a family party tonight in the Wilmette Woman's club to introduce their daughter, Miss June Mandeville Woolson, to family friends and to welcome their son, Lt. Robert Calhoun Woolson, and his companions back from overseas service. Lt. Woolson just has returned home and received his release from the army air forces, having completed 23 missions in the Pacific as a B-29 pilot. Here for the party, at which there will be dancing, will be Lt. Donald Wilkinson, who served with Lt. Woolson on Guam, and his family, whose home is in Benton, Wis.

Popular Designs

BY NANCY CABOT

Fruit and flower embroidery motifs are favorite designs for gift items. Cross-stitch and outline stitch are two of the simpler embroidery stitches used for this type of needlework. The hot iron transfer pattern contains 15 motifs measuring from 2 by 4½ to 3 by 4½ inches.

For the hot iron transfer pattern, No. 549, send 15 CENTS in coin (wrap coin securely) to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth av., New York 1. N. Y.

SENN LEADS TOURNEY FIVES INTO 2D ROUND

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD

REPORTS from eastern gymnasiums, where Billy Conn has been tuning up, indicate that he'll have to do a lot of work before he can hope to give Joe Louis a battle. . . . He is much slower of foot than when he entered the army and he'll need all the speed he can command against the champ. . . . Bill Veeck, former owner of the Milwaukee Brewers, will open a dude ranch 20 miles southeast of Tucson, Ariz., on New Year's day. . . . J. B. Briscoe, onetime freshman full back at the University of Southern California, has signed with the Washington Redskins. . . . Briscoe also tried his luck as a professional heavyweight fighter but didn't do so well. . . . Jim Phelan, coach of the St. Mary's football team, votes Buddy Young the fastest player he ever has seen. . . . Jim Benton of the Cleveland Rams and Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers, two of the National Football league's top pass catching ends, both came from Pine Bluff, Ark. . . . Notre Dame has awarded 317 basketball monograms since the sport was inaugurated at the university in 1897. . . . The all-time Irish record prior to the current season was 528 victories and 216 defeats. . . . In that period, the teams scored 25,773 points to 20,175 for all opponents. . . . The Southeastern baseball league invested $40,000 of its guaranty fund in Victory bonds. . . . The Oldtimers Baseball association of Oakland, Cal., finally located the silver plated baseball bat presented to George Van Haltren as the "most valuable player" in the major leagues in 1894. . . . Van Haltren, who was with the New York Giants, later taught the great Christy Mathewson a large part of his pitching repertoire. . . . The trophy has been sent to the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N. Y.

John Maluvius, once well known as a racing secretary at several tracks, is handling rail repairs and artillery material on Iwo Jima. . . . He is a lieutenant in army ordnance. . . . The Fleet City Bluejackets, who dominated west coast gridirons, also have a promising basketball squad. . . . The roster includes Scotty Hamilton of West Virginia; Mickey Quire of St. John's, Brooklyn; Joe Baker of St. Mary's [Cal.], and Renny Duiek of the Harlem Globetrotters. . . . Pete Gray, the one-armed baseball player, is preparing to open a billiard parlor in Nanticoke, Pa. . . . Boston college and Tennessee have signed a three year football contract, the first game to be played in Boston's Fenway park, Nov. 2, 1946. . . . The two schools met in the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 1, 1941, the Eagles, then coached by Frank Leahy, winning, 19 to 13, on a dash by Charley O'Rourke. . . . The Southern Golf association will order a memorial medal honoring the late Capt. Sam Perry, its former champion, who was lost on a Pacific plane flight. . . . Your Footsteps

Now we have shut the world outside again;
Behind storm windows that will bar the cold,
Harsh Winter hurls against each sturdy house
With icy fingers, threatening and bold.

We have cut off the sound of every voice
That in the Summer time rang out so clear.
Only the loudest noises from the street
Shall trickle now thru walls to reach the ear.

Somehow it's good to put away the din
For just a while, the noises and the talk.
But with the windows closed I'll miss one sound:
Your home-bound footsteps coming up the walk.

Reason for Selling

In a metropolitan paper today
A real estate ad caught my eye,
It told of a very large home for sale,
Should any one care to buy;
And it told in detail of the gardens and rooms
Which many would love to own.
Then it added: "Reason for selling—
All of our children grown."

Never, I think, have I read or heard
A story so fully told
As expressed in just those few short words,
A story so poignant, so old;
The rooms that the children scampered thru,
The trees 'neath whose shade they would play
Are all offered "at a sacrifice"
Now that they've gone away.

Two aging people, the home too large
Now that the birdlings have flown,
Their journey begun toward the setting sun—
"All of our children grown!"

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

Weber, which has been making a practice of winning holiday basketball tournaments, last night began defense of its title in the Fenwick junior invitational party with an impressive 63 to 42 victory over a St. Michael Central quintet which was outdone in talent and reach.

Weber's final aggregate was the highest ever registered in the seven year history of the tournament, chief contributor to same being Harry Ubowski with eight field goals and four penalty line successes. The winners' quarterly margins were 20-10, 35-14, and 49-30. Coach Al McGuff sent in a brand new team in the final three minutes of the last period.

St. Mel Beats Joliet Catholic

Weber, winner of the St. George holiday tourney last week, boasts a personnel which was good enough to take part in that senior competition, but still fulfills the height requirement for the junior set. They may have a right smart time of it tonight, however, for they meet a speedy and aggressive St. Mel five which last night won the thriller of the tournament, 40 to 39, against a hustling Joliet Catholic High team which stayed in the game to the last seconds.

Survivors tonight will go into semi-final competition at 8 and 9 tomorrow night, the same hours as the third place and championship games of Sunday.

St. Philip, led by a bespectacled young man named Mike Stenson, who compiled a personal total of 17 points, off of six field goals and five free throws, was in command thruout its game with Holy Trinity, leading by 16 to 9 at the quarter, 28 to 15 at the half, and 46 to 27 going into the final period. Mount Carmel, paced by Jack Kelleher's nine points, had equally as little trouble with St. Patrick, moving from an 8 to 3 quarterly advantage to an ultimate 32 to 18 decision.

Spectacular Battle

The St. Mel-Joliet Catholic contest was a battle from start to finish, altho the west siders always managed to stay in front. With Neil Malone spearheading its first quarter attack, the Cadet five was 9 to 4 to the good after the first period, and Bob Martin and Walter Pascal extended that to 18 to 12 by the half time intermission. This grew into a 29 to 23 profit for the three-quarters route, but Joliet charged thru the last period at a pace which brought them within a point at 38 to 37 and the eventual final score, 40 to 39.

Thirty-eight fouls were assessed during the game, 23 of them against the downstaters, resulting in the eviction of Gene Sari and Jim Gannon. Lineups:

Senn High school's defending champions will lead a field of 14 survivors into the second round of the 26th annual University of Chicago interscholastic tournament on the Midway today. The north siders, who defeated Marshall, 41 to 32, yesterday, will battle South Shore at 5 p. m. in what well may develop into the outstanding duel of the tournament.

South Shore, a pre-tournament favorite, advanced by eliminating Gage Park, 38 to 30. The South Shore-Gage Park and Senn-Marshall duels, both on yesterday's matinee program, attracted the biggest crowd of the meet to date—2,800.

Austin Meets Amundsen

Austin, victor over Tilden in the first round upper bracket play on Wednesday, will open today's schedule at 1 p. m. against Amundsen.

Parker High school became the last team to gain the second round when it defeated Dunbar, 34 to 29.

Earlier the 1,500 fans gathered for the night session in the university field house watched the Chicago Vocational and Fenger fives advance. Vocational defeated Tuley, 33 to 23, while Fenger, after leading most of the way, had to come from behind to whip Steinmetz, 33 to 31.

Farragut, Lane, and Du Sable also qualified for today's eight game second round program with matinee victories.

Fenger Barely Survives

Steinmetz' display of scoring power in the second half nearly upset Fenger after the Titans had held a commanding advantage. Fenger clung to a slim 29 to 26 lead as the fourth period opened, but this vanished as Don Kowal's free shot and Dick Pascus' basket tied it at 29-all. Steinmetz forged ahead, 31 to 29, on Ray Stemke's basket, but this lead was shortlived. Fenger took command again when Dick Godshall's basket followed John DeHamer's free throw.

Parker held an 18 to 10 advantage at half time, but Dunbar chopped away at this and moved into an 18-all tie midway in the third period. It was tied at 19 and 21-all before Jim Foster's basket put Parker ahead as the period ended. He followed with a free throw and another basket in the fourth quarter to push Parker into a safe lead.

Gage Park's Rally Fails

Senn's accuracy at the free throw line was responsible for its victory in a game marked by 52 personal fouls. The Bulldogs made good on 23 of 35 attempts, while Marshall missed 16 of 24.

South Shore staved off a spirited second half rally to defeat Gage Park, 1944 runner-up, with the Tars' ability to control the rebounds insuring victory. Bob Danaher's 21 points paced the winners.

Forward Stan Feldman scored 11 points as Farragut rallied to defeat Kelvyn Park, 32 to 24, after trailing, 14 to 11, at the intermission.

Lane was paced by Bato Govedarica's 19 points as it halted Hirsch's last minute bid and gained a 37 to 33 triumph.

Du Sable defeated Sullivan, 33 to 32, on a free shot scored by Alfred Jackson after the gun sounded. The score was tied, 32-all, when Jackson was fouled just as time ran out.

DRAYTON LIKELY TO HEAD RACING NATIONAL POLICE

New York, Dec. 27 [Special]—Spencer Drayton, former head of the federal bureau of investigation in Chicago, tomorrow is to be appointed head of the Thorobred Racing Association of America's new investigation bureau, the New York Daily News said tonight.

Drayton resigned from the FBI within the last year after being appointed head of the Chicago office in 1944. The thorobred racing association, with a membership comprised of 33 of the nation's foremost tracks, announced early this month that it would appoint a man to head a nation-wide detective force, being established to guard the tracks against undesirable characters.

Columbus, O., Dec. 27 [Special]—Ohio State continued its winning ways in basketball here tonight and defeated Michigan State, 62 to 42. The victory was the 15th straight for the Buckeyes on their home floor.

Ohio gained an 18 to 0 lead, which Michigan State had reduced to 28 to 22 at the half. In the fourth period, after running up a lead of 51 to 29, the Buckeyes dipped into the fourth string for players.

Snyder Is High Scorer

Ray Snyder, diminutive Ohio forward, scored 18 points on seven baskets and four free throws. The leading Spartan scorer was Center Matt Mazza with 9 points.

The Buckeyes were too fast and rugged for the Spartans, who were forced to resort to long shots, seldom being able to get a good close range try at the basket. Ohio State made 26 baskets in 72 shots and Michigan State 16 of 73.

Bob Bowen Banished

Forward Bob Bowen, Ohio's leading scorer until tonight, was forced from the game early in the second half by five fouls.

The victory was the fourth in five starts for the Buckeyes, who meet Michigan here Saturday in a Big Ten game. Lineup:

Cub Candidate Roster Grows to 46 for 1946

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

The Cubs' crop of candidates for jobs next spring moved to a prospective 46 yesterday with receipt of word from Mizell Platt that he was about to get permission to doff his sailor clothes. The young man who specializes in fly chasing and is considered a better than ordinary prospect even tho he has seen practically no service as a Cub, expects to leave San Francisco within a few days.

Platt was with the Cubs in their 1943 camp at French Lick, Ind., and soon thereafter was farmed out to the Nashville club, going from there to the navy. He hit .358 that season in 92 games. When he is moved from the Cubs' national defense to the active list he'll make the eighth outfield candidate.

Because of the quantity of athletes on hand the Cubs will put a B team on tour during their stay in California next spring. Twelve exhibitions have been booked for the squad, as follows:

March 15 Los Angeles at Fullerton; March 16 and 17 San Diego at San Diego; March 19 St. Louis Browns "B's" at Anaheim; March 20 Hollywood at Ontario; March 21 Los Angeles at Fullerton; March 22 Seattle at San Fernando; March 23 and 24 Hollywood at Hollywood; March 25 Los Angeles at Fullerton; March 26 Seattle at San Fernando; March 27 St. Louis Browns "B's" at Anaheim.

At least two Chicago lads, both with enviable war records, will be among the 200 or more present in the Cubs' reconditioning camp scheduled to run for two months starting Jan. 15 at Lake Worth, Fla. One is Joe Damato, 23, a third baseman who aims to get ready to resume playing ball with the Cubs' Portsmouth, Va., farm club. Damato, who wears the Presidential citation, was wounded in the Battle of the Bulge and captured at Bastogne. He was liberated after five months in a prison camp near Hamburg, Germany. Geo Kwasniewski, 22, who has been assigned to the Cubs' new farm club at Davensport, Ia., wears the air medal, two oak leaf clusters and the Presidential citation as the result of 24 missions in the European theater.

M'MILLIN GETS COAST AWARD FOR ATHLETICS

Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 27 (AP)—Alvin N. [Bo] McMillin, coach of Indiana university's big ten championship football team, was awarded the Los Angeles Times national sports award in absentia tonight in Los Angeles. McMillin was unable to attend the dinner at which the award was presented.

The award for special contribution in the field of athletics was received for McMillin by R. E. Le Grant of Los Angeles, brother-in-law of Carl E. [Swede] Anderson, assistant Indiana coach.

Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, was awarded a plaque for outstanding contributions to war time sports reporting.

STAN KOZLOWSKI OF HOLY CROSS HAS INFLUENZA

Miami, Fla., Dec. 27 (AP)—Penicillin injections were given Stan Koslowski, star back of the Holy Cross football team, in an effort to knock out a case of flu before the Orange Bowl game here New Year's day with the University of Miami. Two Miami physicians decided on the injections rather than send him to the hospital.

Trainer Bart Sullivan of Holy Cross said Koslowski "will be lucky to play New Year's day." However, the Crusaders plan to have him out by tomorrow or Saturday, if possible. He caught a cold en route to Miami.

RAIN HITS BILOXI

Biloxi, Miss., Dec. 27 (AP)—Rains deluged the Mississippi gulf coast today, drawing varying reactions from the two coaches prepping the St. Mary's and Oklahoma A. & M. for their New Year's day meeting in the New Orleans Sugar bowl.

Coach Jim Phelan said his St. Mary's boys would go ahead with their scheduled outdoor practice.

TULSA TEAM CHECKS IN

Houston, Tex., Dec. 27 [Special]—The University of Tulsa squad, one-half of the Oil bowl football attraction here next Tuesday, arrived today to be greeted by a reception committee which included the Elkadettes, girls drill team of the local Elks lodge. The welcome included a kiss for Full Back Camp Wilson from the blonde leader.

Coach Henry Frnka sent the visitors thru a limbering up drill on arrival. Georgia Tech, Tulsa's opponent in the bowl, is due at 8:25 a. m. tomorrow.

TIDE, TROJANS BUSY

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 27 (AP)—Alabama's football team, unwinding the travel kinks in preparation for its Rose bowl battle with Southern California New Year's day, zipped thru two workouts today—a heavy morning scrimmage and a lighter afternoon drill.

Coach Frank Thomas took the 34-man squad to Occidental college field for an hour and a half morning session, and the southerners returned to pass and punt later in the day.

With the exception of Half Back Lowell Tew, who has a broken jaw, the team appeared to be in fine trim. Coach Thomas said he was having a special headgear built for Tew and hoped the 18 year old sophomore would be able to start.

Meanwhile, Coach Jeff Cravath put the Trojans thru a two hour session across town, as Southern California reopened classes and practice went back to one a day.

HINKEL NAMED PUBLICITY CHIEF AT NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Ind., Dec. 27 [Special]—Maj. John V. Hinkel has been appointed director of publicity at the University of Notre Dame, the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the university, said today.

Hinkel, who is on terminal leave from the army, succeeds J. Walter Kennedy, who resigned to become vice president of the Scholastic Sports Institute in New York City. Hinkel will assume his duties at Notre Dame on Jan. 1.

A graduate of Notre Dame in 1929, Hinkel served as correspondent for the Washington Post in 1930 and 1931 and later joined the news staff of the New York Times. He obtained a leave of absence in 1940 to enter the army as a military intelligence reserve officer.

Raymond J. Donovan will remain as assistant publicity director.

STERLING BEATS ROCKFORD EAST IN DE KALB MEET

Meets Aurora West in Semi-Final Today

De Kalb, Ill., Dec. 27 [Special]—The Sterling Township High school basketball team, which provided the major upset of the De Kalb vacation basketball tournament when it defeated Rockford East, 30 to 29, this afternoon, will meet Aurora West tomorrow in the first of the semi-final games. The latter team advanced thru a 50 to 37 conquest of Sycamore.

Today's quarter-finals setback was the first defeat for Rockford East this season, its six straight victories including one last week over Sterling.

Glenbard became the third semi-finalist by beating Riverside, 49 to 44, tonight, despite a 26 point scoring spree by Dean Froelich, the losers' center.

Kirkland earned the fourth semi-final spot with a 42 to 32 triumph over Joliet, its 11th straight victory of the season. Burdette Thurlby, Kirkland center, scored 23 points, bringing his total for two tourney games to 51. Lineups:

HAWKS' HOLIDAY JOURNEY IS NO VACATION TRIP

Manager Johnny Gottselig and his Chicago Blackhawks left last night on the first leg of a journey that will find them celebrating the New Year in New York. Along the way, of course, there will be a couple of National Hockey league games, first of which will send the Chicagoans on the ice tomorrow night against the Canadiens in Montreal.

The second leg of the trip will be by plane from Montreal to New York, where the Hawks will oppose the Rangers on Sunday night.

SCHOTT FACES BAKSI

New York, Dec. 27 [Special]—Freddy Schott of Paterson, N. J., and Joe Baksi of Kulpmont, Pa., heavyweights, will meet in a 10 pound bout headlining a show in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

CALUMET CITY PREP TOURNEY CLOSES TONIGHT

Championship honors in the two day high school holiday basketball tournament sponsored by Thornton Fractional High school in Calumet City will be decided tonight. Four survivors of first round games in the eight team meet will meet in the semi-finals this afternoon, with the losers playing for third place as a preliminary to the evening title affair.

Kankakee and York will meet in the first semi-final as a result of one point triumphs yesterday afternoon. Kankakee trailed Argo until the fourth quarter then won, 40 to 39, while York edged out Lockport, 42 to 41. The host school beat Blue Island, 48 to 35, in the first game of the night session.

Bradley qualified as Calumet City's opponent in the second semi-final by beating Bloom Township, 67 to 36, in the last game of the first round. Lineups:

WINN'S DERBY MAY 4 MADE $100,000 EVENT

Louisville, Ky., Dec 27 (AP)—Matt J. Winn, president of Churchill Downs, announced today that the 72d running of the Kentucky Derby would be held here May 4 and that the added money would be increased from $75,000 to $100,000.

The nomination fee for the Derby will be increased from $25 to $50, with $1,000 additional to start. Gross money will include awards to the second, third, and fourth horses of $10,000, $5,000, and $2,000, respectively.

The trainer of the winning horse will receive $3,000, with $2,000 and $1,000 going to trainers of the second and third horses.

The $100,000 added money will make the 1946 Kentucky Derby the richest in history.

2 NORTH SHORE TRAINING CLUBS HOLD CLASSES

BY BOB BECKER

Dog owners on the north shore who want to learn how to train their pets in obedience can go to a training school starting Thursday Jan. 3 in the fieldhouse of New Trier High school, Winnetka. William Schafer, the director of training for the New Trier club said yesterday the first weekly class of the new year will convene at 8 p. m., Jan. 3.

New members are accepted at the first meeting of each month. Any one desiring to train his dog to be an obedient companion may obtain additional information about this practical school by telephoning Winnetka 558 or Glenview 270.

Must Do Own Training

This training school and the others established in various parts of the Chicago area are designed to teach the owner how to educate a pet in obedience. Dog owners cannot take their dogs to this school to be trained by some one else. The owner must attend the classes to learn simple training routines to gain control over his pet. Charges for the teaching are nominal as the club is a nonprofit organization.

The North Shore Dog Training club, another organization of amateurs who meet weekly to learn the fundamentals of obedience work for all breeds of canines, will hold its annual obedience trial Jan. 27, in the Rainbow Arena, 4836 N. Clark st. Members of this group assemble in the Evanston Township High school Wednesday evenings at 8 p. m. to train their dogs. There are no restrictions on breeds eligible for the classes of this organization or in the New Trier club. You can bring to class any breed from a Pomeranian to a St. Bernard and learn how to teach such a pet to come when called, walk at heel, sit down, and other commands.

Will Hold Venison Dinner

One of the big midwinter meetings of northern Illinois sportsmen is scheduled for Jan. 16 when Pheasants Unlimited will hold a venison dinner at 7:30 p. m. at the Lions' hall, 4306 W. North av. Fred Roth, chairman of the committee, says all sportsmen are invited. Dinner tickets are $4. State and federal conservation officials are scheduled to speak after the dinner.

Fullerton, 72, Veteran Sport Writer, Dies

Clearwater, Fla., Dec. 27 [Special]—Hugh Fullerton, one of few survivors of the days when sports and the writing thereof was in its infancy, died today at his home near Tarpon Springs. He was 72 and about 40 of these years were spent in press boxes, chiefly as a baseball writer.

Hugh Fullerton

Fullerton first broke into the headlines in 1906 when as a CHICAGO TRIBUNE reporter he devised a system which to him proved the White Sox, a weak hitting team, would trim the powerful Cubs in the All-Chicago world series of that fall. His prediction came true, inducing him to come thru later with various stories based on what he termed "inside baseball."

Was Long Term Frat Pledge

In recent years he lived in retirement except for the writing of a few articles for magazines.

Born at Hillsboro, O., Fullerton entered Ohio State university in 1882 and was pledged Sigma Chi, but before the initiation could be held he had become an ex-student. In December of 1928 at which time he was conducting a column for a Columbus newspaper, the long postponed initiation took place.

Helps Form Association.

Fullerton was one of the writers who took a leading part in the formation of the Baseball Writers of America, an association which now controls the press boxes in all major league parks. Fullerton was one of the writers who tired of finding the press box filled by actors especially in New York, and leading advertisers. He last served with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in 1920, 1921, and 1922.

VAST BUSINESS OF SEARS TO BE DECENTRALIZED

Regional Units Get Wide Autonomy

BY THOMAS FURLONG

The billion dollar a year business of Sears, Roebuck & Co. will be decentralized under plans announced yesterday by Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board. Administration of the vast mail order and retail business which has trebled in size in the last decade will be broken into regional units that will function with a large degree of autonomy.

Gordon B. Hattersley

"We are trying to avoid the sins of burocracy which can be as pernicious in business as in government," said Gen. Wood. "We hope our program will set the pattern for other national corporations many of whom now direct all their affairs from offices in New York. Sears has already carried decentralization of its activities much farther than most large corporations and this is another and important step in that direction."

Two New Regional Units

Sears is establishing two new regional administrative units, one comprising the eastern states and the other the southern states. Pacific coast operations are now administered on a regional basis.

Herbert F. Murphy

Gordon B. Hattersley, operating vice president of Sears since 1939, was put in charge of the eastern territory with headquarters in Philadelphia. Jackson F. Moore, vice president in charge of Chicago stores, will direct operations in the southern states from headquarters in Atlanta. Succeeding Moore in the Chicago post is Herbert F. Murphy who has been retail field officer in the middle west. All three are directors of the company. The Chicago operations under Murphy's direction include seven large department stores in the city, one in Gary, and 14 suburban stores. J. L. Hemphill will take over Murphy's former position as retail field officer.

Sears' national headquarters in Chicago will continue under the new system to direct all buying for the entire organization. The regional vice presidents, however, will have direct charge of merchandising, accounting, banking, and other activities in their territories. For many years Sears has maintained large merchandise warehouses in all sections of the country.

Jackson F. Moore

Significance of Changes

The significance of the changes announced by the company lies in the conception of business management that has evolved in the Sears organization and differs radically from that followed by many other corporations.

"The bigger a corporation gets the more it tends to become a burocracy," explained Gen. Wood. "Decisions must be constantly deferred pending confirmation from the head offices. This results in delay in making vital decisions and impairs efficiency. We are striving to get away from this handicap."

The Sears chairman referred caustically to the big corporations that maintain offices in New York from which they direct operations carried on in other parts of the country.

"New York is the worst possible center from which to direct a nation-wide business," he said.

When an associate intimated that the statement might better be off the record Gen. Wood first agreed and then added: "I don't care, you can quote me on it if you wish." He commended news articles and editorials that have appeared in THE TRIBUNE which have called attention to the concentration of business management in New York, far from the scene of actual operations.

May Spend 20 Millions

Gen. Wood said that Sears probably will spend 20 million dollars in 1946 on store enlargements and improvements. The speed with which the program will be carried out will depend on the availability of materials.

"If we can get merchandise 1946 will be a big year," he said. "Right now all kinds of bottlenecks are developing. At the moment we are unable to get motors for electric refrigerators."

All war time "ersatz" merchandise has been eliminated from Sears' inventory, said Wood. Inventories in many categories are smaller than a year ago altho the total dollar volume is higher because the company has new stocks of some goods, including auto tires, that were at a low point or missing a year ago.

In response to a question Gen. Wood said that Sears profits should be materially higher in 1946 because of the expiration this year of the excess profits tax. He predicted more competition in the retail field in the next few years, but displayed no concern about the prospect.

"Everybody is trying to get into the other fellow's business," he observed.

The decentralization program is an outgrowth of an experiment begun five years ago when the Pacific coast operations were established on a regional basis under the direction of Arthur S. Barrows, now president of the company. The results achieved were so good that it was decided to extend the plan to the rest of the organization. Eventually it is expected the operations in the southwestern states will be administered on the same basis, making five regional units in all including the middle west.

The eastern territory includes the New England states, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland. The southern area covers Virginia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and eastern Arkansas. The changes go into effect Feb. 1.

OPA TO LET DEALERS REPLENISH DEPLETED SUGAR INVENTORIES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—OPA today announced retailers and wholesalers may replenish their sugar stocks if inventories have been depleted. They may apply between Jan. 1 and Feb. 16 for an adjustment, but must show hardship, as a result of depleted inventories or a shortage of ration currency.

If an applicant's actual stock is more than 50 per cent of his permanent allowable inventory, he will be granted an adjustment up to 100 per cent of his allowable inventory. If it is 50 per cent or less, he will be eligible for an adjustment up to 75 per cent.

Because of current scarcity of sugar, ration checks covering such adjustments will not be issued until after next March 1.

OPA POSTPONES EFFECTIVE DATE OF SHIRT RULES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—OPA today postponed the effective dates for price ceilings and other requirements of a new regulation covering manufacturers' sale of men's and boys' shirts, shorts, and pajamas.

Three deadlines were extended because, as the result of the holidays, OPA said, some manufacturers may need more time to study the new prices.

Price reports will be due Jan. 20 instead of Jan. 10. Manufacturers will not be permitted to sell or deliver these garments after Feb. 1, instead of Jan. 21, unless required reports have been filed and acknowledgment by OPA has been received. Ceiling prices provided under the new regulation will apply on all sales on and after Feb. 1, unless a manufacturer wishes to price under the regulation earlier. This is an extension from Jan. 21.

U. S. TO SUPPORT EGGS AT 29 CENT PRICE ON FARM

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said today the government will seek to support egg prices at levels designed to give a national average farm price of 29 cents a dozen in the heavy production season next spring. In the midwest the support price at the farm levels is designed to average 27 cents for all grades and sizes.

Randolph Bohrer Sells Apartment Building Stock

Randolph Bohrer of the law firm of Bohrer, Blackman & Loman yesterday sold all stock of 10 West Elm corporation to the Central National Bank in Chicago, trustee for two undisclosed buyers. Bohrer bought the stock last June for $800,000. His selling price was not disclosed. The corporation owns the 19 story apartment building at the northwest corner of State and Elm sts., erected in 1927 at a cost of about $1,350,000.

Terminal Bank Proposes Name Change, Stock Hike

Directors of the Terminal National Bank of Chicago, 400 W. Madison st., yesterday recommended a change of name to Chicago Terminal National bank and approved an increase in common stock from $450,000 to $750,000. Both actions are subject to the approval of shareholders, who will meet Jan. 8.

Victor Plans Phosphorus Unit in Florida

Plans of the Victor Chemical Works, Chicago, to expand its facilities for the production of elemental phosphorus—a raw material used in one form or another in virtually every line of manufacture—were announced yesterday by Walter B. Brown, executive vice president. He disclosed that the company is in process of acquiring tidewater property in western Florida, near the richest phosphate rock fields in the country. Victor registered 40,000 shares of $100 par value preferred stock with the securities and exchange commission to finance the development.

Brown said the company will make an initial expenditure of about 2 million dollars in building an electrically controled and operated furnace plant as soon as materials are available. The long range plans call for quadrupling the plant's capacity as markets develop.

Realty Deals Pending

The first of the electric furnace units to be installed on the Florida site is to be one of the largest ever constructed and the plant, when completed, will be the outstanding electro-chemical operation in the country, Brown said. The exact location in Florida will not be disclosed until certain real estate deals are completed.

Victor Chemical, which is rated as the largest independent producer of phosphorus and phosphate chemicals, already operates one of the three largest phosphorus plants in the country at Mount Pleasant, Tenn., 65 miles south of Nashville.

Phosphorus, which is extracted from the native rock by electrochemical process, is one product which the workers who produce it do not see. If phosphorus comes in contact with air it immediately bursts into flame, Brown explained, so it must be handled under water.

Has Many Uses

In the final step in the manufacturing process it emerges from the furnace in the form of a vapor which is piped under water to chill it into a solid. It then is shipped in tank cars or big drums to the company's plants in Chicago Heights and Nashville, Tenn., where it is processed.

Brown listed many of the uses of phosphorus and its derivatives. It is used in vitamin tablets, in the manufacture of some sulpha drugs, for atabrine, substitute for quinine, as a nutrient to speed the production of penicilin, and in soaps, plastics, and automobile body finishes.

Paradoxically, the inflammable phosphorus when converted into other forms is used to impart flame resistant qualities to drapes and other textiles, wood and paper.

GIMBEL BOARD VOTES 3 FOR 2 SPLIT IN STOCK

Directors of Gimbel Brothers, Inc., yesterday voted a three for two split in the common stock and an increase in the quarterly dividend on the common from 25 cents to 30 cents. A dividend payable in one share of stock for each two shares outstanding as of Jan. 10 will be mailed about Jan. 25.

The company's Christmas sales increased about 25 per cent above a year ago. It said sales volume in the year ending Jan. 31 probably would exceed 225 million dollars compared with 194 millions in the preceding 12 months.

University Bank Votes 33⅓% Dividend in Stock

Directors of the University National bank yesterday declared a 33⅓ per cent dividend payable Jan. 1 in stock, increasing capital stock from $300,000 to $400,000, C. W. Hoff, president, announced. The regular semi-annual cash dividend of $3 also was ordered.

Jeannette Glass Dividend Clears Stock's Arrears

Directors of Jeannette Glass company yesterday declared a dividend of $15 on the 7 per cent preferred stock, clearing all arrears. The last payment was $7.50 on Oct. 20.

STOCK MARKET TURNS LOWER; LIQUORS CLIMB

Specialties Retain Recent Strength

New York, Dec. 27 (AP)—Stocks generally were lower today, altho strength persisted among liquors and assorted specialties.

Prices dipped after a fairly active and steady opening. Recently climbing rails, mail orders, aviations, utilities, and coppers lost fractions to about 3 points, but distillers generally finished up 1 to 6. Transfers totaled 1,320,000 shares, compared with 1,410,000 yesterday.

The decline was attributed chiefly to year-end selling to establish tax profits under the 25 per cent capital gains rule. Earnings and dividends aided individual favorites.

Schenley opened an hour late on a 2,600 share block, up 4 at a new high, subsequently doubled this, and closed with a net gain of 6 at 101. A pleasing quarterly statement was a buoying factor.

On a spotty Curb market Mercantile Stores rose 15 points on restricted transactions.

BOND GAINS ARE SMALL

New York, Dec. 27 (AP)—The bond market made a small net advance on the average today, a result mostly of the staying power of several rails that held gains of fractions to more than a point. The list had a sizable total of unchanged or lower prices, however, as attendance in the street dropped in the interlude between Christmas and New Year's day. Sales decreased to $5,830,000 from $5,980,000 Wednesday. United States government issues and better rated corporates registered small changes either way. Foreign bonds were mixed.

CHICAGO LIST UNEVEN

Prices closed irregular in reduced turnover of 28,000 shares yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. More active issues included Domestic Industries, up ⅛; Automatic Washer, unchanged; Chicago corporation, down ⅛, and Serrick corporation, off ⅛.

George W. Borg corporation capital stock will be admitted to trading tomorrow on the Chicago Stock exchange. The company manufactures electric automobile clocks, other electronic devices, and knitted wear.

FRENCH PRICES STEADY

PARIS, Dec. 27 (AP)—The long expected devaluation of the franc was met today on the Paris bourse with larger trade than usual but with only slight changes in domestic stock prices.

LAMBS ADVANCE 25 TO 40 CENTS ON SUPPLY DROP

The lamb market yesterday soared 25 to 40 cents a hundred pounds in the liveliest trade in many weeks as receipts dropped to 7,000, the smallest for a Thursday in more than a month. Best grades reached $15.25, highest this month. Three months ago they sold for $13.25.

Farmers selling top grade lambs weighing more than 90 pounds, with the federal subsidy payment of $2.65 a hundredweight, are receiving the highest December prices in 21 years and third highest on record for December.

Broad demand held hog and cattle prices firm, with some slightly higher. Almost all hogs sold at ceiling prices. Numerous consignments of steers brought the $18 ceiling.

Chrysler Names Colbert Dodge Division President

Chrysler corporation yesterday announced the appointment of L. L. Colbert as president of the Dodge division. He was in charge of the Dodge Chicago plant during the war. Colbert, a vice president of Dodge for 10 years, succeeds H. L. Weckler, president since 1943. Weckler also is vice president and general manager of Chrysler.

28 Countries Formally Sign Bretton Pacts

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—The Bretton Woods monetary agreements were formally signed today by 28 of the 45 countries that had drafted them in July, 1944. Russia was the only big power absent, but she has until next Monday to ratify and sign as one of the original 45. The larger countries signing were the United States, Great Britain, France, and China.

The agreements establish a 9 billion 100 million dollar international bank to make loans to help rebuild and rehabilitate war torn countries and an 8 billion 800 million fund to keep world currencies stabilized.

Next Monday Is Deadline

They can be signed until next Monday by the other countries participating in the 1944 monetary conference at Bretton Woods, N. H. After that date a country wishing to participate will have to be approved by the fund or bank boards.

Appointment of boards of governors by each signatory country is the next step in placing the two institutions on a going basis.

The two agreements were signed in a 26 minute ceremony at the state department. Treasury Secretary Vinson signed for the United States, British Ambassador Halifax for Great Britain, Ambassador Henri Bonnet for France, and Ambassador Wei Tao-ming for China.

Canada Among Signatories

Other signatories were Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Canada, Colombia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, Egypt, Ethiopia, Greece, Guatemala, Honduras, Iceland, India, Iraq, Luxemburg, Netherlands, Norway, Paraguay, Philippine commonwealth, Poland, Union of South Africa, Uruguay, and Yugoslavia.

"The birth of these two great international financial institutions is not an end in itself but only a means to the end of international peace and prosperity," said Vinson at the conclusion of the ceremony. "Our task, therefore, has but just commenced."

DAIRY SUPPLIER EARNS SLIGHTLY LESS FOR YEAR

Cherry-Burrell corporation net earnings and sales in the fiscal year ended Oct. 31 were slightly below levels a year earlier, J. W. Ladd, president, said yesterday in his annual report to stockholders. Net income was $520,869, or $1.01 a share, against $533,020, or $1.04 a share. Sales amounted to $17,818,984, compared with $17,896,968 the year before.

Deliveries of dairy machinery and equipment by the Chicago manufacturer during the year exceeded the 1939-'41 average by approximately 50 per cent, Ladd said.

Wilson-Jones company, Chicago maker of loose-leaf books, ledgers, and other office supplies, said net income in the quarter ended Nov. 30 declined to $26,411 from $67,247 a year ago. Production and shipments were interrupted by a 20 day strike, said M. W. Borders, president.

FUEL SHORTAGE IS DEVELOPING, ICKES ASSERTS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—A "fuel stringency" is facing the country, Secretary of Interior Ickes said today at a news conference. Fuel oil is "tightening up" and coal production is insufficient to meet all needs, he said.

"We're paying for Mr. [John L.] Lewis' latest strike," Ickes said, adding that as for oil, it is a question of producing more fuel and less gasoline. He remarked that the oil companies make more money from producing gasoline.

Mack Rolls Its First New Bus Off Assembly Line

New York, Dec. 27 (AP)—The Mack Manufacturing corporation announced today its first new 41 passenger bus had rolled off the assembly line at Allentown, Pa. Full production schedule will be 10 buses a day. The company also announced that W. M. Walworth, acting chief engineer, had been elected vice president and chief engineer.

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

Kenneth L. Smith

Kenneth L. Smith, president of the Chicago Stock exchange since 1938, yesterday submitted his resignation to the board of governors, effective not later than next April 30. He has been associated with the exchange for 17 years. James E. Day, vice president, will act as executive officer in the event of Smith's absence before April 30. Smith did not announce his reason for resigning, nor disclose has plans.

The election of Col. Jesse G. Vincent, vice president in charge of engineering for Packard Motor Car company since 1915, to the board of directors was announced yesterday by Alvan Macauley, chairman. Vincent, who became associated with Packard in 1912, succeeds the late Truman H. Newberry, a director since the company's incorporation in 1903. Vincent will remain in active charge of Packard engineering.

Rollins Burdick Hunter company, Chicago insurance agency, announced the election of Adrian B. Palmer, who has been in the navy for almost four years, as vice president. Before entering the navy Palmer was asistant manager of the casualty insurance and surety departments.

Donold B. Lourie has been elected executive vice president of the Quaker Oats company. Formerly vice president in charge of domestic sales, Lourie has been associated with Quaker Oats since 1922. He also is a director and member of the executive committee.

Miss Dorothy L. Heald has been appointed director of the home service department of A. E. Staley Manufacturing company, Decatur, Ill. Research on corn sirup and other products will be conducted in a new experimental kitchen and expanded laboratory to be completed in January, the company said. Miss Heald was cafeteria manager in a Chicago war plant for three years and prior to that was home economist for a home appliance manufacturer for two years.

Miss Dorothy Heald

George E. Rose, vice president in charge of International Harvester's steel division, will retire next Tuesday after nearly 40 years with the company, said Fowler McCormick, president. He will be succeeded by Harry O. Bercher. Rose became associated with Harvester in 1906 as superintendent of the blast furnace department of the Wisconsin Steel Works. He has been a vice president since Oct. 1, 1937.

Howard Morton of McMaster, Hutchinson & Co. was elected president of the Bond Traders Club of Chicago. Other officers elected were Glenn Darfler of Kneeland & Co., vice president; John McHugh of Ames, Emerich & Co., secretary, and Charles Matz of Harriman Ripley & Co., treasurer.

American Gas Will Retain Its Midwest Units

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 27 (AP)—The American Gas and Electric company was given permission today by the securities and exchange commission to retain its "central system" in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, and Kentucky, but was ordered to divest itself of the Scranton [Pa.] Electric company, West Pittston-Exeter Railroad company, and Atlantic City [N. J.] Electric company and its subsidiaries.

On an asset and revenue basis, the central system constitutes approximately 85 per cent of the consolidated utility plant and consolidated operating revenues of the American Gas holding company system. The company had indicated that, if faced with a choice of retaining one system, it would elect to retain the central system.

SEC Retains Jurisdiction

The SEC decision climaxes six years of proceedings. American Gas will continue in existence as a registered holding company, subject to SEC jurisdiction.

"The relatively high degree of coordination of the [central] system's utility facilities and their relatively economical operation, which, in part, appeared to be due to common control, have led us to conclude that the system, as presently constituted, constitutes a single integrated utility system," the SEC said.

"We are of the opinion, however, that the central system approaches the maximum size which we believe is consistent with the standards of localized management, efficient operation, and effectiveness of regulation."

Other Units Valued at 74 Million

The gross utility plant of the central system totaled $442,613,000 on Dec. 31, 1944. That of the Atlantic City system was $46,006,000 and of the Scranton system, $28,072,000. In ordering divestment of these systems, the commission said "we are unable to find that common control of the three systems would not impair the advantage of localized management."

The Atlantic City subsidiaries are Deep Water Operating company and South Pennsgrove Realty company.

Properties of the central system which will be retained include: Appalachian Electric Power company, Indiana and Michigan Electric company; Kentucky and West Virginia Power company, Kingsport Utilities, Inc., Ohio Power company, Wheeling Electric company, and Kanawha Valley Power company.

ICC POSTPONES RATE ORDER UNTIL COURT RULES ON PROTESTS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27 (AP)—A 10 per cent increase in railroad frate rates for the northeast states and an equal decrease in the south and west were postponed indefinitely today. The interstate commerce commission authorized the railroads to delay the rate adjustments pending federal court action on ICC's May 15 order changing the rates. The new tariffs had been scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1.

A three judge federal court at Utica, N. Y., last Friday restrained the commission from enforcing the order until the court reached a final decision. The injunction was asked by nine northeastern states.

SHELLMAR FILES COMMON, SENIOR STOCK WITH SEC

Shellmar Products corporation yesterday registered with the securities and exchange commission 40,000 shares of $50 par 4¾ per cent preferred and 150,000 no par common shares. Public offering will be made by underwriters headed by Glore, Forgan & Co. Shellmar will buy the 600 shares of Self-Locking Carton company common not already owned.

Milwaukee Road Earnings Fall Far Under Year Ago

November net income of the Milwaukee railroad fell to $298,908 from $1,097,151 a year ago, H. A. Scandrett, president, said yesterday. Profit in the first 11 months of 1945 amounted to $7,026,361, against $10,541,866.

TRUMAN DROPS SWPC, SHIFTS AGENCY DUTIES

RFC Gets Surplus Sale, Loan Power

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 27—President Truman today ordered the Smaller War Plants corporation dissolved and its functions transferred to the Reconstruction Finance corporation and the department of commerce.

Effective Jan. 28, the lending and surplus disposal activities of the SWPC, including assistance to veterans in obtaining surplus war goods, will be shifted to the RFC, which already has broad authority in government loans and surpluses. The commerce department will take over functions dealing with surveys of small business needs and technical assistance.

The White House announcement said the executive order is an "important step" toward a permanent federal government program to assist small business to grow and prosper. The transfer of functions will simplify and unify federal aid to small business, it said.

Retain Important Activities

Representatives of the SWPC, commerce department, and RFC have conferred with the budget bureau regarding the transfer "with a view to assuring continuity in the important activities of the SWPC and security for the personnel of that corporation," the White House said.

President Truman made public letters he wrote to Maury Maverick, chairman and general manager of the SWPC, and directors notifying them of the dissolution of the corporation in line with the administration's reorganization plans. He recalled he had authorized Maverick to tour the Philippines, China, Australia, New Zealand, and Korea and report on the development of small business in these countries and the possibility of stimulating international trade for American small business.

Mr. Truman told Maverick he was interested "particularly in the development of American small business in the field of international trade." The President asked Patrick W. McDonough, a member of the SWPC board, to accompany Maverick.

Return Expected Soon

They left about a month ago, and were reported ready to return to the United States soon. Maverick, a former Democratic congressman from Texas, has been SWPC chairman since January, 1944. He will be out of his SWPC job when the corporation is dissolved. Associates said he did not know if he would accept another government job and was considering returning to the practice of law.

The SWPC was established in June, 1942. Its purpose was to utilize the productive capacities of small businesses in the war and essential civilian programs.

CANADA'S ROYAL BANK ASSETS AT 2 BILLION PEAK

Assets of the Royal Bank of Canada as of last Nov. 30 totaled $2,007,546,978, an increase of $217,295,176 during the fiscal year ended on that date, the bank's annual report disclosed yesterday. This is the first time the assets of any Canadian bank have reached the 2 billion mark, the report said.

Deposits increased more than 211 millions to a new record of $1,888,757,074. Public interest bearing deposits, reflecting the growth of savings, totaled $711,591,119, compared with $592,851,469 in 1944. Current loans were $383,624,056, compared with $351,652,376. Government and other public securities totaled $1,001,072,550, compared with $908,097,051.

WORLD FACTORS HELD DECISIVE IN FARM INCOME

Relationship of Wages and Prices Studied

The welfare of America's 6 million farmers is not dependent on the incomes of 60 million workers in the country because farm prices move with the world price level rather than with the wages of labor, Prof. Frank A. Pearson and Don Paarlberg of Cornell university said yesterday. Their paper was read by Paarlberg at the annual meeting of the American Farm Economic association in the La Salle hotel.

No consistent relationship between wages and prices has existed in the United States, they said. From 1840 to 1914 wages trebled, but prices were about the same at the end of the period as at the beginning.

Variations in Periods

From 1929 to 1932 pay rolls, prices, and farm income fell together, but from 1880 to 1896 wages rose 15 per cent, food prices fell about one-third, and farm income decreased about one-fifth. They said little relationship exists in foreign countries between food prices and wages.

The economists took issue with the belief that a high level of employment would cause a large demand for food and therefore high farm prices. Contrary to popular opinion, the consumption of food is remarkably stable, they said.

"It took many years and billions of dollars to teach economists that food prices were not primarily dependent upon supply," they said. "No one knows how many billions it will take to convince them that the level of wages does not determine the level of farm prices and no one knows how many years it will take to wrest from laborers this powerful and seemingly altruistic argument for political solicitude in their behalf."

Attacks Pressure Groups

Prof. O B Jesness of the University of Minnesota assailed the converging of pressure groups on Washington, each with its own program designed to help that group, but supposedly "for the general welfare."

Prof. Theodore Schultz of the University of Chicago said many of the changes in the country's economic structure, including the decreasing proportion of the population engaged in farming, were on their way before the war, but were accentuated by the war. The United States will continue to produce abundantly and must have favorable international relations to provide markets for its products, he said.

WHEAT FUTURES PRICES ADVANCE ON MILL BUYING

Mill buying advanced wheat futures prices yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, but other grains were unsettled under commission house selling. July wheat rose ½ cent a bushel early to $1.79⅝, a new seasonal high and closing trades on futures were ⅝ to ¾ higher. Oats finished ¼ to ⅝ lower and rye was ⅝ to ⅞ lower on the active futures. May wheat and all deliveries of corn were unchanged at ceiling prices. May barley moved up ⅛ and finished at $1.22½, the ceiling.

Trade in futures was light and the markets were easily influenced by small orders. Southwestern interests were fair buyers of wheat, regarded as reflecting sales of wheat or flour for export.

The board ordered that until further notice no futures contracts can be entered into for the delivery of corn in December, 1946.

DRY GOODS

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 [AP]—Trading in cotton textiles was slim today. Small lots of print cloths were sold for quick delivery. Reports in the trade were that announcement will be made shortly on the first quarter of low cost apparel program.

In wool goods mills continued to clear up old orders and withhold commitments for next year pending possible changes in the maximum average price plan for wools.

Conditions in rayon goods were tight. There was strong demand for rayon for print dresses but not much was available.

C. A. C. DECLARES BUILDING CODE INCREASES COST

Chicago's regulation of construction in respect to fire protection is condemned in the Chicago Association of Commerce report on the city's building code as being restrictive beyond common sense and a direct cause of high construction costs.

Since the report was received in the city hall, where it now awaits consideration by the subcommittee on code revision, a Superior court ruling has upheld the view that the code is unreasonable in forbidding construction of frame dwellings in outlying neighborhoods. Judge Donald S. McKinlay enjoined the city from tearing down a frame addition to a brick cottage in a truck garden area and commented that the code's fire restrictions in that instance did not seem to make sense.

Report Cited in Suit

The association's report was cited in the injunction suit. Counsel for the city asked time to study it and Judge McKinlay deferred a permanent injunction until Jan. 10.

Pointing out that fire protection requirements comprise at least 50 per cent of the building code, which in itself is half of the whole municipal code, the report asserts:

"As they [fire protection rules] are, generally speaking, the most restrictive in the manner in which they are phrased, the adoption of the principles established here [in the report] will provide the flexibility of regulations needed to permit growth in the industry and a most important potential factor for substantial reductions in building costs."

Fire Standards Assailed

When the Chicago code is compared with codes of other large cities, the report states, "the greatest lack of conformity may be said to exist in the fire standards. . . . This particular segment provides great opportunity for improvement."

The report finds fault with the code's placing fire limits on all but 15 per cent of the city's area, thus barring frame construction from virtually all desirable residential neighborhoods. The effect has been to deny Chicagoans the benefit of newly developed methods of prefabricated wood construction.

In some instances, the report asserts, the code specifies use of materials which cannot meet the requirements demanded of alternate materials.

"This obviously discriminates against new or alternate methods of wall and partition construction," the report adds.

CHICAGO'S FOOD PRICES LOWER THAN IN 6 CITIES

Chicago housewives may find some consolation in a survey by the United States labor department. It showed the cost of staple foods was less in Chicago than in six other major cities.

The survey, which covered 56 representative localities and comparative prices on 78 foods as of Oct. 16, included a random inquiry in New Orleans, La., Atlanta, Ga., Los Angeles, Cal., Washington, D. C., New York, San Francisco, Cal., and Chicago.

In New Orleans retail prices of wheat flour, bread, butter, and potatoes were higher than in any of the other six. San Francisco's hamburger, bacon, and eggs were most expensive and the city was next to highest in flour, bread, butter, and potatoes. Los Angeles ran second high on hamburger, bacon, and eggs, and third on potatoes.

Chicagoans paid the lowest average for flour, bread, hamburger, and eggs and next to lowest for butter and bacon. However, Chicago's price of delivered milk was the highest.

BEG YOUR PARDON

The 9 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold O'Lena of Momence, Kankakee county, found suffocated in her bed Wednesday, was not sleeping with her brother and two sisters. THE TRIBUNE erroneously stated the children were sleeping in one bed.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by J. E. Knowles, 244 Chicago av., Downers Grove.]

THE QUESTION

In your opinion what would do most to reduce the number of automobile accidents?

WHERE ASKED

Insurance Exchange building, 175 Jackson blvd.

THE ANSWERS

Frank E. Nikolas, salesman, 706 Ashland av., River Forest—Most accidents are caused by carelessness and lack of consideration on the part of drivers. Accidents rarely are caused by mechanical defects, so it must be mental defects. Drivers should be more alert.

Allan Dhonau, broker, 241 Keystone av., River Forest—Courtesy, which is almost unknown among American motorists, will prevent accidents. Every driver is an automaton behind the wheel imbued with great power and lack of consideration. Observe the golden rule to prevent accidents.

Zachary Goodman, investigator, 7623 Essex av.—I think the examination a person takes to obtain a driver's license should be more strict. It would be an inconvenience to all parties concerned to have a rigid driving test, but it would pay dividends in the long run in the form of fewer accidents.

Corp. Ted Symon, 168 W. Chicago av.—One thing I've noticed since I've been home and which I think should be curbed is the age of some of the school pupils who drive cars. They are virtually children—some of them 13 and 14 years old. They pile their cars full of pupils and drive like buzz bombs.

Frances Burns, typist, 2614 E 78th st.—Perhaps the failure to use an emergency brake doesn't play a large part in automobile accidents, but I think it would be a good idea to have the emergency on the right side of the driver. Then if something happens to the driver another occupant would have access to the brake.

Gladys White, secretary, 1301 S. Austin blvd.—If a reasonable amount of consideration existed between drivers and pedestrians I'm sure there would be fewer pedestrian accidents. If many persons wouldn't think of reasons to be in a hurry they would have time to watch where they're going.

FOREIGN MUSIC BAN BY PETRILLO HITS 2 AIR SHOWS

One Program Each on NBC, CBS Affected

BY LARRY WOLTERS

Network schedules indicate that only a few regular programs will be affected by the latest ban of James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, against musical programs originating abroad, except from Canada. The AFM union is active in Canada.

NBC currently is airing only one show, Atlantic Spotlight, a variety program originating partly in New York and partly in London, that seems to be involved. It is broadcast from 11:30 a. m. to noon Saturdays, with WCFL, the Chicago Federation of Labor station, as the outlet. CBS at 11:30 a. m. on Sundays presents Trans-Atlantic Call, comprised mainly of drama and interviews, although sometimes there is music coming from England. Both programs are put on in cooperation with the British Broadcasting corporation.

Representatives of both networks said the future of these programs is "under discussion," but they are to be presented as usual this weekend. The Petrillo ban does not become effective until Monday. Trans-Atlantic Call on Sunday is to come from New York—the theme to be marriage customs and traditions. CBS has a dance band pickup from Mexico City, but neither Mutual nor ABC carries foreign music regularly.

Petrillo was quoted as saying he took this action to keep foreign musicians from "getting our jobs" even "by air."
